A WORD TO WORKERS

Beneficent Results of the Republican Policy of Protection.

VOTE FOR PATTISON DANGEROUS

It Encourages Tariff-Smashers—European Labor Is Underpaid. While American Labor Fares Well—What a Distinguished Financier Says About the Conditions in Europe and Here.

Pennsylvania voters, who contemplate giving their support to Robert E. Pattison, Democrat, should pause a moment before they decide on such a momentous step. A vote for Pattison is a vote of lack of confidence in Republicanism. It strengthens the hands of the Democrats who seek to tear down our tariff policy, and ruin our present prosperity.

Particularly should the voter who has to depend on the toll of his hands for daily bread halt before he makes this mistake.

THE WAGES OF EUROPE.

Mr. James R. Keene, the well-known financier, who has just returned from an extended visit to Europe, says the condition of the laboring classes in Hungary, Austria and part of Germany is really pitiful. The rate of wages barely admits of existence, and when he saw the workmen in those countries he wondered what we would do without a tariff. "America is the paradise of earth," declared Mr. Keene. "Here is the greatest return offered to the man who has muscle and brain to market. Here is the place for the man of ambition to discover that energy and worth find their way to the top more suddenly than anywhere else on earth."

This statement of a man of large and careful observation should command the attention of American workmen. The new legislation of Great Britain, which would reward the United States than in any other country. They know that the wage worker has greater respect here than in any other land. But do they generally appreciate what this is so? Forty-five years ago labor in this country was so poorly paid in 1857 because it was a slave of the countries of Europe.

THE CAUSE OF HARD TIMES.

It was not steady employment and it was poorly paid in 1857 because it was a slave of the countries of Europe. The cause of all this stoppage of circulation is to be found in the steady outflow of gold to pay foreign laborers for the cloth, the shoes, the food and other things that could be produced by American labor, but which cannot be produced under our present revenue system.

TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY.

Then the country had a "tariff for revenue only," which not only failed to yield sufficient revenue to meet the expenditures of the government, but kept the industries prostrated. In his message to congress in 1857 President Buchanan thus presented the situation: "With unsurpassed plenty in all the productions and all the elements of natural wealth our manufacturers have suspended, our public works are retarded, our private enterprises of different kinds are abandoned, and thousands of useful laborers are thrown out of employment and reduced to want. We have possessed all these elements of material wealth in rich abundance, and yet, notwithstanding all these advantages, our country, in its monetary interests, is in a deplorable condition." One of the severest panics the country ever experienced was in 1857 and it was particularly disastrous to labor. There were bread riots in New York and some other cities and destitution and suffering among the laboring classes was general.

A change came with the inauguration of the economic policy of the Republican party and it is needless to point out what has been accomplished under the operation of that policy for American industries and American labor. All intelligent men are familiar with it and it is this which the wage workers need to bear in mind when they are appealed to to strike down or seriously impair that policy. Labor conditions in the United States may not be in all cases what could be desired. Improvement in some respects is to be wished for. But on the whole American labor is vastly better off in every way than is labor in any other part of the world, and this is one of the beneficent results of the policy which has made the United States first among the industrial nations.

One year ago wireless telegraphy was considered almost a chimera.

Appreciation of Within the 12 Inventive Genius. tions with millions of capital have been organized to establish the system. All of the large steamers are equipped with the wireless instruments. Announcement has just been made that the navy department has ordered the equipment for all naval stations. As fast as the apparatus can be secured, the stations along the Atlantic coast will be fitted for communication with vessels out at sea. A wonderful record for one short year. Yet, says the St. Louis Republic, the wonder is not new. Within a year after the X-ray was discovered, every surgeon of eminence in the world was using the mysterious light in one way or another. It is possible that within another year wireless telephones will have been perfected, and the same is possible for the early adoption of those perfected at this day. Competition in quick communication among the different parts of the world leaves no opportunity for slowness in the growth of a worthy commercial invention. Capital is on the lookout for the products of the genius who has something to offer. The evidence is at hand in the success of recent discoveries. The man with the inventive mind never had such an incentive to labor as at the present time. A sharp young man has sold a lot of Pennsylvania farmers wooden cucumber seeds. If they can catch him they will elect him to congress, as he is too bright for ordinary work.

Modern machinery is constantly driving men out of employment, and yet labor is harder to obtain each year. This is a great country. The harvest field offers just as good opportunities as golf for acquiring tan and sunburn, to any nothing of exercise.

Some men's idea of a friend is a person they can use.

Bad habits grow with much less cultivation than good ones.

The bootblack may not be a social light but that don't prevent him from shining in society.
