MIDDLEBURG POST.

| b) avars as smox  A athor of "Ta Fits Stepa" "Robeet  Handy's Sevea Deyn" Ete  Capmesht, 2901, Dy Charies M. Shallon  -I र in sntoure to bave my things taken wer to Rartonis. I sme soing to stay With hin nintll I simange for my permmenent quarters.  Me Noft the room strel wevit upotales Wheme do tinsfod himaelf with preklos the fen prowersings be hed broueht   prons | "I think no-yes" she sald slowly.  "In other words, you mean no." sald John Gordon, smiling alowiy,  Luella Marsh returned the smille and then became Instantly grare again,  I rould tike to ask you a few more questions May IT"  "Or course"  "Then I don't know that I am quite clear to my mind as to your exact reasons for learing your own home. Will you try to make me understand thatr'  "Luella"- He paused, and for the first tlme a fenr krew upon him that be was going to fail to make her understand the real crists in his llfe Was this the attitude of the woman Who wald prove to be the companton be would newl? Would she besitate and demand sll these proors and reasons sll theec explanations? And yet be colt the nect of her. She had thins now thome was only one prayer in lise liongt, and that was that she would - Bunev flon gowat I will go. Thy peo ony Gient on my peaple sitd thy Goat $\qquad$ then (chen 1 tw with dowpening vectous- $\qquad$ | our tantidious habits, if in the refine ment of a eivilization that is venecred cetishness we glay our little plays like children and never wake to the power of usefulness as grownup men and women who have glauts' work to do for the weak and less fortunatep ${ }^{\prime \prime}$  Luella Marsh listened to genuine sur prise. This was nnother new phase of her lover's character. But there were things antd by him that angered her. although while Johin Gorlon was talk Ing she was anying to herself, "I did not know he had any gifts as a speats er that would bear developing.  Looking up at bim, noting the flush of reeling oa his generally pale racs she spoke the first impulsive thought roused by what he eald  "100 sou realty classify lives like yours and mine as tuselens? people then, the only uneful belnis Of is if trice that the people as and sutfering quantity Es you say Are thee but ns seltish in their way is He in ours $\qquad$ | John, I fear to $\mathrm{go}^{\circ \prime}$ - Rhe had raised tier head and was looking at him with more ngitation than he had ever known ber to show. "I am not certain that I am fitted, that I am adapted, for such a life. I have a horror of the placen-the- I do not lore the people, John, an you say you do. Am I to blame for that?"  Sbe asked the question almont timIdly, but nothing could soften the hardness of the statement to $\mathrm{W} / \mathrm{m}$. He dha ber from coming to him without any questions wis her lack of religious experletices she dht not love the peopte becnuse all her life had been so far tleroted to a love of the thinger that bad surtoundeal her socelnt position  I do not think you are to blame But, ob, Ltiella, could sout not learn to me and let the future"- | He put his head down and coughe so long and violently that at the end |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |

 5

$\qquad$

$\qquad$
$\qquad$

 | $\substack{\text { be pasalbly } \\ \text { Juthm } \\ \text { question } \\ \text { nit }}$ |
| :---: | plete frreatom of Hitnes, mud

lence would

\section*{ \\ | befor |
| :--- |
| beror |
| dark |
| portre |}

