

PLE AND COURTLY

ive Applied to the New Amer... of Afghanistan.

Native Flatterers, But by an... of Afghanistan.

cession of Habibullah to the... of Afghanistan.

acts from a recently published... of Afghanistan.

ritten by Dr. Lillian Hamil... of Afghanistan.

for several years was the... of Afghanistan.

of the late ameer's house... of Afghanistan.

herewith reproduced: ... of Afghanistan.

ss, when the father set out... of Afghanistan.

for an Turkistan to punish... of Afghanistan.

the rem of his cousin Ishak... of Afghanistan.

Prince... of Afghanistan.

ullah Khan, his eldest son... of Afghanistan.

a boy of only 16, was left... of Afghanistan.

te during his absence, and... of Afghanistan.

of his rule in Cabul was... of Afghanistan.

ed as one of special prosper... of Afghanistan.

ty. Many causes may have... of Afghanistan.

tributed to this happy result... of Afghanistan.

of the chief undoubtedly is... of Afghanistan.

the's own disposition. He has... of Afghanistan.

l, so far seemed to combine... of Afghanistan.

erson most of the best qual... of Afghanistan.

s immediate ancestors with... of Afghanistan.

faults—the shrewd common... of Afghanistan.

simplicity and courtly man... of Afghanistan.

of Dost Mohamed without... of Afghanistan.

the chivalry, the piety and... of Afghanistan.

aspirations of Mohamed Afz... of Afghanistan.

his weakness, and the ready... of Afghanistan.

fact and keen perception of... of Afghanistan.

1847 Rogers Bros. Silver Plate that Wears. The trade mark. Pennsylvanian Railroad Lewistown Division.

Pennsylvanian Railroad Lewistown Division. In effect Nov. 24, 1901. Table with columns for stations and times.

Train leaves Sunbury 5:30 p.m., arrives at Selingsgrove 5:45 p.m. Leaves Selingsgrove 6:00 p.m., arrives at Sunbury 6:15 p.m.

Philadelphia & Erie R.R. Division. Northern Central Railway Westward. Train leaves Selingsgrove Junction daily for Sunbury and West.

Trains leave Sunbury daily except Sunday. 12:25 a.m. for Buffalo, 1:21 a.m. for Erie and Canandaigua.

Trains also leave Sunbury: 2:52 a.m. daily arriving at Philadelphia 6:52 a.m. Baltimore 7:30 a.m. Washington 8:30 a.m.

Revivo Restores Vitality. Made a Well Man of Me. The Great French Remedy.

Revivo Restores Vitality. Made a Well Man of Me. The Great French Remedy. Royal Medicine Co., Chicago, Ill.

W. H. Brown. Signature is on every box of the genuine laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets.

CONDENSED MILK. People of Japan Have Developed a Great Fondness for This Product of Our Dairies. A curious coincidence learned by the experts of the department of agriculture in a tour of the orient is the fact that while the natives of China, Japan, the Philippines and the coast region never have cultivated a taste for butter and cheese, yet they have made up this discrepancy by their fondness for condensed milk.

ADDED STABLE ROOM. How Farmers Who Need More Extensive Stock Quarters Can Do Much with Little. The illustrations show the elevation of the ordinary farm barn, and also the floor plan, as it appears when the addition that is shown has been built to give increased room for the accommodation of cow, or other stalls. The addition is across one end of the barn, each end projecting to form an open manure shed. The shed on the left hand can be boarded in and used for calves or other young stock, or for a place to store tools and farm machines, if desired.

TIMELY DAIRY NOTES. Don't leave the herd out in a cold wind. Make use of all the pumpkins. They are one of the most valuable of the fall feeds for the cows.

First Spinster—And who gave the bride away? Second Spinster—Her youngest brother; just after the ceremony he was heard to say: "Wait till he finds her hair is false, her teeth are false, and she suffers from chronic indigestion."—Ally Sloper.

Of the Earth Earthy. Impecunious Lover—Be mine, dear Amanda, and you will be treated like an angel. Wealthy Maiden—Yes, I suppose so. Nothing to eat and less to wear. No, thank you.—Tit-Bits.

Saved His Life. Miss Hatty—And when he proposed did you refuse him? Miss Antiqua—No, I just didn't have the heart to, because I knew he could not live without me.—Ohio State Journal.

LEGAL ADVERTISING. ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of John Meagle, late of Perry Township, Snyder County, Pa., deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, all persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment, while those having claims against the said estate will present them duly authenticated to the undersigned.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of Samuel Bickhart, late of Washington township, Snyder County, Pa., dec'd, have been issued in due form of law to the undersigned, to whom all indebted to said estate should make immediate payment and those having claims against it should present them duly authenticated for settlement.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of Samuel Bickhart, late of Washington township, Snyder County, Pa., dec'd, have been issued in due form of law to the undersigned, to whom all indebted to said estate should make immediate payment and those having claims against it should present them duly authenticated for settlement.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of William Weirick late of Centre township, Snyder county, Pa., dec'd, having been granted to the undersigned, all persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment, while those having claims will present them duly authenticated to the undersigned.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE. The undersigned executors of the last will and testament of Michael J. Weiland, late of Erie, Beaver township, Snyder county, Pa., deceased, by virtue of the power and authority contained in said last will and testament, will on Friday, February 7th, 1902, expose to public sale, on the premises, the following described real estate, to wit:

Left Halfback—That man Hunter, the fullback, never lost his head in a game of football yet, did he? Right Halfback (a joker)—No, I think not. He's lost an ear, part of his nose, five teeth, but I don't remember ever hearing of him losing his head.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Another Way of Putting It. "He is a man of marked individuality." "Yes; he is one of the worst traits I know."—Puck.

A QUEER LANDLORD. Wife—Just think of it, George—the landlord told me we'd have to move if we did not pay our rent. George—Well, does he think if we could pay our rent we'd have stayed here as long as we have?—Chicago American.

Roll Call. A pugilist who makes his pile And then to congress goes Would be right in his glory when He strikes the eyes and nose.—Philadelphia Press.

A GOOD START. First Spinster—And who gave the bride away? Second Spinster—Her youngest brother; just after the ceremony he was heard to say: "Wait till he finds her hair is false, her teeth are false, and she suffers from chronic indigestion."—Ally Sloper.

Of the Earth Earthy. Impecunious Lover—Be mine, dear Amanda, and you will be treated like an angel. Wealthy Maiden—Yes, I suppose so. Nothing to eat and less to wear. No, thank you.—Tit-Bits.

Saved His Life. Miss Hatty—And when he proposed did you refuse him? Miss Antiqua—No, I just didn't have the heart to, because I knew he could not live without me.—Ohio State Journal.

He Lost His Case. "Gentlemen of the jury," said a lawyer the other day, "there are just 36 hogs. Please remember the fact—just three times as many as in the jury box, gentlemen."—Tit-Bits.

Tastes Differ. Dealer—Here, madam, is a horse I can recommend—sound, kind—Old Lady—Oh, I don't want that sort of a horse. He holds his head high. Dealer—Eh? Old Lady—I like a horse that holds his nose close to the ground, so he can see where he's going.—N.Y. Weekly.

Soft Harness. You can make your harness as soft as a glove and as tough as wire by using EUREKA Harness Oil. EUREKA Harness Oil. Makes a poor looking harness like new. Made of pure, heavy bodied oil, especially prepared to withstand the weather. Sold everywhere in cans—all sizes. Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

VERY COOL-HEADED. Left Halfback—That man Hunter, the fullback, never lost his head in a game of football yet, did he? Right Halfback (a joker)—No, I think not. He's lost an ear, part of his nose, five teeth, but I don't remember ever hearing of him losing his head.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Another Way of Putting It. "He is a man of marked individuality." "Yes; he is one of the worst traits I know."—Puck.

A QUEER LANDLORD. Wife—Just think of it, George—the landlord told me we'd have to move if we did not pay our rent. George—Well, does he think if we could pay our rent we'd have stayed here as long as we have?—Chicago American.

Roll Call. A pugilist who makes his pile And then to congress goes Would be right in his glory when He strikes the eyes and nose.—Philadelphia Press.

A GOOD START. First Spinster—And who gave the bride away? Second Spinster—Her youngest brother; just after the ceremony he was heard to say: "Wait till he finds her hair is false, her teeth are false, and she suffers from chronic indigestion."—Ally Sloper.

Of the Earth Earthy. Impecunious Lover—Be mine, dear Amanda, and you will be treated like an angel. Wealthy Maiden—Yes, I suppose so. Nothing to eat and less to wear. No, thank you.—Tit-Bits.

Saved His Life. Miss Hatty—And when he proposed did you refuse him? Miss Antiqua—No, I just didn't have the heart to, because I knew he could not live without me.—Ohio State Journal.

He Lost His Case. "Gentlemen of the jury," said a lawyer the other day, "there are just 36 hogs. Please remember the fact—just three times as many as in the jury box, gentlemen."—Tit-Bits.

Tastes Differ. Dealer—Here, madam, is a horse I can recommend—sound, kind—Old Lady—Oh, I don't want that sort of a horse. He holds his head high. Dealer—Eh? Old Lady—I like a horse that holds his nose close to the ground, so he can see where he's going.—N.Y. Weekly.

YERKES ON SUCCESS. Former Chicago Capitalist Interviewed in London.

Says Man is Ripe at Fifty and Before That is an Apprentice—Not an Age for the Young and Inexperienced.

Charles T. Yerkes was interviewed in London by a reporter for the Morning Leader, to whom he talked entertainingly about young men in business.

"From the age of 21 I succeeded fairly well in my schemes," he said to the reporter. "By the time I was 35 I had accumulated a fortune of some $1,000,000, which in those days was looked upon as a large fortune.

Then, by a stroke of ill-luck, I lost it all, and had to start the world over again. This, of course, is nothing extraordinary for Americans, who frequently make and lose half a dozen large fortunes before they finally consolidate their position."

It also as frequently happens that adverse strokes of fortune prove a man's best friend, inasmuch as he comes out of each failure all the stronger for the lessons he has learned. Hardship, in my view, after proves a part of a young man's good luck."

It was to gather his views as to how the young business idea should be taught to shoot rather than to glean personal details that the Morning Leader reporter availed himself of the American's offer to be of service.

"It is the fashion to talk of the age as being an age of young men," said Mr. Yerkes. "Personally, however, I cannot take the view that there is ever an age of youth which is really and overwhelmingly successful. The few exceptions simply attest the general rule that young men in their careers are in their apprenticeship till the age of 40. At that age they begin to see the mistakes they have made, and the new ten years form the crucial period of a man's career, no matter what his line of life may be. Success that comes when a young man is still in his twenties or thirties is due more to good luck than good management. The fact that I lost $1,000,000 myself entitles me to speak with some authority."

"At what age do you consider a man ripe as a business man?" "At 50—not before. I think that the man who starts in life with the necessary fundamental knowledge and who has ability, may reasonably look forward to becoming a successful man, provided, of course, he possesses those attributes of character like steadiness, temperance and perseverance, without which no man can succeed. The one thing needed for every young man is to have a clearly defined object in view, to find his metier, to centralize his efforts on it, and stick to it for better or worse. With ordinary luck he cannot fail. The greatest evil and the one most fruitful of bankruptcies is the fact that the average young man wants to do too many things at once and become rich too quickly."

Mr. Yerkes is of opinion that parents in the greatest percentage of cases do not pay sufficient attention to discovering or fostering particular talent in children.

"If a boy," he says, "is meant for the electric business the best time to enter it is between the ages of 17 and 18, when the foundation of a sound education has been laid. The brain is then plastic and easily adaptable to the peculiar kind of mental training and study required in electricity. Parents have come to me with their college-bred sons of 22 and 23, but in singularly few cases have they proved of much service."

As to electricity as a profession for young men, Mr. Yerkes has the greatest faith as to its being one of the greatest of the future. "I have had men of singular talents judged from the purely professional and intellectual point of view whom I could not trust with 12 subterranean cables, and on the same point of inferior capacity, whom I could trust without instructions with the handling of 10,000 operatives."

A statement which was made by Napoleon about Agueran, Neg and Murat. Founder of the Carthusians. Cologne has just celebrated the eight hundredth anniversary of the death of St. Bruno, the founder of the Carthusian order in the forest of Chartreuse near Grenoble. The celebration was held in the Church of St. Cunibert, where Bruno was a monk. It came just at a time when the monks of the Grande Chartreuse had made up their minds to seek authorization from the French government and to remain in France.