Death of News.
 "Hain't seen you sence Sunday. How's all?"
 "Jest so-so."
 "Craps good?"
 "Jest middlin'."
 "Feelin' well yerself?"
 "Right peart."
 "Any news stirrin'?"
 "Nothin' but the measles, an' the whoopin' cough, an' the yaller jaunders, an' a sprinklin' er chills an' fever!"—Atlanta Constitution.

As to the Goffer.
 Willie—Pa, what's a caddie?
 Mr. Surly—Never mind. You'll never have any use for one.
 Willie—Well, I just wanted to know if it has anything to do with a cad.
 Mr. Surly—Yes, a caddie usually carries a bag of sticks for a cad.—Philadelphia Press.

His Personal Opinion.
 "Don't you think a man ought to be liberal in his political views?"
 "Certainly," answered Senator Sorghum. "In my opinion, a man can't hope to get very far along these days by being stingy."—Washington Star.

Reward of Perseverance.
 George—I understand the Gottits had a hard struggle to get into society.
 Jack—I should say they had! Why, old Gottit had to spend nearly four years in the Klondike!—Puck.

Early Suspicious.
 He—When did she begin to fear that he had married her for her money?
 She—Well, I believe her suspicions were first aroused when she had to see the minister.—Town and Country.

Yes or No.

If you need glasses after my critical examination of your eyes, I will say so; and I will say so just as quick if you don't. There are a good many people deciding the question for themselves, though, and that is dangerous.

The critical examination costs nothing, but it is worth a great deal to you. Any one can afford to wear our good glasses. The best lenses fitted to our frames after careful test for less money than elsewhere.

Watches, Jewelry, Etc.

Call at my room in the Gutelius Building for the best watches in the market, the most reliable jewelry and silverware at better bargains than elsewhere. This is the only jewelry store between Sunbury and Lewistown.

She Meant It.
 "I wouldn't be discouraged," said Culbertson to his friend Tillinghast, who was fretting over Miss Gaskett's refusal of his offer of marriage. "A woman's no often means yes."
 "This one didn't," replied Tillinghast, disconsolately. "She said no as though there were an exclamation point after it."—Leslie's Weekly.

Conclusive Proof.
 Waiter (mysteriously)—Send for a detective, quick!
 Head Waiter—What's up?
 "See that woman over there? She's a man in disguise."
 "Phew! How d'ye know?"
 "She ordered a reg'lar square meal 'n' gave me a tip."—N. Y. Weekly.

Making No Mistake.
 "What a beautiful gown Mrs. Spingles had on at the reception," remarked Mr. Cumrox.
 "I am glad to see you showing so much taste and discernment!" exclaimed his wife.
 "Oh, I knew I couldn't go wrong on that proposition. Her husband told me that gown cost him over $600."—Washington Star.

Broke Them All Up.
 Husband—You were not so late as usual to-day.
 Wife—No; the meeting of the Society for the Emancipation of Women from the Thralldom of Men had to be postponed.
 Husband—What was the matter?
 Wife—One of the members came in with a crinoline on, and we all rushed out to buy one.—N. Y. Weekly.

Fashionable Footwear for Autumn and Winter.

I am selling exceptionally good shoes for Men, Women and Children, well built with broad heavy soles and with stout uppers. It is wisest in the beginning and cheapest in the end to provide yourself with shoes having solid soles—cold proof and water-proof, if possible. These shoes are also fashionable as well as serviceable. The prices are lower and the assortment better than elsewhere.

W. I. Garman, Middleburg, Pa.

Try four full quarts of Hayner's Seven-Year-Old Rye, express prepaid, for $2.50. For particulars, see announcement of The Hayner Distilling Co., Dayton, Ohio, which appears elsewhere in this issue.
