CRIDLER'S NEW JOB.

Will Represent the St. Louis Expesition in Zurope.

Resigns His Post as Third Assistant Secretary of State-Peculiarly Fitted for Any Position of Trust.

Thomas W. Cridler, third assistant secretary of state, has resigned. The announcement was made at the state department by Mr. Hay, secretary of state. At the same time Mr. Hay a place with the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company as European representative for the exposition. It is believed the vacancy created will be filled by the appointment of Mr. Herbert H. D. Pierce, now secretary of the United States embassy at St. Petersburg, Russia.

Mr. Cridler has been connected with the state department for 27 years past. ile has served as assistant secretary since April, 1897. During his long term of service he has filled many different positions in the state department, and has met and known intimately some of the most famous of American diplomats. He has traveled on special missions for the department, and has met the leading diplomats and public men of Europe. His acquaintance with methods in the state department is probably not exceeded by that of any other man.

Mr. Cridler was born at Harper's Ferry, Jefferson county, Va., now West Virginia, and entered the department of state at Washington, D. C., July 1, 1875, in the twenty-third year of his age, receiving an annual official life. The new lord mayor salary of $900. July 1, 1880, he was will probably have to stand a heavier promoted to class 1; November 1, 1881. to class 3; February 1, 1884, to class 4, and was appointed chief of the dip- will be in office at the time of the lomatic bureau July 15, 1889. diplomatic bureau. During that period many important international questions have been discussed and reached a satisfactory conclusion. In many of these, naturally, he has borne a conspicuous part. As assistant secretary of state he has immediate charge of the consular service, directing the more important part of its correspondence and signing all the official mail addressed to the consuls. The volume of labor required to perform this service intelligently and satisfactorily is great.

Mr. Cridler unites executive and literary ability in an unusual degree. He is not only personally able to perform an immense amount of work, but has the facility of keeping others steadily occupied. Mr. Cridley is a positive character, direct in his methods, quick in his judgment of men and measures, and has the reputation of being true to his friends. His friends are all firmly attached to him.

His designation by the president as special commissioner to the international exposition at Paris, of 1999 was made thereby after the death of Maj. Moses P. Handy, and Mr. Crid ler's visit to Paris was for the purpose of completing Maj. Handy's unfin shee work in connection with the participation of the government of the U-States in the approaching exposition This was Mr. Cridler's fourth trip to Europe on official duty, his last being with the monetary conference as Brussels in 1882.

Mr. Cridler, unlike most diplomats is frank, blunt and plain-spoken. He seldom conceals his thoughts, and usually says exactly what he means, His brusque ways are those of the average American, and have made him feared as well as respected by the foreign representatives. Although there is more red tape in the state depart ment than in any other bureau, M. Cridler detests frippery and delay. and would rather cut the red tape than untie it.

THE NEW LORD MAYOR.

London City's Chief Executive for the Next Year Will Be Sir Joseph Dimadale.

Sir Joseph Dimsdale, the new lord mayor of London, is a rich man; otherwise he couldn't have afforded the luxury of accepting the $50,000 a year that the lord mayor gets for laying corner stones, unveiling monuments, opening hospitals, eating state dinners and wearing garments whose gergeousness would have made the queen of Shebn's raiment look by comparison as if it had come from a bargain sale. The lord mayor stated that Mr. Cridler had accepted is expected to spend all of his salary, and, in addition, something like an qualification for a lord mayor is a sound digestion, because the official breakfasts and dinners he is required to give and receive follow traditions that had their beginning in the days before dyspepsia had been invented, and when three bottles of port were considered a modest and seemly allowance for one gentleman's dinner. Besides this, there is a special qualification required of the incoming lord mayor, and, fortunately, he has it. This is that he should be able to ride a horse well enough to make a good showing at the coronation. The lord mayor at the time of the queen's jubilee had never appeared in publie on horseback in his life, and when he discovered that tradition would require him to ride on that occasion the poor man hurried off and took some lessons. He was badly frightened when the great day came, but managed to stick on his steed, although with considerable loss of dignity. Sir Joseph, however, makes a fine figure of a man on horseback, and will be an honor to the city. whose five hundred and nineteenth lord mayor he will be.

Sir Joseph gives a hint he is going to be on the alert to protect th city's rights at the time of the coronation. The city, of course, isn' the metropolis of London at all, but merely the haughty little square mile in the middle of London, which has a separate government, separate police and a lot of ancient dignities; which have precious little to do with the liberty of its citizens, but a great deal to do with the importance and pomp of its officials.

The abderman next in line for the position of lord mayor a year from new, is named Marcus Samuel,

A WOMAN'S CRUSADE.

Princess Hairie Ben Ayad Reveals Some Harem Secrets.

Turkish Marriage Laws Are Not St Very Bad, But Are Never Euforced-First Turkish Woman with a Mission.

"The secrets of the harem" are to remain secrets no longer. A Turkish lady of high degree has just come to London to make a further expose She proposes to bring a crusade against the degradation of her countrywomen, and after she has created a movement of reform to emanate from England she will go to the United States.

This female knight errant of mod ern days is Princess Hairje Ben Ayad, the wife of a former Turkish consulat Rotterdam, who has espoused the cause of the "legitimist" party in Turkey, and has in consequence beer condemned to prison for ten years He escaped to England, and his wife has just joined him, after numerous exciting experiences. The party of the "legitimists" is in favor of the deposed Sultan Murad, the elder brother of the reigning monarch. Abdul Hamid. Murad has been in prison at Constantinople for over 25 years, and his party claims that all evils in Turkey would be righted if he were restored to power.

Princess Hairie bids fair to become the latest London fad, and her movements are chronicled as if she were a personage of extraordinary importance. She possesses great beauty having a face of unusual refinement for the somewhat heavy brunette type of the east, and she carries herself in a regal way. She drives out with her husband frequently, but always veiled, wearing a long black satin cloak and hood, from which the veil hangs to the throat. In the house she loves to wear the close-fitting garments of the European.

She is, according to the Washing ton Star, a daughter of the late Mahomond Pasha Ben Ayad of Tunis who represented his country at the court of France during the time of Napoleon III., and received several marks of honor from the emperor He kept a magnificent harem of over 500, including his wives and female slaves, so that his daughter knows of the things whereof she speaks, al dulged in the luxury of so many 1 wives. She is the first Turkish lady who has ever set foot in Europe with the mission of making known the social condition of her native land, but she says that there are many other women in Turkey who would come forth in like manner if + they dared, and that they are keenly 1. conscious of their miseries.

The sultan seldom condescends to marry legally any of his wives, according to the princess, unless he takes a fancy to the wife of one of his subjects who is powerful enough! T to refuse to give her up. The sultan then decrees her divorced and goe through the form of marrying her If he becomes tired of a wife, one of his royal ministers receives her as resent, whether the mirister wan her or not. Another way of disponot refine them, and who thus this emi-tant communication with the throne. A law exists which demand a girl's consent to her marriage, but thousands of them annually age forced into marriages by their reents. A woman can take local to for a divorce if her bushand a haves with another man's wife, o if he does not maintain her accoring to his rank and wealth, or if his pare uts mistrent her. But the womth are very few who dare to take disantage of this law.

The women of Tarkey could be well educated if the sultan and the religious teachers -who are his toolswould permit. But they have recently banished the English governesses from Turkish homes, and they oppose the foreign schools. Catholic and Protestant, which have been established among them. The princespeaks very highly of the American school for girls at Constantinople which, she says, is liberally patronized by the daughters of advanced Mussulmans, notwithstanding the opposition of the sultan. The only thing in which the women score in Turkey is in the "dot." The husband must give a dowry to his wife-if he marries her by lawbut what the wife brings remains still her own. Her husband has no legal right to appropriate it. It is probable, however, that the poor Turkish woman, as a general thing, the author, with Senator Cullom, of fails to enjoy this right, as well as so ber. 1630. but not in reality.

Isn't it Worth 25c. To Be Cured of Constipation

People who suffer from habitual constipation with all its attendant ills, elogged stomach and bowels, sluggish liver, heartburn, indigestion, and thin and impure blood, are too apt to believe that the only remedy is violent purgatives. The contrary is the case. Such catharties, even if they do move the bowels, are irritating and griping, leave the stomach inflamed and enfeebled and the constipated condition recurs with greater difficulty of cure and the sufferer constantly growing worse. There is a laxative that moves the bowels without pain or griping, cleanses the stomach, sharpens the appetite, stimulates the liver, strengthens the nerves, and purifies the blood, while its marvellous tonic properties tone up the entire system and keep it healthy.

Laxakola Does It

Its remarkable tonic properties reach every organ—the liver, kidneys and stomach, nerve, heart and brain-and removes the cause of your debilitated condition. This is the only way to secure an absolute and permanent Laxakola is the only medicine for babies, is purely vegetable and its action is gentle, speedy and effective. For coated tongue, simple fevery colds, chills and languid feeling it is the ideal medicine.

It tastes good. IP Children like it and ask for it.

Laxakola, the great tonic fasative, is not only the most efficient of family remedies, but the most smical, because it combines two medicines, viz: laxative and tone, and at one price remedy gives so much for the money.
