Upon arriving at Millersburg, they jumped off the train right in front of Buffalo Flyer. Reichenbach had his head and an arm cut off and died instantly. He was buried Sunday at Chapman.

A Special Train For Workmen.

Dan Powell, of Lewistown, was here last week to secure workmen for the steel works at Burdham, and if a sufficient number can be secured between Lewistown and Beavertown the railroad company will put on an extra train to take the men to work in the morning and bring them home in the evening. This would be an advantage to laboring men, as living expenses, rents, etc., are much cheaper in the smaller towns along the railroad than in the section close to the works. The small towns would also be considerably benefited as more tenant houses would be required and farmers could market their produce more readily. Beaver Springs "Herald."

Driving Out The Enemy

Letter to J. F. Stetler.

Middleburgh, Pa.
 Dear Sir: The cost of labor is painting a house is three times the cost of the paint. You seem to save a little when you buy a lower priced paint, but you certainly add to the cost of labor when you pay for spreading more gallons.

Wears longer too—longer than mixed paints, longer than lead and oil.

You don't save a cent.
 Mr. C. Loeb, a painter in Magnolia, Miss., writes:
 After years of experiments with mixed paints, I find that your paint covers more surface to the gallon than any I have ever used. For density and wearing qualities it cannot be excelled.

Compared with lead and oil: A house belonging to the late President of the Croton River Bank, at Brewsters, N. Y., (cost $31,000) was painted with lead and oil in '84 at the cost of $100. In '87—three years—it was repainted with Devoe at a cost of $350. In '97 the house was still all right.
 Results: lead and—costs $400, wears three years; Devoe—costs $350, wears ten years.

Yours truly,
 F. W. Devoe & Co.,
 New York.

P.S.—P. P. Smith of Sunbury sells our paint.

The Susquehanna coal breaker has been idle for the last sixty days, and the future is cloudy, but we may have cheaper coal for the home consumption.

John Stahl, who met with an accident at Millersburg last week, is doing well but his escape was a miracle.

The poisoning of the Roache family as reported by the Post last week has created quite a stir, but what the Editor had to take it.

Rev. Keller is convalescent but his wife is suffering from the result of grip.

Maria W. Dundore has over one hundred little peeps and does not believe in artificial incubators but is quite enthusiastic over her buff tock.

Our merchant's driving horse died and now he thinks of going to Philadelphia to get one to take his place.

Joseph Kerstetter's fish all get away at night which shows conclusively that fish see better at night than in day time.

Squire Sechrist is shipping eggs by the hundred to parties near and far for hatching.

Our merchant shipped 600 doz. Easter eggs to Northumberland Co. and pays two cents more than market price, but he says business is business.

Rev. N. T. Searle will preach on Easter Sunday at Witmer's, Hoover's and Alina U. E. churches and as he is the foremost pulpit orator of our county all should come and hear him.

A. E. Witmer is selling his potatoes at Sunbury.

Loads of potatoes to Herndon for our farmers.

Dr. Krebs makes many professional calls.
 J. D. Riegle bought a valuable mule team.
