Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture is the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.
 Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
 There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

ROAD AND FARM IMPROVEMENT

SOUTHERN FORAGE CROP.
 Japan Clover Hay Is Highly Prized for All Kinds of Stock by the Texas Station.

The botanical name is Lespedeza striata. Of it a bulletin of the Texas station says: This is a summer-growing plant that thrives on most of the light soils found between the Trinity river and the Carolinas, throughout the gulf states. It is strictly a southern forage plant, and will not thrive north of the latitude of Kentucky. Seeds have been distributed all over the south from an original shipment that was received at Charleston, S. C., some years ago. Birds, winds and all classes of live stock have been instrumental in scattering the seed westward. When this weed first makes its appearance in a community it is looked upon as a small weed and causes some discussion on account of its salivating effect upon horses. After a year or two, this tendency to salivate disappears and the new clover is recognized as a valuable forage crop to the community. In other instances, progressive stockmen buy the seeds and plant them in the community, where seeds have not been distributed by natural means, and these, in turn, are disseminated throughout the soils to which the plant is suited by the agencies mentioned.

Seed should be sown in late spring—either upon well-prepared land or the moist, protected soils of partial woodland. Usually, a peck to one-half bushel of seed per acre is planted in April and May, often in March. The plant grows slowly at first, but with a fair amount of rainfall it will establish itself and will remain green through severe droughts with frost. The tiny violet bloom that occurs during July and August is often overlooked, but the plant seeds the land abundantly, and the crop of clover will repeat itself annually, if soil and seasons are favorable. In many portions of the older states, where the crop has been grown and cared for, Lespedeza hay is highly prized for all kinds of stock, and its reclaiming influence upon worn-out soils is highly appreciated.

USE OF WIDE TIRES.
 A Matter That Is of Vital Interest to the Preservation of Roads in Good Condition.

One of the greatest aids to better roads is the use of wider tires on the wagons. No matter what kind of material is used for the construction of the road, the width of the tire is of vital importance. It is also vastly to the interest of almost every farmer from an economic standpoint to have at least a three or four inch tire in place of the old fashioned narrow tire. The loads will draw more easily about his fields and on almost all kinds of roads. The wide tired wheels are much stronger and more lasting and present much less trouble in the shape of loose tires. In many sections their economic advantages are being recognized and they are rapidly replacing the narrow tire. This transition should be hastened as rapidly as possible. All new purchases should be of the wide sort. So thoroughly has the relation of wide tires to good roads been recognized abroad that laws have been passed regulating the width of tires. In Germany four-inch tires are required. In France traffic tires must be from three to ten inches wide, according to the weight of the load, and the front axle must be shorter than the rear axle, to prevent "tracking." In Austria wagons carrying more than two and a quarter tons are required to have tires at least four and one-third inches wide and every load over four and a half tons must be carried on tires of six and one-fourth inches in width.—Prairie Farmer.

Farms in Dismal Swamp.
 A group of Ohio capitalists, incorporated as the Virginia Land and Lumber company, has purchased 10,000 acres of land in Dismal Swamp from the Wallace company. They have made complete plans to clear up and drain the land, expecting to sell it to settlers from Ohio. They have already constructed a large lumber mill and are employing a hundred hands in turning out great quantities of lumber. Houses are already being built, and soon prosperous farms will exist where now there are only tangled swamps. The land is naturally exceedingly fertile.

Schools and Courses of Susquehanna University, Selingsrove, Pa.

TEACHERS' COURSE. At this time special attention is called to this course. It is intended to advance the efficiency and earning capacity of those who teach during the Winter, and also to prepare for teaching. The entire course covers four years, all of which can be taken by teachers without interruption of their work in the school-room, and leads up to a permanent certificate and other advantages. This meets a long felt want of teachers who must earn their education with meagre salaries and offers excellent opportunities for steady advancement. Teachers and those who wish to prepare successfully for teaching should not fail to acquaint themselves fully with the benefits to be derived from this course. This year the term begins April 6, 1903, and closes July 29, 1903. Expenses are very low. Write for full particulars.

MUSICAL CONSERVATORY AND COLLEGE FOR YOUNG LADIES. Degrees and Diplomas Granted. The Spring term begins April 1, 1903, and closes June 17, 1903. Special arrangements have been made for a large attendance for MUSIC and other studies. There is a splendid course in Elocution. Facilities are nowhere better. The work is in charge of an able corps of teachers who rank with the best anywhere. The large imposing Ladies' Hall has all the modern conveniences. The environment is home like and parents can rest assured that their daughters will be given the best care in every way. The climate is very healthful and the surrounding scenery is all that could be desired. Our students come from the best homes. Why not give your daughter the advantage of at least a few terms away at College. The day has gone by when the girls were kept at home, and only the boys sent to college. Rates are very reasonable. Write for catalogue and particulars.

COMMERCIAL COURSE. An increasing number of young persons are finding lucrative positions at the counting desk and in offices. To meet this demand the University offers a thorough and efficient Commercial Course, consisting of Book-keeping, Penmanship, Shorthand, Commercial Law, etc. All or any of these subjects may be pursued. Besides securing a superior Commercial Course, our students enjoy the additional advantages of a Gymnasium, Library and Reading-room, Literary Societies, and the University life in general. The University atmosphere stimulates the ambition of students, and, together with efficient instruction gives exceptionally satisfactory results. We have no difficulty in securing positions for all students completing the course. Write for terms and particulars.

The College of Liberal Arts is noted for its excellent Scientific and Classical Courses. A course in Civil Engineering is given.
