THE LESSON TEXT.

(Acts 23:16-16, 24-26.)
10 Then Paul, after that the governor ad beckened unto him to speak, answered, For a smuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto the nation, do the more cheerfully answer for myself 11. Because that thou mayst understand that there are yet but 12 days since 1 went up to Jerusalem for to worship.

12. And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city;

13. Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.
14. But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so word he I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets:

the prophets:
15. And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust. nd unjust. 16. And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offense toward God, and toward men. 24. And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25. And as he reasoned of righteousness. temperance, and judgment to come. Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient senson, I will call for thee.

36. He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

GOLDEN TEXT.—I will fear no evil: for thou art with me.—Ps. 23:1. OUTLINE OF SCRIPTURE SECTION

It will be seen that Paul makes a perfect defense, so far as the charges igniust him are concerned. But it hould also be noted that he does more than acquit himself of them; he o makes known the character of "the sect" to which he is accused of belonging (but which he calls "the Way") that he justifies its existence an right to his fealty. Paul did not think of himself alone.

When our last lesson closed, Paril of a quarter of a mile were broken. In had been brought under guard to Causarea, the Roman capital of Pales Maurice Cohen, with his wife and line, and had been imprisoned in wha was originally Herod's palace. It was ow the governor's official residence. and was fortified.

The "orator" the Jews took with them was their advocate or lawyer and conducted the case. He began is true oriental style by flattering the udge. The Jews, through their law r, made three charges. Bear in mind that while Fell's had not been a good Harry Glucchmann, their 15-year-old, ruler, he had been active in ridding the country of "robbers and impostors who deluded the multitude." the consequent shock was too great had executed many of them. The first for the sick boy to bear, and he died charge was that Paul was one of thesvery trouble-makers whom Felix was The fire originated in a peculiar trying to get rid of; the second charge manner. The torpedo caps are filled was that he was a ringleader of the in moids, along is constant dans heret all "sect of the Nazarenes. ger of some of the loose powder, sup- (Christians), and the third, that he was posed to be fulminate of mercury, guilty of sacrilege, having attempted to profuse the temple by taking Genthe girls and boys who are employed tiles into the forbidden inclosure.

In his defense Paul took up in order their shoes while at work, so as to the three charges that had been made avoid the danger of striking sparks, against him. He began courteensly The explosion was due to the frolick- but with no flattery. "Forasmuch as some propensities of a new girl, who I know . . . "Not powder. Instantly the floor was more than twelve days:" Paul's stay had been short and his record could be easily looked up. "Neither can they prove:" Paul flatly denies the first charge-the only one that would seem serious to a Roman and challenges proof of his guilt. The second he frankly admits. "The Way:" One of the earliest names applied by the disciples to Christianity. Paul claims, however, that he does not belong to a heretical sect, because (1) he wor shiped the true God, (2) he reverenced the Hebrew Scriptures, (3) he believed with the Pharisees in the resurrection of the dead. "Herein:" In this faith. "I also exercise myself:" I school myself to do right, strive to have a clear conscience, which, even to Paul, was not always easy. Verses 17-21 give Paul's answer to the third charge.

Felix saw that no case had been made out against Paul, and yet he did not want to anger the Jews, so he simply adjourned the case till another

Felix was interested in Paul. He was pressing his trust in the ability of the also interested in the Nazarenes, and so summoned his prisoner to a private interview. Paul did not preach to the Roman a gospel of forms and ceremonies like Judaism, but one of rightcousness and self-control-a gospel in which wrongdoing should be followed by what wrongdoing deserved. It was all terrible truth to the guilty Felix but he was not man enough to change his life, and so he closed his eyes to the truth and tried to forget it. Pan! was sent back to his prison, but Felis did not forget it, and kept sending for Paul and talking with him. Of course he expected Paul to offer a bribe for his freedom, but that does not account for his action, which was that of a man seeing the truth, and fascinated by it. and yet too weak to accept it and live

PHILIPPINE CATHOLICS

Report of Father Vattmann to Bishops Assembly Made Public.

COMMENTS ON INSURGENT PRIEST

He Highly Praises Philippine Commission and Says Catholics Need Fear No Injustice at Their Hands-American Bishop Could End Trouble.

Washington, May 2.- Extracts from the report of Father E J Vattmann, chaplain of the 22th United Sinces Infantry, to the Catholic bushers as sembly in annual convention here last week on the status of the Catholic church in the Philippines has been made public. Father Vattmann, with the knowledge and consent of the war department and under the direction of the church authorities, recently made a careful investigation of Catholic interests in the archipelago. He is unsparing in his praise of Governor Taft and other members of the Philippine commission for their honesty and impartiality in religious affairs. He comments on the influence of Aulipay, an insurgent priest, in the islands, and expresses the belief that had an American bishop instead of Monsignor Guidi been appointed to Manila the breach would not have been so wide and it would have been closed quickly. Father Vattmann regards the present feeling toward the friars as most unfortunate.

"To my mind," says Father Vatt-mann's report, "It is deplorable that certain of our Catholic papers persist in misrepresenting Governor Taft and his administration. He is a clean and honest man, broad-minded and liberal, with no taint of bigotry in his composition. His attitude towards the church and to Catholic interests in general is simply admirable. You may e certain that he thoroughly understands the character and the selfish designs of the renegade Aglipay, and that he has a profound knowledge both of the man and the conditions around him. I repeat, the governor is honest and impartial, and we have nothing to fear from him-he can be trusted to do the right thing.

"As to the Aglipay heresy-for it may be so called-I am sorry to say it has attained very considerable proportions, and bodes danger to the faith of the people. Remember, there are 10,000,000 Catholics in the Philippines. about as many as there are in the whole United States. I have the impression that had an American archbishop been appointed to Manlia the breach would not have been so wide and it would have been quickly closed. Monsignor Guidi has done very well, but I really believe the appointment of an American archbishop would have carried with it more of prestige Meet unfortunate is it that there is such a deep feeling against the friars; indeed, they are really hated. They are looked upon as part and parcel of the old oppressive Spanish regime, and it is this feeling that has given an impetus to the Aglipay heresy. I found this feeling of bitterness against the friars in every one of the provinces, except perhaps the province of Cebu.

"It is beautiful to witness the profound love of the Filinguos for the church. I was, on many occasions, strongly impressed by it. I am deeply grieved to think the faith of such a devoted people is in danger. But I believe I have pointed out the solu-

Colored Desperado Kills Two and Wounds Another In New York.

New York, May 4.—Police Sergeant Gilhooley, who was shot Saturday night by Jefferson Saunders, a negro waiter, who at the same time killed Policeman Peters and desperately wounded Policeman Russo, died in the hospital. Russo's condition is dangerous, as he was shot through the lung, but he has a fair chance of recovery. Saunders was held to await the action of the coroner. He made a statement that he had been assaulted by the three policemen, who were unknown to him and were in citizens dress, and that he used his pistol in self-defense. Six witnesses of the affair were committed to the House of Detention. Saunders, according to the police, has been known as a "bad nigger" for many years. He has been concerned in numerous shooting and cutting affrays and has served in all nearly 20 years in Sing Sing.
