There are three classes of men, the man who thinks he knows it all, the man who will never learn and the man who is willing to learn.

REJECTS CANAL TREATY. Colombian Congress Voted Unanimously Against Ratification.

CAUSED SENSATION ON ISTHMUS. President of Colombia Authorized to Make New Treaty, but Basis Will Probably Prove Unacceptable to United States.

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 16.—The Panama Canal treaty has been rejected unanimously by the Colombian congress.

Colombian Congress Voted Unanimously Against Ratification. The Panama Canal Company had been expected to come to a previous arrangement with the Colombian government for the transfer of the concession.

REASON FOR REJECTION. Washington, Aug. 17.—The reason given for the rejection of the treaty by the Colombian congress is that it was not the original intention of the Colombian government to give up the canal.

One object of advertising is not so much to sell an article that everybody wants, as to make everybody want an article that the advertiser sells.

The profits of the Standard Oil Co. were $40,000,000 last year. John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller got the lion's share of this amount.

This is the time of the year when parents who can afford it should select a reliable school and send their sons and daughters for a higher education than the public schools afford.

Wealth is Little Things. It has become almost an axiom with the majority that large fortunes are to be raised from some simple invention than from difficult and expensive inventions that involve a great outlay of money to manufacture.

million bottles annually. The accidental bending of a hairpin by a woman to prevent it from sliding out of her hair also easily produced a fortune for her husband, who immediately saw the possibilities of a crinkled hairpin for women.

Instances could be multiplied indefinitely of large fortunes being made from small inventions, but fortunately for those inventors who make a life study of intricate problems of mechanics and disdain to waste their talents upon trivial, popular articles of the day, there is often also ample reward held in store for the products that take years to produce and which revolutionize existing methods of industry and mechanics.

The man who discovered that a candle if tapered at the end would stick firmly into its socket patented the idea and founded the largest candle factory in the world. The man who cut grooves along the ribs of an umbrella left his heirs over $1,000,000.

The little inventions scarcely worthy of notice at the time are the ones which have made money. The stylographic pen yielded $100,000 a year to its inventor; a plan for shading in colors and rubber stamps were equally valued.

A veneer for shoe pegs brought in $250,000; the drive well is a simple contrivance, but brought its inventor $5,000,000 in royalties. The spring window shade yields $100,000 a year. The inventor of the roller skate made $1,000,000 and a common needle threader is worth $10,000 a year to its owner.

Individual judgment and common sense are required to succeed in any business.
