(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Philadelphia, July 29.-Pennsylvania is to witness the liveliest kind of a campaign this Fall. Indeed from indieations it will be the liveliest campaign

Judge Pennepacker has left the Bench for the express purpose of participating in the canvass. His resignation is in the hands of the Governor and he will leave the Bench on August 1st. He will take the stump about six weeks before the election in November.

There will be associated with him the greatest company of spell-binders that It has not been settled definitely as

The Democrats are going to put a band of spell-binders on the road that will represent the best speakers in their party. It naturally follows that Ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison will head the combination. Other members of the party will be Ex-Attorney

PATTISON RUNS FROM BRYAN.

As to the issues that will be discussed it can positively be asserted that the Democratic candidate for governor will not discuss National issues nor Republican prosperity. He is very much afraid of those subjects at the present time. Mr. Pattison is ashamed of Wm. Jenning Bryan whose ardent admirer he was four years ago. A very funny incident attended the appearance of Wm. J. Bryan in Philadelphia last week. Bryan was on his way to Allentown to address a Democratic meeting.

When he reached Philadelphia there was not a corporal's guard of Demo-casts to meet him. Every prominent of the Rival Candidates.

Mr. Pattison might save himself and his party great deal of worry by raising in his place and moving to make the election of Judge Pennypacker unanimous.

Senator Vest, Democrat, of Missouri, reads the sign correctly. He says it is of no importance that the Democrats should carry the next House of Representatives, as the Republicans would still have the President and Senate. In view of the utter impossibility of the Democrats carrying anything this year, the Senator is exceedingly gracious in thus early conceding victory to the Republicans.

Pattison can't lose Bryan this trip try hard as he may. He stood with the orator of the free silver propoganda in the last two campaigns for the Presidency and it is too late to shy now. When W. J. B.'s card is sent to him the Democratic standard bearer will not dare to say that he is not in. The old association may be unpleasant, but it is not always easy to shake old

There is no doubt that important legislation affecting the so-called trusts will be considered and acted upon at the next session of Congress The President has been in conference during the last few weeks with leaders of the Republican party and congress will doubtless enact some law which will control! and regulate those corporations which have been organized in restrain of trade.

The Democratic newspapers are engaged in the same old occupation of trying to make the people of the country believe that the consumers in this country are very much worse off than the consumers in foreign countries. They are already publishing comparative lists of prises, but carefully omit the important fact that the working man and working women abroad are paid beggarly wages in all lines of industry.

"I do not deem it consistent with my judiciary position to be interviewed for publication, particularly on political subjects. Of course I am a candidate for office, but I am still on the beach, and this fact precludes any discussion of politic or policies. After the first of August I will be a private citizen, in the sense that I will be no longer in office, and then I will be in a position

Insurance Commissioner Durham,

Republican leader of Philadelphia, said:

"Republican campaign speakers this fall have plenty of material ready to hand. That Democratic re-union at Nantasket Beach furnishes material, to my mind, for a dozen speeches. If the Democratic leaders can ruin our present prosperity to their political advantage they would do it in a moment.

Take Senator Camack's utterances as a sample. He openly threatened revolution against present industrial conditions. That is Democratic policy.

Mr. Pattison himself was a vigorous advocate of the ruinous policy of 16 to no such theorists to direct their affairs.

Pennsylvania Republicans are standing together this year as they have not done for years, simply because they know that any other policy would encourage the Democrats, and Democratic success means industrial revolution and a hold up on our national prosperity."

Senator Quay is determined that the Pennsylvania delegation in the next Congress shall not show any less number of Republicans than the present delegation. As a matter of fact, he is planning to carry additional districts under the new apportionment act. With the ragged Democratic organization in this State a solid Republican delegation would not be a great surprise. It is important to hold up the hands of the President on the eve of a great national campaign and Pennsylvania will be close behind him when the next Congress meets.

Six thousand employees of the Cambria Steel Company at Johnstown will get an increase of ten per cent, in their wages on August 1st. This is in harmony with the increase of wages of the United States Steel Corporation about Pittsburg. But in face of these increases in wages throughout the country and in spite of the great wave of prosperity which is rolling from ocean to ocean certain Democratic leaders of the calamity brand are insisting that the conditions are not satisfactory. Some people are not satisfied with anything but one long holiday and soup houses,

"The golden rule is the best guide in every walk and experience in life." This was the central thought of a talk on labor by Senator Hanna at Cleveland. He holds that capital is palsied without labor and labor is helpless without capital. They must unite, he adds, and it is an insult to ordinary intelligence to imagine that they will not both be brought to see it. Senator Hanna has developed during the last two years as the consistent and powerful friend of labor and his sensible, sympathetic views on the question which distract capital and labor are worthy of the serious consideration of both these great forces.

PLANTS WHICH WALK.

everal Well-Known Specimen Have Acquired the Habit of Jumping or Creeping.

Not a few plants are possessed of the actual power of migration, not merely by their seeds becoming scattered, but by an actual geographical movement from year to year. The common purple orchid, for instance, forms a new bulb each year, and each year the new shoot appears nearly an nch from the root occupied by last vear's stem. Tulips planted in the shade will often find their way to a sunny spot. There is a North American fern which sends out a long, gracefully-arching frond, which, under the burden of its weight of buds and leaves, bends to the earth and the tip takes ception of Senator Hanna's, and he is root, and a new plant soon bursts out at this spot. This peculiarity has gained for the fern the popular names of "walking leaf" and "jumping fern." Several grasses and sedges develop creeping stems of great length, which give rise to new plants at every point or at intervals. The familiar quitch, twitch, or couch, is of this character; but the most striking examples are to be found in maram grass and sea sedge that occur on sand dunes by the sea These plants of the seashore make ropes of their enormous creeping rootstocks wherewith the sands are tied together, and many banks that would otherwise wash away with its first high tide are held intact .- Philadelphia Record.
