"Progressive Monthly" of Indianapolis for March, says: "The Theory and Practice of Advertising by Geo. W. Wagenseller, Middleburg, Penna., is an interesting and novel text book on advertising subjects. It is a bound volume of fifty complete lessons in advertising and sells for seventy-five cts. It is worth much more to any man who constructs his own ads."

Bruce H. Crouse returned Saturday from East Pittsburg, for a short vacation for the benefit of his health. He says that John L. Bowersox arrived there some time ago, and after having worked three days was called into the office and made the boss of over 100 workmen and his pay increased. His wages will soon advance to $ a month. Mr. Bowersox's aptness and his familiarity with hardware enabled him to display a degree of usefulness that immediately won the admiration and confidence of his employers.

Mr. Wagenseller's Book.

Mr. Geo. W. Wagenseller, who conducts a correspondence school at Middleburgh, Pa., has favored "The Advertising World" with a copy of his book, "Theory and Practice of Advertising." It contains 50 lessons in preparing advertising copy, each lesson being followed by a "problem" which the student is expected to solve. The work is extremely practical, and it is doubtful if any ad-student will be able to expend 75 cents to better advantage than in the purchase of this book.—"Advertising World."

Starting Right.

In every great race much depends upon the start. "Getting away" with the whole system tingling with confidence in the strength to win, is half the battle. In the race of life the start each day is at the breakfast table. A dish of "It", the new cereal, served with milk, invigorates the body and refreshes the brain. "It" makes the start right. "It" is cooked and ready to eat. Young and old like "It". You can eat "It" at any time. At grocers everywhere.

PERTINENT PERSONALS

George W. Beaver is putting a new roof on a portion of his house.

W. W. Smith of Paxton, who is track walker and station agent at Liverpool Station, was in town last week paying a visit to his uncle, John P. Smith. Mr. Smith is a native of this place and still cherishes a warm spot in his bosom for Middleburg. If he could find profitable employment here, he says he would prefer to live here.

Rev. N. A. Kiracofe and family spent last week at New Berlin, and while they were absent the members of the Middleburg U. B. Church, arranged to give them a good pounding when they returned, and on Saturday evening, notwithstanding the heavy shower of rain, they came to the parsonage, and executed their purpose. S. Spitler made a brief address, stating the object of their coming. The whole affair was quite a surprise. Therefore it created considerable excitement, but the pastor and family enjoyed the pounding remarkably well. "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord," and we testify that this pounding is working good. Many thanks to all. Come again.

Do You Realize

a constant war is carried on between your stomach and your taste? What pleases one may not suit the other. The question is what to eat. "It", the cereal that tastes good, forever sets at peace the jarring, human factions. "It" is a grain product with all the health giving nutriment retained. "It" builds up the body; adds to the strength; keeps the brain active and clear. "It" is cooked and ready to eat with milk or cream. Grocers sell "It".

Rev. S. S. Kohler.

The following items have been clipped from the Reformed Church Record:

New Berlin, Pa.—On Sunday, Mar. 8, Rev. S. Sidney Kohler preached his farewell sermon at New Berlin and Middleburg congregations. Large audiences greeted him at the parting services. At Middleburg a $25 baptismal font was used for the first time. Wm. Henry Soles was the first child baptized. The New Berlin charge regrets to see their pastor leave.

[The baptismal above named was the present of Mrs. James Shuman.]—Editor Post.

Pine Grove, Pa.—On March 10, Rev. S. Sidney Kohler moved into the Pine Grove charge. On Thursday evening a large number of the members tendered him and his family a reception. The members greeted the pastor at the parsonage, and after placing numerous articles on the dining room table, they requested him to accompany them to the church, where a brief service was conducted, consisting of devotional exercises and a brief address. A pleasant evening was spent socially, and afterwards all went home glad that they again have a regular pastor.

A party was given Tuesday evening at the home of Constable W. C. Snyder for Naomi Snyder, the organist of the U. B. church.

Letter to H. S. Renninger.

Middleburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: We hear you're doing a good business, and we know already, without your telling us, that you use good paint and do good work. We've got a big business too—been at it 140 years—making good paint, best paint in the world, Devoe Lead and Zinc.

"Fewer gallons and years longer"—that's the reason in short. It takes fewer gallons of Devoe Lead and Zinc than of mixed paints to cover a house, and it wears longer than lead and oil or any mixed paint.

Smith & Wilbur, Cambridge Springs, Pa., write:

One of our painters says Devoe is the best paint for a painter to use when making work by the job, as it goes further and covers better than any paint he ever used.

Here's the experience everybody with it. The dealer who sells Devoe gets the bulk of the paint business of his town. The painter who paints Devoe gets the painting of his town. Yours Truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
New York.
