GOOD ROADS.

Pennypacker's advocacy of State aid for permanent roads meets the demands of the many Road Drivers' Associations and the Grangers of the State—for both of these organizations are favoring good roads. In New York the State appropriates three millions a year and pays 50 per cent. of the cost. Pennsylvania can do as well, and when Pennypacker is Governor it will. Pennypacker's speeches are new. He has never won celebrity as a politician, but he shows a profound knowledge of government, seeks the best, and is bold to say so.

WHY HAVE A THIRD FAILURE?

"Does Mr. Pattison burn to reform things at Harrisburg?" If so, why did he fail to reform things on his first and second trials? If he failed then what can we expect from him now? If he tried twice and failed, why should the people give him a third term? If he introduced any economies he wasted ten times more than he saved by cheese paring, in calling an utterly unwarranted extra session. No man practiced in public affairs expected anything but expense from that extra session. All of Mr. Pattison's reforms are simply the result of negation.

SPEAKER HENDERSON.

Speaker Henderson deserves sympathy rather than criticism. He lost his leg in the war for the Union and his periodical attacks of pain in what is left of the limb, and as well in that which is buried, as well as similar sufferers know. These attacks of pain last many weeks, and the recent one compelled him to leave his home in Iowa and seek relief at Atlantic City. He has both moral and physical courage, but endurance of pain finds its hardest test in his lost limb. Whether a candidate or not, he is none the less a hero—an honest, outspoken able man, who refused to bow to any suggestions looking to free trade, with convictions all in favor of continued and uninterrupted protection. His publicly stated position suits the best thought and interest of Pennsylvania, whether he is a candidate or not.

"No fusion is mine; I am for the straight ticket, first, last and all the time," is the expression of nearly every Republican you meet.—Altoona Tribune.

My Lungs

"An attack of la grippe left me with a bad cough. My friends said I had consumption. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it cured me promptly."
 A. K. Randles, Natick, Mass.

You forgot to buy a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral when your cold first came on, so you let it run along. Even now, with all your hard coughing, it will not disappoint you. There's a record of sixty years to fall back on.

Three sizes: 25c, enough for an ordinary cold; 50c, just right for bronchitis, hoarseness, hard colds, etc.; $1, most economical for chronic cases and to keep on hand.
 J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

BEAVERTOWN.

Isaac Boush had been indisposed for sometime. He is out again. Mrs. Edward Freed has been confined to bed with sickness during the last two weeks. She is no better at this writing. Postmaster S. A. Wetzel attended the National encampment at Washington several days last week. Allen Bowersox of New York City is the guest of his brother, A. H. Bowersox. Robert Feese is attending the general conference of the United Evangelical church now in session at Williamsport. A. M. Bowersox was in Phila., last week to purchase his fall and winter goods. Lincoln Zeiber sold his house and lot to Wilson Aigler. The seven months' old daughter of Samuel Hummel and wife died Tuesday evening of Cholera infantum. It was taken to Globe Mills where it was interred Friday. The farmers are busy gathering fall and winter apples. The crop is an abundant one, but there is some complaint of rot after the crop is gathered. Dr. E. M. Miller has been confined to his bed the beginning of the week.

David Knepp of Bannerville is learning the blacksmithing trade with Ed. Beaver & son. Mrs. Isaac Wagner, (nee Katherine Swineford) died on the 9th inst at her home north of town, aged 73 years. Interment was made on Sabbath forenoon, when a large concourse of friends and neighbors gathered to pay their last respects to the departed. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, three sons and a number of grand children. Her pastor, Rev. D. C. Kaufman preached the funeral sermon. Isaac Winter sold his farm of 129 acres on the north side of Middlecreek to John Klingler for $3,400. Mrs. Lank Walter and Mrs. George Walter of Swineford visited friends in town over Sunday. J. A. Hanies' blacksmith shop, and perhaps his foundry buildings narrowly escaped a conflagration, Friday evening, he had a fire on the hearth, and when he started for home he supposed the fire was extinguished, but a spark somewhere underneath the fire bed kept on smouldering until Sunday morning when a small flame was discovered by some one who extinguished it in time to save the buildings.

Mrs. Philip Herbster slipped and fell Monday morning and it was at first thought she had broken a leg, but an examination by Dr. Miller proved a severe sprain of the hip. Dame Rumor says there will be two or three weddings in town ere long.
