Snyder County Teachers' Normal.
Nineteen years ago the County Normal was instituted by Maj. William H. Dill. At that time Freeburg had the only school in the county, devoted to the preparation of teachers, and hence the County Normal was the most convenient place for our teachers to prepare themselves for their work. The normal was well patronized from the start, and that is still a popular institution was shown last Spring when during my first session one hundred and thirty-four students were enrolled. In my opinion the time has come when our people should ask themselves, not only, is the County Normal a popular thing? But the more important question is, is it the best thing to bring our teachers and schools to a higher state of efficiency? That our public schools are better than they were in years past is evident; but that it is possible to make them still better, much better than they are now, no one doubts, who is in a position to know. Every year brings greater demands of our schools. If these demands are to be satisfied, one of the first requisites is broader scholarship in the rank and file of our teachers. Nobody can teach what he does not know; and the more the teacher knows the better for the children.
I care not who the County Superintendent is; or how well qualified may be the person who assists him in conducting the County Normal, the best that they can do is to give a brief review of the branches and present it to the students what they may consider the great needs of the school. For want of time it is simply impossible to divide the students into grades so as to enable each grade to take up new field of study every year, and for teachers to be working over the common branches year after year is like rituals warmed over half a dozen times.
In as much as there will be three schools in the county this spring, viz: at Freeburg, Selinsgrove and Beaver Springs, I have determined to give recognition to all of them; and instead of conducting the usual normal I expect to divide my time equally among all of these schools in conducting reviews and delivering lectures on Pedagogy. This will enable me to get into heart contact with a greater number of teachers than I could by conducting a free normal. It will enable a greater number of teachers to board at home and thus save considerable expense. It will give all the opportunity of attending school a longer term. It will give an opportunity to the more advanced to take up a regular course of study which if followed during the vacation period for several years will enable them to appear before a State Board of Examiners and obtain a life certificate. It will put away the presumption that the examiner should be lenient with an applicant because he has patronized the free normal. If many of our teachers now holding provisional certificates, had spent their time on a regular course of study, instead of reviewing the common branches year after year, they might to-day hold State Certificates.
This plan, of conducting reviews and delivering lectures in all the schools of the county, multiplies the work and the expenses of the County Superintendent, but I am convinced that our teachers will take advantage of the opportunities thus offered, they will in the course of a few years be all the better prepared to discharge the duties of the high calling of teacher.
This departure from the old custom will doubtless meet with some criticism but I want to assure all that the foregoing conclusions have been reached only after mature deliberation, and conference with many directors and teachers of our county, as well as with educators in other parts of the state. I sincerely believe that this change, in connection with several others that I expect to introduce, will not only give us a stronger corps of teachers but will at the same time enable us to prepare our boys and girls all the better for the duties and responsibilities of life.
Faithfully Yours,
GEO. W. WALBORN, Co. Supt.

Mary Ann Hehn.
Mary Ann Hehn, daughter of Capt. John Hehn and his wife Hannah Smith was born Jan. 16, 1819 and died at the home of G. W. Row in this place Thursday, March 12, 1903, aged 84 years, 1 month and 26 days. There are no brothers living but three sisters survive: Mrs. G. W. Row of this place, Mrs. J. C. Long of Penn township, Mrs. Joseph Stuck of Venango county, Pa. The last named is older than the deceased.
She was buried Monday by the side of her parents in the Reformed Cemetery, Selinsgrove. Rev. Haas officiating.
MARRIED.
Mar. 16th, at Middleburg, by Rev. J. Shambach, Edward E. Renninger and Miss Katie May Kline, both of near Middleburg.
It Is Your Business.
To pay attention to your physical welfare. Your responsibility begins when you get up in the morning. You begin its day's work at breakfast. A dish of "It" will give you the right foundation for the day's business. "It" has grain nutriment to satisfy the taste and add strength to the body and the brain. One dish makes you want another. You can eat "It" at any time. Grocers sell "It".
Change of Postoffice.
Subscribers to the Post who contemplate changing their postoffice address this spring, should notify this office of the same at once, that the paper will arrive without interruption. In giving the name of the new office do not forget to give the old address as well as the new, and much trouble will be avoided thereby. Give old as well as new address.

Card of Thanks.
We desire to thank all the friends and neighbors, pallbearers and choir for kindly assisting us during the illness and burial of Mary Ann Hehn.
G. W. Row and family.
Card of Thanks.
To the Republican Voters of Snyder County.
Having been through your kindness successful in being nominated for reelection for the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of the Court I take this method of returning my sincere thanks to all, and ask the support of all our people of the County at the general election next November. Assuring you if elected that I will endeavor to serve you in the future as in the past.
Again thanking you I remain,
Your Obedient Servant,
GEO. M. SHINDLER.
Letter to M. E. Potter.
Middleburg, Pa.
Dear Sir: Your business is, when a house burns down, to give the owner some money to build a new one. It is a good business. Queer that the world got on so long without it.
We paint the one that burnt down and the new one too. What is better, we paint the houses that don't burn down.
You insure the houses that burn; we insure the houses that don't. You have the ashes and smoke; all the houses are ours.
We paint Lead and Zinc Devco. We sell the paint to painters; we don't paint.
Lead and oil is the old-fashioned paint. Devco is zinc ground in with the lead and fused oil; the best paint in the world; and the cheapest, because it takes fewer gallons than mixed paints and it wears twice as long as lead and oil. Nobody wants poor paint; there's lots of it, though, in the world.
A. M. Griffin, Plainfield, N. J., writes:
Mr. Aaron Higgins, of Plainfield, always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last Spring he bought 15 gallons of Devco and had 4 gallons left.
Yours truly,
F. W. Devco & Co.,
New York.
