Senator Mason's Thrift.

"I was standing in the lobby of the Auditorium in Chicago," remarked ex-Congressman P. J. Somers over in the Plankton lobby recently, "talking with Senator William E. Mason, of Illinois, when a trampish-looking fellow came rushing in, and, addressing him, said:

"Billy, lend me ten dollars; I have a chance to make three dollars in 15 minutes."

"Billy went down in his trousers, fished out a two-dollar bill and a one-dollar note, and passed them over to the man.

"I want ten dollars to make the deal," remarked the man as he stretched forth his hand for additional financial aid.

"You said you could make three dollars, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, you've made three dollars, and I'm seven dollars ahead. See!"

"The man saw the point and regretfully withdrew."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Squirrel Hunter's Weapon.

The cream of squirrel hunting is enjoyed by any man who uses a light rifle of small caliber and medium power. The ".22 long" as now turned out by our leading makers is an excellent weapon—in fact, the best in the world for the purpose. Though not of sufficient range to be dangerous to people or stock at a distance, it throws lead with surprising accuracy to the tops of the tallest trees. Good rifle shots always aim at the squirrel's head, both to add to the difficulty of the sport and to avoid spoiling meat. And be it known that a squirrel's head at a range of 40 or 50 yards is no easy mark. If a reader doubts this, let him go to the woods for a day, keep all empty shells, and at the end of the day let him try to make the dead squirrels and the empty shells tally.

—E. W. Sandys, in Outing.

English Royal Insignia.

The secretary for war has notified to the army that the king has selected and approved the royal cipher to be worn on badges, buttons and other devices throughout the service wherever the royal cipher is at present borne. The cipher consists of "E" and "R" impaled with "VII," inserted in the lower loop of the "E," the whole surmounted by a crown, and the design has been made plain with ut foliage, at his majesty's express wish. No deviation from it whatever will be permitted, and no device or ornament will be placed above or upon it. The crown now to be adopted and to become the sealed pattern for the army is the Tudor "Henry VII." crown, stated to have been chosen and always used by Queen Victoria personally; and all other patterns are to be abolished.—London Globe.

Murderers Escape Too Frequently.

The number of deaths from murderous violence is much smaller in proportion to population in England than in the United States. But in the older country the taking of human life without warrant of law is adequately punished in most instances. In the newer country the list of homicides every year is appalling. The legal penalty for killing is exacted in so few cases that it does not appear to have an effect sufficiently deterrent to those who are inclined to kill.—N. Y. Tribune.

Life-Saving Lessons.

The New Zealand government has decided that swimming and life-saving shall be taught in all its schools. The Life Saving society's method having been adopted, 2,000 hand books and charts have been sent by order of the government for the use of schoolmasters. The hand book, in which the course of instruction is fully set forth for the use of classes, schools, and individuals, has also been translated into Swedish and Italian.—London Mail.

Ears Mean Nothing.

A book on the ears as an index of character having been published by an English author, a learned reviewer mentions his own elaborate study of the ears of more than 40,000 people, including 800 criminals and 2,000 insane persons, besides those of 300 apes. He was forced to the conclusion that the ears gave no clew to personal traits.—N. Y. Tribune.

WHAT HOME IS.

Home has a cool hand and a soft voice—and sympathy.

Home is where you can speak your mind and criticize your employer.

Home is where you can pull off your shoes and put on your slippers.

Home has a quiet rest for the tired head, and home is where you can cry out your heartweariness.

Home is where you can shove the day's burdens into the hall closet and hold yourself straight and free once more.

A home is a responsibility, but not any more so now than in the time of our fathers. No man or woman worthy of the name will shirk a responsibility that means the welfare of our country. It is that responsibility that makes sturdy citizens and selects great men to rule us.

Home is earth's Eden to those who wish it to be so and will strive to make it so. A little more thoughtfulness, a little less selfishness; a little of self-abnegation and a good deal of sentiment; much of imagination and a great lot of loveliness; an ideal to grow to and enough practicality to keep things moving smoothly; such constitute the haven that most of us look forward to and that most of us reach.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson for the International Series for December 1, 1901—The Call of Moses.

THE LESSON TEXT.

(Exodus 3:1-12.)

1. Now Moses kept the flock of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Midian; and he led the flock to the backside of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, even to Horeb.

2. And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush; and he looked, and behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.

3. And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

4. And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I.

5. And he said, Draw not nigh hither: put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.

6. Moreover He said, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses hid his face; for he was afraid to look upon God.

7. And the Lord said, I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and do all in my power to recommend it to thy friends; for I know thy sorrows:

8. And I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land unto a good land and a large, unto a land flowing with milk and honey; unto the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites.

9. Now therefore, behold, the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me; and I have also seen the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppress them.

10. Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.

11. And Moses said unto God, Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?

12. And He said, Certainly I will be with thee; and this shall be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee: When thou shalt bring forth the people out of Egypt, ye shall serve God upon this mountain.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Certainly I will be with thee.—Ex. 3:12.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Moses' Flight.—The tendency of Moses' life would be to make him forget his race, but he remembered them and was loyal to them. Stephen suggested (Acts 7:25) that he interfered to help the oppressed Hebrew in the hope that the Hebrews would rise against the Egyptians under his leadership.

Moses' Marriage.—The Midianites wandered over the Sinai peninsula and northern Arabia. Moses' life among them gave him familiarity with the region through which Israel was to travel. Zipporah does not appear much in history, but passages like 4:24-26, 18:2-7 indicate that she was not very congenial with her husband.

The Call.—The time of Moses' call is set by 2:23 at about the date of the accession of the Pharaoh from whom Israel finally escaped. This Pharaoh is believed to have been Merneptah, who reigned about B. C. 1255. The appearance in the bush is to be thought of as supernatural, though the attempt has been made to explain it by reference to various natural appearances. The revelation of God's holiness and separateness was the starting point of Moses' work. The second point of the revelation was the historic relation of God and His people, and the recognition of the covenant with the patriarchs. Moses' sense of the greatness of the task, his long absence from the court, his ignorance of the people, all moved him to feel that the undertaking was too great. Yet he was as well fitted for the work as a man could be.

The Signs and Helper.—In 3:14, the origin of the Hebrew's special name for God is indicated. This name, known to us as Jehovah, was pronounced at first as though written Yahweh. The significance of the name is "The Living One." The common name of God in earlier times was El, or Elohim, or El, signifying "The Mighty One." Jehovah was the covenant name, and was considered unspeakably sacred by the later Jews.

Spiritual Points.

Meditation is to prayer what study is to learning.

Where God is least wanted is where He is most needed.

The heavier sin fetters the more so boast of their freedom.

If life is a day-dream death will be a terrible night of reality.

Life is to be measured by its outflow rather than by its income.

Liberty is the law of life and law the preserver of liberty.

The man of bitter thoughts will not be likely to live a sweet life.

The name of Jesus is the one lever that lifts the world.

Our faith in God's promises often depends on our faithfulness to His precepts.

The awfulness of sin is realized when we contemplate what one sin would have been in Christ.—Ram's Horn.

The Healing Stream.

The stream which is to heal and vitalize humanity must rise on a height above humanity. Moral and social reforms which rise from lower levels will be like rivers in the desert, which trickle feebly for a few miles and then are lost in the sand.—Alexander McLaren.

The Human Heart.

God stirs the human heart to its highest feelings and nerves the hand to its greatest deeds by love, love for all, which answers in the moral and social realm to gravity in the physical and binds all the world together.—Rev. Dr. Babbitt.

A Gospel Force.

Whatever makes character, whatever works brotherliness, whatever develops strength, is a gospel force, conscious or unconscious. The forces which work consciously for good are too many to name.—Rev. Dr. McAfee.

WHAT WOMEN LIKE IN MEN.

Chief Grades Are to Be Attentive and Appear Well When in Society.

The casual every-day accomplishments of a man "have much to do with women's liking; and first of all comes savoir faire, says a writer in the Cosmopolitan. He may or may not be what is rather vulgarly described as "a society man," yet he must understand and be familiar with the myriad little usages that form society's unwritten law. To be at ease in any set, to be equal to emergencies, to carry off an awkward situation with urbanity and perfect self-possession—this faculty wins unstinted admiration from a woman. And then there are the things that go with this knowledge of the proper thing to do, the little courtesies, the delicate and tactful attentions that mean anything and nothing, the ability to order a dinner properly, to make things go off smoothly, to carry out a plan without a blunder or a jar, the carriage ready at the proper moment, the flowers specially arranged, the right seats at the theater, everything foreseen, every possible occurrence provided for, every want anticipated, every contretemps avoided.

These are all unimportant in themselves, yet in the mass they never fail to create a strong impression in a woman; for a woman hates blunders and will trust a man in great things if she sees that he has a genius for making small things go off well.

LORD CHARLES BERESFORD.

British Admiral Will Resign His Post to Tuna Critic of the Salisbury Government.

Lord Charles Beresford, who, it is said, is about to resign his post as commander of the Mediterranean station of the British navy in order that he may have a free hand to criticize the government's naval and military administration, is perhaps the ablest sailor in Great Britain without any exception. His record in that line is something remarkable for a born peer. Lord Charles, although the marquis of Waterford and the fourth possessor of that high title, has been in the navy since he was 13 and has worked his way up by sheer merit. He has received the gold medal of the Royal Humane society and the Liverpool Shipwreck and Humane society for saving on three occasions jumped overboard to save lives at sea. On one of these his pockets were filled with cartridges. He distinguished himself at the bombardment of Alexandria in 1882, July 11, when he was in command of the gunboat Condor. He ran his vessel right under the guns of the fort and engaged them. He likewise assisted the ironclad Téméraire off the shore, where it had struck. Later he helped the khedive to get away and commanded the American and British marines who policed the town after the bombardment. In 1898 and 1899 Lord Charles Beresford made a tour of the world-trade in China, and on his return passed through the United States, where he was given many flattering receptions in the principal cities en route. He belongs to the oldest and best Norman nobility of England.

MAYDOLE'S HAMMER.

(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

When Maydole was told that he made "a pretty good hammer," he said, "No, I don't make a 'pretty good hammer.' I make the best hammer that ever was made."

Every carpenter who saw a Maydole hammer wanted one. It was of the best material, perfectly balanced, and the head never flew off. Hammers were divided into two classes—1st, Maydole's; 2d, all the rest.

Plasters are separated by the same line of cleavage; 1st, Benson's Porous Plaster; 2d, all the rest. When, for rheumatic pain, a cold, a cough, kidney trouble or any other disease or ailment that may be treated externally, you suggest will give you a Benson's. He knows it is incomparably the best, and he assumes that you know it too. As the name of Maydole stood for hammers the name of Benson stands for plasters—the "real thing." All the medicinal potencies that are valuable in a plaster are in Benson's. Capicium, Strengthening and Belladonna plasters are out of date.

An army of physicians and druggists, and millions of the people, have written of Benson's Plasters as a remedy to be trusted. Benson's Plasters have fifty-five highest awards. Accept no substitute.

For sale by all druggists, or we will pay postage on any number ordered in the United States, on receipt of 25c. each. Bosbury & Johnson, Mfg. Chemists, N. Y.

RELATING TO ANIMALS.

Bees eat 20 pounds of honey in making one pound of wax.

The common wasp will destroy 80 to 120 flies a day.

There are about 7,000,000 cats in the United Kingdom.

The founder lays 7,000,000 eggs a year, the turbot 12,000,000.

It is estimated that one crow will destroy 700,000 insects every year.

The temperature of a live oyster is 82 degrees; that of a man, 99 degrees.

A camel can carry 400 pounds weight 40 miles a day, and work from the age of five to thirty years. An ox cannot carry more than 200 pounds on his back, nor travel over 24 miles a day.

It is said that there were at least 200,000 mustangs scattered over the plains of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas ten years ago and that now nearly all of them are gone. A few were caught and kept by the Indians in their reservations, but the wild horse, in his natural state, is practically extinct.

EXPOSURE

To cold and stormy weather opens the way to an attack of bronchitis. The man on the wagon, be he farmer, milkman or truckman, needs to pay special heed to the first symptoms of weakness or disease of the organs of respiration.

The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure bronchitis, deep-seated coughs, bleeding of the lungs, and other conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate fatally in consumption.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"For seven years I had been troubled with what the doctors called bronchitis," writes Mr. Arthur Maul (general merchant, of Niles-town, Middlesex Co., Ontario. "A year ago, after I had been taken sick with a severe attack, I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I rapidly recovered from the attack and felt no more of it that fall. This season I began taking the 'Discovery' in August, and have so far been perfectly well. I can go out in all kinds of weather and not feel the bronchial trouble at all. Let me say to all who are suffering from such complaints to give Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a fair trial, and I am convinced that good results will be obtained."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper-bound, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of mailing only; or 31 stamps for the book in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
