SENATOR QUAY'S GREAT SPEECH

He Challenges Proof of the Charges Made By Democrats.

DEFENDS PARTY'S POLICIES

And Points to Its Achievements in the State For Forty Years.

NATIONAL ISSUES IN CAMPAIGN

There Will Be No Tariff Changes, He Declares, As Long As Pennsylvania Holds Her Position In the Republican Ranks—A Great Pittsburg Meeting.

The Carnegie Music Hall, Pittsburg, was packed to its capacity last Friday night to hear United States Senator Quay, chairman of the Republican State Committee, discuss the issues of the campaign.

Senator Quay's speech was one of the most striking ever delivered by a political leader. He unreservedly defied the Democratic assailants of the Republican party to prove their assertions, and declared that the policy of protection was safe as long as Pennsylvania stood firmly in line.

Attempts have been made by Democratic newspapers to distort the speech and for that reason it is here given in full. Senator Quay said:

The conditions in the Republican stronghold in Allegheny county are not happy. I remember the fable of the man who interfered in the battle between husband and wife, and if I were to pronounce upon the merit of your present controversy I would not be here. Always I have stood for party regularity. Always since the Republican party was organized I have voted a straight Republican ticket.

Many of my best friends at times have disagreed with this policy, but generally I have found them dissatisfied in the end with the result of their experiment. In alliances with the Democratic party the Democrats always get the oyster, the Republicans get the shell. Some gentlemen in Allegheny county in 1899 assisted to place Mr. Pattison in the gubernatorial chair and will remember the bitter repulses and disappointments they experienced at his hands.

Within more recent years some of your people in the legislature became involved with the Democracy in a lock-up of the United States senatorship at Harrisburg. Since then they have endured much buffeting whilst the Democracy thrived and laughed. I hope my friends in what is known as the Citizens' party may do better than this, but I fear they will do worse.

STRIFE MUST CEASE.

This is certain: The time has come when the Republicans in Pennsylvania for their own sakes must cease intestine strife and form line of battle for resistance to the common enemy. We have recently seen the sheet lightning and heard the voice of a coming storm in the northwestern states.

We have listened to the utterances of our brethren in Iowa, Wisconsin and elsewhere, and have witnessed the dramatic and pathetic exit from public life of the distinguished speaker of the national house of representatives. The tariff is the life of Pennsylvania. This great city is its creature of which it is the vital and sustaining force. It is making this region near the forks of the Ohio a metropolis of industry, commerce and wealth which will shortly house a population of millions.

The present tariff fulfills all national requirements and oppresses no person or interest. It needs no revision. Revision of the tariff means reduction of the tariff. Reduction of the tariff means reduction of the profits of the manufacturer. Reduction of the profits of the manufacturer means reduction of the wages of the laborer. Reduction of the wages of the laborer means loss of business to those who supply the laborer with the necessities and comforts of life.

NO TARIFF REVISION.

We in Pennsylvania are satisfied with existing conditions, and as to revision, will have none. Agitators may cry "Revision!" "Revision!" but there will be no revision while Pennsylvania maintains her commanding position in the Republican party and nation—a position she can only maintain by absolute harmony in council and unity in action among her Republican voters.

The present campaign of the Democracy in Pennsylvania presents a spectacle unique in its effort to obliterate the evidence of the existence of that party and the memory of its misdeeds.

They merely scold and defame public officials, befool the reputation of the state which shelters them, bark at Quay and yowl for their own integrity. You have all heard their cries of agony evoked by the consciousness that their fellow men were so much worse than they. I need not recapitulate and I reply. It is false that any member of the last legislature was paid to vote for Mr. Marshall for the speakership of the house. If it is true, who was the member who paid him and what was the amount paid?

It is false that any member of the senate or house of representatives was paid to vote for me for United States senator. If it is true, who was the person purchased, who paid the money and what was the amount paid?

HENSEL MUST GIVE NAMES.

I see that my friend Hensel has experienced a sudden attack of Quayphobia and that he is in travail because of corruption which will only be brought to light upon the challenge of Senator Penrose or Senator Quay. Whatever the case and whoever the criminal, I challenge Mr. Hensel to produce his charge, his specifications and his proof. If he does not, he falls in his duty to the public.

The peripatetics of the opposition produce but three cases of alleged corruption at Harrisburg which they claim were fully established. First, there was the scandal on the Clarion Normal School. It was asserted that $2,500 had been paid to the legislature for an appropriation to that institution.

I have seen no statement anywhere to establish that it had been actually paid, nor by whom, nor to whom it was paid. The only member of the legislature named in its connection were two Democrats, one of whom has been renominated.

It was alleged also by the same coteries of scandal mongers that a hideous case was made out against Mr. Harris, the present state treasurer. Investigation disclosed that Mr. Harris when a member of the legislature went to Harrisburg after the legislature had adjourned at the request of the officers of a Clearfield county institution to represent them before the governor, and had rendered a bill for $100 or $200 for that service and other extra legislative services in their behalf which the institution had refused to pay. That was the extent of the horrible case of corruption in Clearfield county.

Again it is said that my friend, David B. Oliver, is cognizant of a case in point—indeed, I have read his speech, which was direct and pertinent, but Mr. Oliver does not disclose the identity of the heavy villain in the case nor the attendant circumstances. Mr. Oliver should give them to the public. He should hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may.

These are the only instances, so far as I have found, produced by the scandal mongers to sustain their charges that the state which gives them shelter and has given them prominence and wealth is debauched, robbed and misgoverned.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

And now I desire to present to you some statistics bearing upon the alleged misgovernment of the state of Pennsylvania, a state whose only cause to blush is that her own children are traducers. I assert that Pennsylvania is the best governed state in this Union—look at her educational system.

Under the Democratic administration in 1860 the amount appropriated for common schools was $280,000. In 1868 the Republicans had removed the state tax from real estate and increased the common school appropriation to 78 per cent. over 1860.

In 1874 they had increased it 374 per cent. over 1860, and at the last session of the legislature it was increased more than 500 per cent. over 1874.
