

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

... Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the news is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney or bladder trouble it will be found the remedy you need. It has been tested in many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a bottle sent free by mail, also a book giving more about Swamp-Root and how to use it if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

Write your name and address on the writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., P.O. Box 108, New York, N. Y. The price fifty cents and all good druggists.

How many people realize the harmful, often fatal, influence of unhealthy morbid thoughts? How many know that ordinary unreasoning fear of disease may be as deadly as an inoculation of poisonous germs? Yet, according to the New York World, this is an established fact. Physicians are coming more and more to recognize the power of the mind over the body, and almost every practitioner will admit that a large part of his work is the use of mental suggestion in overcoming morbid bodily conditions. Everyone has noticed the influence of a cheery personality in the sick room. One physician by his sunny confidence and cleverly turned assurances will seem actually to impart new strength and tone to the diseased body. Another physician with a solemn, gloomy countenance and demeanor suggestive of an undertaker will strangely depress and retard the patient. And the same is true of one's own thoughts. In fact, it is hardly too much to say that every thought has its effect on the condition of the body. Imagination can give one almost any disease on the calendar. It is said that there is the germ of fatal thought in 99 persons out of 100, and that the cultivation of optimism and philosophy is practically a universal necessity. There have occurred scores of dozens of cases where healthy persons have thought themselves into having tumors and cancers—cases which admit of no doubt whatever that the disease resulted from constant morbid fear. We should have far fewer cases of cancer if some great doctors could assure the world that it is not a hereditary disease; but morbid-minded persons, on hearing that there is cancer in their families, generally do the very worst thing they can do under the circumstances—they conceive an awful dread that they will be afflicted with it. They dwell upon the fear constantly, and every trifling ailment which troubles them is at first mistaken for the premonitory symptoms of cancer. The morbid condition of mind produces a morbid condition of body, and if the disease does happen to be in the system it receives every encouragement to develop. A melancholy thought that fixes itself upon one's mind needs as much "doctoring" as physical disease; it needs to be eradicated from the mind, or it will have just the same result as a neglected disease would have.

The Pie is Doomed.

Even before the events about to be recorded, it had been apparent to those who looked with seeing eyes that the American Pie was threatened. Slurring remarks had been passed upon it, practically without protest from any quarter, and it was felt that this could have but one meaning. The American Pie was doomed. Its Nemesis finally caught up with it in Indianapolis the other evening, and now it seems certain that a few more snows have come and gone Pie will be but a sweet, sad memory. At the University of Indiana they have a society called Philokurian, which decides weighty questions after debate, and the other evening the society tackled the problem involved in a resolution to the effect that "Pie is of greater service to mankind than ice cream." The historian is bound to record that the American Pie was ably defended, but to no purpose. When the judges filed in after a brief conference in an anteroom, it was seen that it was all over for the American Pie. They decided unanimously in favor of ice cream. Thus do we learn that this is a world of change, and that the favorite to-day may be forced to dine on coffee and "sunkers" to-morrow.

Of all the eccentric checks which have been drawn in the world the palm must unhesitatingly be awarded to one which was presented to the cashier of one of the Tomawanda banks recently. This check, which was for ten dollars, was made payable to "the sweetest of the sweet," and was presented to the cashier in the ordinary way. The cashier, naturally startled by the unusual expression in the body of the check, asked in innocence: "Who is the sweetest of the sweet?" "I am," replied the lady. "Kindly endorse it that way," said the cashier. She did. And as her husband's account warranted it, for, like a prudent man, he had not overdrawn, "the sweetest of the sweet" received her money.

It has come at last—the hitching-post for the automobile. If the machine is guaranteed to stand without hitching, it may be only another way of saying, that—like the horse David Harum sold to the deacon—it balks. Ordinary iron hitching-posts are used, or rings in the sidewalk; and the hitching-rope, which no automobile should be without, is a wire cable with a padlock. So many persons have learned to operate these machines, especially in the larger cities, that it is now considered unsafe to leave them free and unwatched in the streets.

TROUBLE IN HAWAII.

President Determined to Restore Peace and Unity.

George R. Carter, a Prominent Politician of Honolulu, Summoned to Explain the Situation in the Islands.

Senator George R. Carter, of the legislature of the territory of Hawaii, is now in Washington, as a sort of commissioner to President Roosevelt, to inform him as to the political situation in Hawaii. Carter is a well-known young business man of Hawaii who was elected to the last senatorial senate on the republican ticket. A few days ago, when Hawaii was agog with reports that Gov. Dole was about to be removed and Samuel Parker was to be put in his place, Carter received a personal letter from the president, inviting him to make a statement of the situation in the territory. The letter was a complete surprise to the recipient, who has never met Roosevelt and did not know that the chief executive was aware of his existence.

Carter's task is compared in Hawaii to that which President Cleveland imposed upon the late J. H. Blount, of Georgia, when the latter was sent to Hawaii, after the overthrow of the monarchy, to investigate, as a "paramount commissioner," what had taken place, and report to Washington. Since Carter received his letter, he has had much the same experience as Blount had, having been called on by party leaders of all kinds and business men generally, who were desirous of getting their views before him before he left for Washington. The president's letter indicated that he expected Carter to write a statement, but Carter preferred to see the president in person.

In Hawaii the impression prevails that, the action of the president portends a general reorganization of the territorial government. Ever since the organic act by which Hawaii was made a territory went into effect the islands have been torn by political dissensions. There has been a continuous campaign against Gov. Dole, the main movers being the royalists of the old days and their sympathizers. Visitors to Washington have followed one another, a large number of them trying to have Dole removed, though no charge has ever been brought against him such as would warrant investigation, or be a reason for removal. Just before Carter received his letter it was reported in Honolulu that the president had decided that in order to bring about a harmonious administration in the new territory it was best to ask for the resignation of Dole, and it was also reported that Samuel Parker was to succeed him.

Senator Carter, says the Washington Star, comes from one of the oldest white families in the Hawaiian islands. His grandfather arrived in the islands before 1850, reaching there on a whaler and settling in the country. His father was H. A. P. Carter, a successful man of affairs in the islands, and his mother was the daughter of the late Dr. G. P. Judd, the man who negotiated the treaties with France and England by which both countries agreed to keep their hands off the islands, and by which, it is generally thought, the independence of the islands were preserved up to the time when America took them.

Senator Carter was born in Hawaii, 1869. He entered Yale (Sheffield Scientific school) with the class of '88, after a preliminary education in Oahu college, Honolulu. He was a member of the Yale varsity football team for three years, in '86, '87 and '88. He was one of Yale's oarsmen in '87 and '88. He returned to Honolulu in 1896, and is now the treasurer of the Hawaiian Trust and Investment company, the Hawaiian Electric company and the Hawaiian Fertilizer company, all very successful corporations. He was elected to the first legislature and was one of the hardest fighters against some of the frivolities of the home rule lawmakers. During the bubonic plague epidemic in Honolulu nearly two years ago, Carter was made chairman of the citizens' financial committee which took charge of the finances of the very expensive quarantine and campaign against the disease for the board of health.

It is thought in Honolulu that if President Roosevelt decides to ask for the resignation of Gov. Dole he will at the same time call for a number of other resignations. The judiciary is involved as well as the executive department, and a cleaning out there may be made.
