CURE FOR SMALL-POX.

An Old Recipe that is Said to be An Infallible Cure.

The following remedy for small-pox and scarlet fever is copied from an old scrap book and may prove valuable for both those dreadful diseases: "The fol-Isaac Sprenkle of Kantz paid his lowing recipe for the cure of small-pox respects to this office Thursday of last was published in a Kansas paper. The gentleman who handed it in for pub-J. P. We do not ordinarily put much faith in fufallible recipes, that at intervals have extensive newspaper currency, but the evidence as to the efficiency of this remedy is so direct that it is deserving consideration. There are terviewed the merchants at this place opportunities now for testing it. Will not some physician experiment with Ex-Senator Hummel was at the the recipe and give the result of the experience? I herewith append the recipe, which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered the cow-pox in England the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head, but when the most scientific school in the world, that of Paris, published the recipe as a panacea for small-pox, it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate, and conquers in ever; mstance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it to cure my children of the scarlet fever. Here it is as I used days. Deceased was born in Perry physicians said the patient must die, I tized by the Rev. It was not added until the small-poxe pidemic began and it was then added only to fortify the weak human system by the generous juice of the apple, more potent than that of grape in this case, against the small-pox germ.

Columbia Desk Calendar for 1902. This calendar has been a fixture in many business offices and homes for many years, its great popularity being in the Zion U. B. church Saturday largely due to the thoroughness with evening; Sunday morning, New Berlin; which it serves its purpose at a memorandum device. It is a most convenient repository of things to be remembered and at the same time possesses all the requisite features of an almanac for every-day use. The printed part, as in former years, largely consists of voluntary contributions from bicycle ness since 1857, including twelve years riders of nearly every country in the world. The new edition is very handsomely printed and mounted on a steel holder, whereby the calendar can be hung in any convenient location or at any desired angle on the desk.
