

EXTRACTING HONEY.

It Is Some Trouble to Secure It, But Additional Profits Pay for the Extra Work.

I got my early instructions in California in 1875. My first lesson was that a lazy man would make lazy bees and know that to be so. I prefer to make extracted honey as there is more profit in it. The bees that will make 100 pounds of comb honey will make 350 to 400 pounds of extracted honey if properly attended to. The railroads charge twice as much freight on comb honey as they do for extracted and the dead weight is about double. In California I have shipped 1114 tons from 75 stands and their increase in one season, and I did not use my method of rapid increase, but could not do half that in Arizona. Everything here has small leaves and small flowers except plants whose roots can reach water, so the bees have to go to so many more flowers to get their load that a strong stand will take three weeks to fill up as much as they would do in California in one week. Last season I took out 6,960 pounds from 54 stands which is about double what my neighbors got and they thought they did very well. I use sheds and would no more think of working bees without a shed than I would think of cooking out of doors. I have tried both and I know the difference, of course it can be done so can the cooking be done. I send you a sketch of my shed and dimensions. I set them due north and south with honey house at the south end. The honey house is 12x16 with door at north end. I set my uncapping table at south end and extractor southeast corner and run the honey out through the east side of the house into a sluice running south 3 feet to a main sluice running west 9 inches wide, 21/2 deep lined with tin and covered with glass and 12 feet long, width of the house, then turn 3 feet north to house so the main sluice is not shaded by the building, just outside is a trap, an oil-can cut off to 8 inches deep with a division plate extending down to within half an inch of the bottom. The can is soldered to the sluice so the top is even with the sides In the morning I raise the glass ..... it back and take out a little cake of wax and any bees, flies ants or any

To Keep Poultry Free from Vermin Is as Essential to Success as Good Feeding.

While the food is important, it is not any more so than taking care to keep the poultry free from vermin. This is not a hard task if taken in time. Any of the lice killers used judiciously around the nests will kill the fire in the hous, but he careful not to use them too freely. Years ago I killed some very fine turkey hens by using too much. If you have neglected to treat for lice before she hatched, take the mother when she is through and thoroughly dust her with insect powder. Give her a chance to shake the powder well out of her feathers before giving her the poults, for all vermin powder infures the eyes of little ones if it gets into them. If the weather is dry and warm take each poult and rub under the throat a little thick cream, and if the wing feathers have started out well, rub them also, and put the poults linek under the hen until thoroughly dry. New, don't put much on each part. Don't grease with anything else if you have the cream, and that must be thick. If you have none, then a very little pure land will do. Don't mix with carbolic neid or anything else. A few much balls in the roosting places is as good as anything to keep vermin down after you once get rid of them. Little turkeys must be kent dry until they are well feathered After the wheat is harvested they will take care of themselves, but they should roost near the house. If they roost out one night something may eatch them .- Mrs. B. G. Mackey, in Reliable Poultry Journal.

Varied Rations for Heas,

An excellent plan to follow in feeding poeltry is to give the birds when: one day, the following day oats, the next barley, and so on. Trouble From Sprain of Back.

Dizzy, Dull, Nervous, Constipated.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Me.

A frequent complication of rheumatism and sciatica is constipation. The use of Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills in conjunction with Restorative Nervine makes an ideal treatment for such cases. The Nerve and Liver Pills, by their tonic influence upon the nerves of the stomach, liver and bowels, cause them to act naturally. Thus the system is readily cleansed of the impurities which cause the trouble and the nourishing and soothing effect of Nervine is allowed to do its wonderiul work of restoration without hindrance from the complication.

"About ten months ago I sprained my back. This ran into sciatic trouble from which I have suffered more or less ever since. This was complicated by chronic indigestion. I had sick headache every day with a dizzy, dull feeling, also quite a little confusion. Was extremely nervous and suffered much from constipation. I was influenced to try Dr. Miles' Remedies and decided to give them a trial. I procured a bottle of the Restorative Nervine and a box of the Nerve and Liver Pills. I used them as per directions and received much relief. I continued the Nervine until I had used several bottles of the same and I am glad to state that it has cured me completely and permanently. I now enjoy good health, relish my meals and can eat any kind of food without fear. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Miles' Remedies to the public."—REV. A. B. Mow-RES, Taneytown, Md.
