SHOTZBERGER.

Ellas Shotzberger died at his home in Freeburg on Tuesday morning, May 27, 1902, after an illness of several months, aged 75 years, 7 months and 1 day.

He was the son of Jonathan and Catherine Shotzberger, and was born in Chapman township, this county. He was of a family of eleven children, of whom but one survives—three having died during the past year.

Deceased came to Freeburg in his early youth, and learned the blacksmith trade with his brother, George, which he followed for forty-five years, when he retired from business and spent most of his time in tilling the soil, and enjoying the rest earned during a long and busy life.

December 30th, 1857, he entered the bonds of wedlock with Miss Amelia Naugle, who preceded him in death April 1, 1875. This union resulted in thirteen children of whom the following survive him: Calvin, Charles, James, Sallie, William, J. Harry and Alice, of Freeburg, and Galen, of Sunbury.

Deceased was a consistent member of the Lutheran church, and remained steadfast in that faith to the end. He was a good citizen and always ready to assist his neighbors in time of need—in this line he served as pall-bearer at one hundred and forty seven funerals.

The funeral takes place this Friday, morning, Rev. H. G. Snable will conduct the exercises. J. H. Arbogast will have charge of the obsequies. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.—Freeburg Courier.

Letter to E. C. Graybill,
 MIDDLEBURGH, PA.

Dear Sir: It takes 3000 gallons of paint for the two big hotels at Coney Island-Manhattan and Oriental. They are painted once in three years with Devos lead and zinc.

Why so often? Three reasons: (1) sea air cuts paint; (2) sand in the wind cuts paint; (3) hotels, especially pleasure hotels, want freshness and color as much as protection. Once in three years is often enough and not too often to paint a hotel on a windy sand beach.

How long do you think lead and oil would last there? One year. Is there anything for you in this?
 Yours Truly,
 F. W. DEVOS & Co.

DECORATION DAY POEM.

An Ode to Heroism.
 O, soldiers! ye who sweetly sleep
 From labor and from toil;
 The spots are sacred where you rest,
 Your blood has drenched the soil.
 You sleep, the sleep, to awake no more.
 Your souls now rest at ease;
 Could you return and see once more
 Our nation, now at peace.

You face'd the foe that we might live,
 In freedom, not in strife.
 With hearts as brave, as brave could be,
 You saved our nation's life.
 You left your homes, you left your friends,
 You heard the cannons roar,
 And now the places which you left
 You'll never see once more.

But grateful people ne'er forget
 The work which you have wrought,
 It settled fears, it settled strife.
 But blood the prize has bought.
 The fields, on which you bravely fought,
 Our country to sustain,
 Are land-marks of your noble deeds
 Your glory and your fame.

No more the cannon belches forth,
 Destruction, death and woe;
 But all is peace and quiet now,
 And tears have ceased to flow.
 We hope the day will never come
 Of misery, war and shame;
 To stun our nation of its growth,
 And rob us of our name.

And now, all you, who yet survive
 Your days are rolling past
 And ere so many, many years
 Some one will be the last;
 When all have joined that holy throng
 Where Christ the Captain leads
 Posterity will ne'er forget
 Your grand and noble deeds.

All hail to those who mustered then,
 Our nation for to save;
 With noble hearts you faced the foe,
 And now we call you brave.
 Rest then, all who sleep in peace
 Your earthly toll is o'er
 We hope the few that still remain,
 May meet you on your shore.
 —WILLIAM BOMIG.

Summer Complaint
 is not always brought about by change of air and water. The "stay-at-homes" are just as susceptible to diarrhoea; due, generally, to over-eating, as unripe fruits, etc.; and, drinking less water; all accompanied by painful bowel discharges; and, if not checked, results seriously. Perry Davis' Painkiller is the only purely reliable remedy. 25c and 50c.

A VALUABLE PUBLICATION
 THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD 1902 SUMMER EXCURSION ROUTE BOOK.
 On June 1, the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company published the 1902 edition of the Summer Excursion Route Book. This work is designed to provide the public with descriptive notes of the principal Summer resorts of Eastern America, with the best routes for reaching them, and the rates of fare. It contains all the principal seashore and mountain resorts of the East, and over seventeen hundred different routes or combinations of routes. The book has been compiled with the greatest care, and altogether is the most complete and comprehensive handbook of Summer travel ever offered to the public.
 The cover is handsome and striking, printed in colors, and the book contains several maps, presenting the exact routes over which tickets are sold. The book is profusely illustrated with fine half-tone cuts of scenery at the various resorts and along the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad.
 This very interesting book may be procured at any Pennsylvania Railroad ticket office at the nominal price of ten cents, or, upon application to Geo. W. Boyd, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Broad Street Station, by mail for twenty cents.

Another Industry for Middleburg.

The Post has been advised by reliable authority that a textile manufacturing plant can be secured for Middleburg providing a guarantee can be given to supply 40 girls to start with and later to supply any number up to 100 girls.

A representative of the firm was here last week and looked at the old school house owned by D. A. Kern. The building is satisfactory and if more room is needed, Mr. Kern is willing to enlarge it. The only consideration, beyond the guarantee of sufficient help, is that a building be furnished rent free for a period of five years.

The town itself can supply the 40 girls needed and as fast as the factory needs more, they can be imported from outlying districts and surrounding towns. The Board of Trade should take this matter up at once.

The town has another offer of an industry which will supply almost as many girls with work. We are not supplied with definite information concerning this industry, but we can handle only one of them, as the hands could not be secured to supply both of them.
