A Big Demand For Shoes.

The Post has received a communication from New York City from a gentleman, friendly to Middleburg, who is now in the employ of one of the largest shoe houses in the Country. The firm has asked him for information concerning some Pennsylvania shoe manufacturer who can furnish them with 800 pairs Misses', Child's and Infants' shoes for every day of the year. This means a business of not less than $150,000 per year and would employ not less than 80 persons and would amount in wages from $20,000 to $25,000 a year. A portion of this outfit has been partly contracted for, but there is still sufficient left to keep this factory running with 40 to 50 hands without relying on other orders.

The attention of the managers of our factory has been called to this demand for shoes. Had the Middleburg factory been in shape to fill these orders promptly, there is no doubt but that the entire order could have been secured. Do not delay till it is too late.

A Wrapper Factory.

Should it occur that not sufficient funds can be raised to operate the shoe factory again, the Post offers another suggestion which would turn the idle shoe plant into a prosperous wrapper factory.

The shoe factory machinery, lasts, etc., can be sold and the proceeds taken to purchase machines to make Ladies' wrappers. Machinery to make 60 to 75 dozen wrappers per day can be bought for $1600. This will employ from 45 to 50 people. A firm in Baltimore can be secured who will take the entire product of the factory.

The Post learned from wrapper manufacturers that $1.00 per dozen can be cleared above expenses on the manufacture of wrappers. The profit on an output of 60 to 75 dozen wrappers per day can easily be calculated.

We trust that if the shoe industry can not be revived that the wrapper industry may make the shoe factory building a hive of industry and a source of profit to the managers and the town.

Unnecessary Exposure.

The inauguration ceremonies at Harrisburg last week reminds us of the foolhardy custom in vogue upon such occasions. Gov. Pennypacker, after he was sworn in, stood in the open air with a strong breeze blowing and occasional snow squalls, reading his inaugural address. For a full half hour he was exposed bareheaded to the elements.

Not more than 40 or 50 people were enabled to get near enough to hear the address and yet the man who is at the head of the executive department was expected to expose himself to a fatal illness.

No public officer should be expected to expose himself unnecessarily and this certainly seems to be an unnecessary exposure.

Successful Advertising.

"Successful Advertising, How to Accomplish It", is the title of a new book just written by J. Angus Mac Donald, and published by the Lincoln Publishing Co., Phila., Pa. We have taken great pleasure in examining this book.

It comprises five divisions: First, Ad Building 2nd, Retail Advertising all the Year around; 3rd, Special Features in Retail Advertising; 4th, Mail Order Advertising and 5th, Miscellaneous Advertising.

The book contains a fund of information and no business man can afford to do without this book. There is enough in the book to interest a man in any business and such a fund of data to select from that three or four times the price of the book can be made from its teachings every week of the year. The book costs $2.00 a volume, much less than it is worth. Address the publishers.

A False Prophet.

The imp of hades, who has been sending items from this place to the Beaver Springs Herald has opened a battery for several months upon many of the respectable and reliable people of the County Seat. Just why the Editor has allowed this free lance, under the non de plume, to fabricate and malign decent people remains unanswered.

This representative of eternal heat and darkness has been aching for trouble and he will find it—at judgment day.

In sparsely settled communities like ours, if we all pull together, our accomplishments are very limited, and such irresponsible curs, led, fostered and nurtured, body, soul and breeches, by that class of mossbacks, who can not see beyond the narrow limits of their own personal aggrandisement, are largely responsible for the lack of unity in promoting the welfare of the town.

Any responsible citizen of the town or community can call at the First National Bank of Middleburg and satisfy himself that the Editor of the Post DID contribute toward the purchase of the engine for the Shirt Factory, and he can also see that the irresponsible correspondent of the Herald did not contribute one cent toward the purchase of the engine. What is further true, this would-be censor has never contributed anything toward any industry that was established in Middleburg.
