High Grade Cattle.

The Post desires to call the attention of farmers and stock raisers generally to the public sale of full-blooded cattle to be held west of Middleburg, Feb. 28, 1902. The idea of bringing this full-blooded stock here is to give Snyder county farmers a chance to get high grade full blooded stock. Strange to say, at the other sale, a large portion of this high grade stock was allowed to be bought by Union county farmers and Snyder county farmers got very little of this stock. There is not a farmer in Snyder county who does not like to have good stock and the Post would like to impress upon our farmers the fact that in order to improve their stock they should invest in full blooded cattle. Why did a few outsiders gobble up this stock as quickly as possible? They paid what you may have thought was a high price, but they thought it was cheap. The only interest the Post has in this sale is to aid our farmers in getting for themselves full blooded cattle. It will pay to invest more money in high grade cattle, because you can make more profit on high grade stock than you can on a low grade. The feed and attention is the same. We trust our farmers will invest in this stock for their own good. The men who are interested in the sale are reliable and responsible gentlemen and any representations made by these men will be rigidly and sternly regarded. Invest in high grade cattle. You will make no mistake.

Ladies' Home Journal.

There is a pretty story in connection with the series of articles which Helen Keller, the wonderful blind girl, has written for THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, telling about her own life from infancy to the present day. She always has shrank from the publicity which follows successful literary work, and she was with great difficulty that she was in positive winter at the e and anop file glorious feature. However, in owning an island in Halifax harbor for a summer home, and in a spirit of fun the editor of THE JOURNAL offered to buy it for her, or to provide the means to buy it. When the work of writing appeared especially inksome Miss Keller was reminded of her desire to become a land-holder, and it spurred her on. Just before Christmas she completed the first chapter of her marvelous story; and on Christmas morning she received from her publishers a check for a good round sum. Her delight may be imagined, for this was the first money of any amount which she had ever earned. "It is a fairy tale come true," she said. Whether she will really carry out her plan to buy the island remains to be seen.

The nominations have been made. Let all be content and submit to the will of the majority.

The primary election and the spring election are over and now all good citizens can now follow their occupations without being molested.

It was reported before the primary election, that as Middleburg was the home of six or seven of Hummel's benchmen including Pilgrim Ritter, Dr. Smith would have only 12 votes for Congress in this borough. The returns say he had 54. The pilgrim is not as astute as his vanity pictures him.
