Down With Typhoid Fever.

The editor and proprietor of the Post is confined to his bed. He was enjoying his vacation at Atlantic City and was compelled to shorten his pleasure by sickness, arriving home last Thursday. He immediately took his bed and medical aid summoned, who pronounced it typhoid fever in a mild form. At this writing he is doing nicely and a speedy recovery is expected.

The Ivy Club Celebrates the Fourth.

The Ivy Club, of Middleburg, gave a lawn party at the home of Miss Marcia App at Mahantango, on the eve of July 4th. Many friends responded to invitations. The members made great preparations and being aided through the hospitality of the App family, the party was indeed a grand success. Music was furnished by the McKees orchestra and the display of fireworks was magnificent. The evening was spent in the different games of interest and choice refreshments were served in liberal proportions. After lunch the guests were compelled to retreat to the roomy mansion for protection during a thunderstorm. Here they were entertained by Miss Holman, of Liverpool, who recently returned from Chicago where she had received instructions in oratory. She soon convinced the merry-makers of a wonderful talent as an elocutionist by her recital of a few choice selections of the Shakesperian order.

Many of the friends remained over night and all seemed to enjoy a few hours sleep with the exception of a few of the ladies who, with the strains and excitement of the evening on their minds, fancied they were in fairy land, masquerading in double file. Breakfast was served in due time after which the guests departed feeling very thankful that there was an Ivy club and an App family.

Those present were:—Misses Marie App, Evelyn Graybill, Bertha Crouse, Lucrecia Crouse, Catherine Holman, Jenette Beal, Grace Snyder, Edna Kline, Laura Gemberling, Jennie Sturivant, Helen App, Alice Shellenberger, Hattie App, Mable Mitterling, and Messrs. B. E. Kline, L. L. Bowersox, Albert Gelnett, H. D. Shumaker, Geo. K. Motz, T. L. Holman, J. W. S. Troutman, C. W. Winey, Theodore Troutman, D. M. Keolin, S. T. Mitterling, F. C. Roher, C. E. Herrold and W. H. Riehenbauch.

Admitted His Guilt.

A drunken man staggered into church on Sunday and sat down in the pew of one of the deacons. The preacher was discussing about prevalent popular vices. Soon he exclaimed; "where is the drunkard?" The drunken man was far enough gone to think the call personal, so rising heavily, replied, "Here I am," and remained standing while the drunkard's character and fate were eloquently portrayed. A few minutes later the preacher reached another head of discourse, and asked, "Where is the hypocrite?" Gently nudging his neighbor, the drunkard said, "Stand up deacon, he means you this time. Stand up and take it like a man, just as I stand. It will do you good."—Ex.

A Pitchfork Swindle.

A gang of swindlers are reported to be victimizing the farmers of nearby counties with a scheme that it seems no sane person would entertain for a moment. The salesmen as they claim to be, approach a man with the proposition that he shall become their agent for a patent pitchfork. He is presented with a sample for his good looks and signs an agreement to sell pitchforks to his neighbors. The agreement proves to be a judgement note and the poor man finds himself impaled on the pitchfork that the other fellow was using. The slippery gentlemen have made some good hauls, their profits ranging from $75 to $450 per fork.
