Smoothing His Path.
Gus—You never had spunk enough to make a proposal in your life. Why did you tell Miss Prettie that you were engaged to two girls?
George—So she'd want to get me away from them.—N. Y. Weekly.

Some Comfort.
Bigg—Yes, sir. Sad case! Man who built this house of mine just got it finished, when he died.
Wigg—Well, it might have been worse. He might have had to live in it.—Brooklyn Life.

Not Fully Prepared.
Student (reading Virgil)—Three times I strove to cast my arms around her neck—that's as far as I got, professor.
Professor—Well, sir, that's quite far enough.—Yale Record.

Confidential.
Dr. Bilz—Did you ever lose a patient?
Dr. Bilz—Yes; there was young Jenks; recovered and hasn't come near the place since.—N. Y. Times.

The Only Cure.
Clergyman—I'm sorry to hear that you sell liquor in this hotel.
Hotel Clerk—Well, sir, we wouldn't if you could get people to stop buying it.—Brooklyn Life.

A Plausible Theory.
Hewitt—I don't smoke as many cigars as I used to.
Jewett—You must have lost a friend.—N. Y. Times.

His Bitter Experience.
"I tell you, my friend, people can't be too careful about the care of the eyes."
"You speak as if you had had some experience along that line."
"You bet I've had my experience! If my Aunt Jane had worn glasses for her nearsightedness she wouldn't have married a designing fellow who dyed his hair. And if she hadn't married him I wouldn't be knocking 'round here with nothin' to do and less to eat."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

All That He Knew About.
He had called upon his son at college. "Did John show you everything of interest there?" his wife inquired when he returned.
"He said he did."
"What did he show you?"
"The gymnasium, the football field, the baseball diamond, the boathouses, and the training quarters for the crew."—Chicago Post.

Extra Caution.
Husband—What's wrong with that house we looked at yesterday?
Wife—It's too big.
Husband—Well, the one we visited to-day, then?
Wife—It's too small.
Husband—Say, what sort of a house do you want?
Wife—Sir, I do not propose to commit myself.—Boston Post.

Going at It Right.
Subbub—I'm sick and tired of visiting the employment agencies in search of cooks, so I'm going to advertise; there's the ad.
Want-ad. Man (of daily newspaper)—Yes, sir; how many insertions?
Subbub—Why, about twice a week for a year! What's your rock-bottom price?—Brooklyn Life.

The Proper Group.
First Fair One—They say you never know a man until you have summered and wintered with him.
Second Fair One—My experience is that you never know him until you find out how much alimony he can pay.—N. Y. Herald.

Too Sweet by Half.
Pretty Darling (who has just been kissed)—Upon my word! I like your cheek!
Impudent Young Man (who has just done it)—Not half as much as I like your lips, my dear.—Ally Sloper.

To Be Congratulated.
Manager—I have read your play carefully and cannot find the slightest trace of a plot.
Playwright—Have you any suggestions to make?
"Oh, no—nothing but congratulations."—N. Y. Herald.

Her Idea.
"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "I hope you will promise me never to gamble."
"What is your idea of gambling?"
"Betting your money and losing it," was the prompt reply.—Washington Star.

How It Goes.
"When you send your poetical effusions to the magazines do you call them 'poems' or 'verses'?"
"Well, when I'm sending them I call them my 'poems,' but when they come back I call them my 'reverses.'"—Philadelphia Press.

Most Unusual.
Subbubs—The new couple who have moved in next door to us are people of most extraordinary mind.
Citiman—You don't say?
Subbubs—Yes; mind their own business.—Philadelphia Press.

HER BILING THOUGHT.
"Did you ever think of marriage, Miss Tiggs?"
"Lor! Wy, I never thinks of nothin' else."—Ally Sloper.

Averse.
O, may I write a verse to you,
The ardent lover cried—
No need; I am averse to you,
The maiden proud replied.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Forever Debarred.
Lassitudinous Lemuel—Why was Weary refused membership in the brotherhood of enervated pilgrims?
Peregrinating Paul—We discovered that he was born in Bath, Maine.—Judge.

Trouble Ahead.
In a cemetery at Middlebury, Vt., is a stone erected by a widow to her loving husband, bearing this inscription: "Rest in peace—until we meet again."—Life.

The Kind She Likes Best.
"Every woman is looking for a partner in life," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "and she doesn't care if it is only a silent one."—Yonkers Statesman.

Quite Sporty, Indeed.
Mrs. Gozzer—Your husband is a great sportsman, isn't he?
Mrs. Malaprop—Yes, indeed; he gives Stagg dinners.—Town Topics.

Spoke the Cynic.
"Curious thing about a man with a watch is that if you see him take it out and look at it, and you ask him two seconds later what time it is, he never remembers. He has to look at it again."
"Yes; I've noticed that he'll always do it—if his watch is a fine one."—Chicago Tribune.

Another Election Row.
"What became of that Sunshine club which Daisy started?"
"Oh, it's under a cloud. After the first annual election of officers it was impossible to get a quorum, owing to the fact that only two members of the club were on speaking terms."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Suffering by Proxy.
Dentist—Been suffering from toothache, I see.
She—Yes; haven't slept a wink for three nights.
Dentist—Is it a back one or—
She—No; it's my husband's tooth.—Tit-Bits.

What is that I call down
"What has occurred?"
husband.
"The neighbors who received next door are going to a party, so they sent over to our parlor rug. I let them and in a little while they said they didn't think the handsome enough to go to furniture, and would I like the money to buy a new Washington Star.

A Queer Thing.
Oh, trouble is a thing that borrow.
And the flight of time gives some sorrow.
And it is a fact, my dear,
Which to me seems very clear,
That to-day will be yesterday.
—Loftus Friselle, in St. Nicholas.

TIP FOR HIM TO GO
Edith Hintz—You must with Mr. Borem's new hat, Willie—Why not?
Edith Hintz—You might lose it, and he'll want it minutes.—Chicago Journal.

The Philosophic Crow.
A crow is not a pretty bird. Yet he's all right, because he never quarrels with his neighbor.
Or fortune, without cause.—N. Y. Herald.

Playing "Daniel."
Mother—Why, children, is this noise about?
Little Freddy—We're having Uncle Henry locked in board for an hour, an' when a little angrier I'm going toing into the lion's cage.
