Welsh Bros. Show.

Welsh Brother's show exhibited in this place last Friday. The audiences were not as large as last year. The entertainment provided was of a high character and is a better 25 cent show than has ever come to this place.

Some disappointment rests with the people who attended the show last year, first because they did not show all in the afternoon that was on the program. In the first place the management did not advertise a menagerie and it should be known that at the afternoon performance last year there were so many people that some of the best attractions had to be omitted.

While the attendance this year could not have been satisfactory to the management, the entertainment provided was worth more than the price charged for admission. The exhibition of the trained horses alone was worth more than the price of admission.

Welsh Bros., on account of too large a crowd last year were compelled to omit some of their best attractions and hence a great many of our people were disappointed. This year Welsh Bros. and those who remained away were disappointed. The circus people do not propose to give up coming to Middleburg as they propose coming back next year. And as they have redeemed themselves, they are entitled to full houses and we believe they will get them. All those who saw the show this year will welcome them back next year.

Mahon is Renominated.

The conference for the Seventeenth Congressional district was called to order at Lewistown Monday afternoon by District Chairman Howard E. Butz, of Huntingdon. P. M. Lytle, of Huntingdon, was unanimously elected president of the conference. H. O. Lantz, of Lewistown, and A. Nevin Pomeroy, of Franklin, secretaries. A motion was made and carried to drop the lowest man on each ballot. Johnston, of Fulton, was dropped after the first ballot, and Thornton, of Union, and Culbertson, of Millin, held on until after the eighteenth ballot.

This left three sets of conferees to vote as they desired, and Mahon was declared nominated on the twentieth ballot, he having received twenty-one conferees. The defeated candidates each addressed the conference, commending their action and lauding the platform of the party and each promised a good, old-fashioned majority for the Republican party from their respective districts.

School to School Visitation.

As was stated in last week's paper by a communication from "a member of the executive committee" that they had taken steps to have the school to school visitation in the near future. It is hoped that all officers of their respective schools will interest themselves in this matter so that we may assist one another in getting out of a rut that retards the progress of the school or be assisted by some other school to assist us. This is a stepping stone to the House to House Visitation that will be pushed later on. All Sunday school workers should prayerfully work for the betterment of their respective schools and to that extent would better the schools throughout the county. A few cannot do all the work, but by the assistance of all the officers and teachers much good can be done. Let all do their best to make our schools a success in the upbuilding of Christianity in our county.
