> THE LESSON TEXT. (Acts 17:1-12.)

1. Now, when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apellonia, they came to Thesralonica, whose was a synagogue of the Jews: 2. And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three Sabbath days rea-soned with them out of the Scriptures, Opening and alleging, that Christmust needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom I reach. preach unto you, is Christ.

4 And some of them believed, and con-torted with Paul and Silas; and of the deyout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.
5. But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain ewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an up-roar, and assaulted the house of Jason, and night to bring them out to the people. 6. And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying: These that have turged the world upside down are come h ther, also: 7. Whom Jason hath received; and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, one rulers of the city, when they heard these 9. And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go. 10. And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night, unto Berea; who coming thither went into the synag gue of the Jews.

11. These were more noble than those in Thereaconica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12. Therefore, many of them believed; also of honorable women which were Greeks, and of men not a few.

PLACE-Thessalonica and Beroea.

Jews at Berora were exceptional in 112-Puck. their reception of Paul's message. They were open-minded, ready to receive the truth, whether it conformed to their previous opinions or not. But though they accepted it with all readiness of mind, they did not do so until they had searched the Scriptures for themselves. In searching the Scriptures they have set us an example.

It was 100 miles over the Roman road from Philippi to Thessalovica. Two. the journey on the may. They pre - 1 through Amphipolis and Apollocus, was best to begin work with the Jews man .- Yenkers Statesman. wherever it was possible, in spite of the fact that some of them usually made trouble. Thessalonica, - mode a Salonica,- was then, as it is now, an important city, and had attracted a large number of Jewish traders. "Three Sabbath days:" This was just the beginning of the work. Paul probably remained about six months, and the majority of his converts were not Jews or persons whom he could have reached in the synagogue, but out-andout Gentiles. "Reasoned . . . from the Scriptures;" That is, from the Old Testament. This would be effective with a synagogue audience, but not with the Gentiles, who knew nothing of the Old Testament, "Opening and alleging:" Kamsay translates, a m for buffalo via En portum.

Anointed One (the Christ) should suffer," etc. This idea of a suffering Messiah was opposed to all Jewish ideas, and contrary to the letter of much of their most precious prophecy, which had told them of a Messiah who should be a glorious earthly king, and give the Jews the supreme place among the nations. Paul showed them that they had missed the meaning of some of the prophecies, which spoke of just such a Messiah as Jesus, suffering and dying for his people. "Devout Greeks:" These were heathen by birth, who had accepted in part the Jewish faith. The trouble arose probably after months of successful work, the last part of it mostly among the Greeks. "Jews . . . jealousy:" Paul was winning men away from their ancient faith; he was preaching the hateful doctrine of a crucified Messiah; he was declaring salvation to be as free to uncircumcised Gentiles as to them; in spite of all they could do he was having great success; therefore they were jealous. "The rabble:" Instead of coming out and fighting in the open, these cowardly Jews stirred up a mob of the riffraff of the streets to do what they dared not do alone.

When night had fallen, and it was safe, the two missionaries, with the help of their faithful friends, escaped from the city, and, leaving the Roman road, struck out in a southwesterly direction for Beroea, 50 miles away. This city was probably chosen because of its seclusion. Paul may have been in Beroca several months. Note all the facts given in verses 10-12 about the work of the people. But Paul's enemies were relentless and desperate. When they appeared at Beroea he left immediately. The disciples seem to have feared foul play of some sort, and part of their number went with him as a bodyguard as far as Athens.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS. It behooved Christ to suffer for our sakes and that the Scriptures might be fulfilled!

2. The Gospel does turn the "world upside down," but that makes it come right side up.

3. Those of noble mind will be ready to change their opinions when convinced by searching the Scriptures.

The Gospel would soon reach all men if we were as anxious to tell the virtues of Christ as we are to publish the faults of others. - Ram's
