GERMAN EMPRESS INJURED

Thrown From Her Horse While Riding
Through Grunewald Forest.

Berlin, March 28.—While the German empress was galloping through the Grunewald forest near Charlottenburg yesterday afternoon, her horse, startled by a dog that ran across the path, fell and threw her off. The empress broke the fall with her left arm, and one of the horses snipped just above the wrist. The emperor, Prince Adolph, General von Lowenfeld, General von Wedel and the numerous followers of adjutants and aides-de-camp quickly gathered around her. The empress was the first to lift her from the ground. She screamed with pain at the first shock, but after that showed much fortitude.

"Lewenfeld," said the empress, "ride to the hunting lodge and telephone for a doctor (the empress's physician)."

General von Lowenfeld left the adjutant far behind in the dark forest hunting for the dog, which was about 200 yards away. He had some difficulty in locating Dr. Leuthold, but presently reached him at the army headquarters. Emperor William in the meantime had applied first aid to the empress's hand and made a sling out of his own vest.

As the party walked toward the lodge a carriage sent by General von Lowenfeld met them, but the empress refused to take it. Dr. Leuthold, in an automobile belonging to a member of the emperor's staff, which happened to be at army headquarters, went full speed to Grunewald, arriving an hour and a half after the accident. He was followed by Major Illberg, the emperor's surgeon, and Dr. Zunker, the special physician of the empress. The fractured arm was dressed and bandaged at the hunting lodge, and her majesty was then driven in a carriage slowly back to Berlin. The empress sat in the carriage with her arm in a sling under her jacket, the emperor riding beside on horseback.

COAL REDUCED FIFTY CENTS

Ten Cents a Month Will be Added
Until Fall Prices are Reached.

Philadelphia, March 31.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company yesterday, through a circular, gave official notice of a drop of fifty cents per ton on prepared or domestic sizes of anthracite coal for the month of April. The sizes affected by the April price list are broken, egg, stove and chestnut. There will be no change in the prices on furnace and steam sizes, which are largely sold under contracts, large consumers securing somewhat better terms than other consumers.

The new prices for April free on board cars at mines will be as follows: Lump and steamboat sizes $2.50; broken, $3.00; Lanthier and Schuykill red ash, which will be $3.25; Lykens Valley red ash, $3.60; egg, $3.25, with proportionately larger prices for Schuykill and Lykens Valley red ash; stove, $3.25; chestnut, $3.25.

The prices are the same as announced in the circular of October 24, after the end of the strike, with the exception that a rebate of 50 cents a ton is allowed domestic sizes. This rebate will be increased 10 cents a month until the fall circular prices are reached in September.

The prices for coal delivered on board vessels at Port Richmond for shipment beyond the Delaware Capes are:

Free white ash, $4.75; hard white ash, $4.75; Shamokin, $5.00; Schuykill red ash, $5.25; Lanthier, $5.25; Lykens Valley, $5.75.

The sales agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad met yesterday and adopted the Reading's circular.

CUBA ACCEPTS TREATY

Result of Promise by President
Roosevelt to Call Extra Session.

TIME LIMIT DISPENSED WITH

The Treaty Was Saved From Almost Certain Defeat By Message From
Secretary Hay—Opposition Fear Absorption by United States.

Havana, March 30.—The treaty of reciprocity between Cuban and the United States was approved at 8 o'clock Saturday night in the Cuban senate by a vote of 12 to 9. This approval is absolute, and is not hampered by any conditions, the questionable time limit amendment having been dispensed with after the receipt of a message from Secretary Hay, in which it was positively declared that President Roosevelt would call a special session of congress prior to December 1.

The purport of this assurance was transmitted to the senate by President Palma and read at the beginning of the session, an understanding having been reached previously with Senators Bustamante, Capote and Dolz, composing the majority of the foreign relations committee, that the objectionable condition in the report be eliminated.

Final action was delayed for a long time by the discussion of an amendment offered by Senators Sanguilly, Tamayo and Reolo, requiring the house to pass upon the treaty. Senator Sanguilly argued that while the constitution was not explicit upon this point, that the representatives in congress of the people ought to be consulted as well as the commercial interests, whose opinions the committee had sought eagerly. He cited the actions of the United States, and said Cuba was afraid that the treaty would be defeated if submitted to the house. Senator Dolz admitted that this was a good reason, and quoted the constitution to show that reference to the house was not required.

Senator Sanguilly, in a long and impassioned speech against the ratification of the treaty, impressively pictured the gradual absorption of Cuba by the United States, in which he said the present action was one step. He argued that it was practically disgraceful for Cuba to be a party to such a scheme. The speaker's wit and eloquence caused occasional bursts of approving applause from the spectators, and when he concluded he was greeted with a roar of applause, in which all the senators joined.

The amendment requiring the house to pass on the treaty was defeated by a vote of 5 to 15.

The vote was taken separately on each section of the substitute report. The vote on the unconditional ratification of the treaty was 12 to 9; on the amendment to the executive it was 11 to 9.

The present session of the senate then adjourned. The ratifications will be exchanged by cable.

United States Minister Squiers said: "The ratification of the treaty without amendment is due almost entirely to the assurances given by President Roosevelt that he will call an extra session of congress before December 1. This action of the president will be appreciated and accepted by the Cuban government and people as an additional evidence of the most sincere friendship and interest on the part of a man in whom they have ever had unbounded faith and confidence."

PANIC IN A THEATRE

Actors in "McFadden's Row of Flats"

Mobbled in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 31.—A panic was precipitated in the People's Theatre here last night, when the actors in the farce "McFadden's Row of Flats," were mobbed by a throng of Irish-Americans. Eighteen men were arrested and held without bail, charged with inciting to riot. The disturbance occurred in the first act. While Arthur Whitelaw was singing "Mr. Dooley" he was greeted with a shower of eggs and some person in the audience discharged a pistol. Immediately there was a rush for the exits, and in the excitement a number of women and children were trampled upon. None was seriously injured, however.

The police authorities were notified, and three patrol wagons, filled with policemen, were dispatched to the scene. The disturbers were inclined to resist arrest and there was a lively encounter, but the riotous element was quickly subdued. The magistrate before whom the prisoners were arraigned refused to accept bail for them.

Roosevelt's Family Storm-Bound. Washington, March 31.—Mrs. Roosevelt and her children, who are aboard the president's yacht, Mayflower, en route to the Atlantic ocean, are storm-bound at Riverside, about fifty miles down the Potomac river, where the vessel will remain until the weather clears. News to this effect was brought to Washington by a steamer which arrived here last night. The weather is quite heavy, and considerable rain is falling, so the captain of the Mayflower decided that it would be more comfortable for those aboard to remain at Riverside than to venture at present into the wider waters of the river and bay.

Captain Sewell Resigns. Washington, March 28.—Captain Robert Sewell, of the quartermaster's department, son of the late Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, has resigned his commission as an officer in the army.
