

VICTORY FOR RELIANCE

Cup Defender Proves Herself the Fastest Yacht Ever Built. DEFEATS SHAMROCK 7 MINUTES

The Challenger Made a Game Fight, But Reliance Outslung Her On Every Point in a Twelve-Knot Breeze.

New York, Aug. 24.—In a splendid 12 to 15 knot breeze, over a windward and leeward course of 30 miles, the gallant sloop Reliance beat Shamrock III in commanding style by exactly nine minutes actual time, or seven minutes three seconds after deducting the 1 minute and 57 seconds which the defender concedes to Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenger on account of her sailing plan as at present measured. It was a royal water fight for the ancient trophy which carries with it the fighting supremacy of the world, and by a strange coincidence the first victory in the cup series of 1903 occurred on the 52d anniversary of the day on which the old schooner America captured it in her famous race around the Isle of Wight. The Reliance beat the British boat 3 minutes and 24 seconds in the threat to windward, and 5 minutes and 36 seconds in the run down the wind.

THE RELIANCE.

The racing conditions were ideal. A thin haze hung over the Jersey shore, obstructing the view of the spectators gathered there, but out on the ocean race course the sea was flooded with sunshine from a vault of fleecless blue. A long ocean swell heaved up from the south, and a 15-knot breeze, fresh and strengthening, blew out of the southwest, throwing up feeting whitecaps on the sparkling bosom of Old Ocean. The marine picture was superb.

The honors of the start, as on Thursday were captured by the American skipper, Captain Wringe timed his approach to the line with Shamrock until, and in an effort to keep off until the gun boomed he almost lost his bow-sprit as he luffed up to cross. Captain Barr, as usual, went over in the windward berth. It was a magnificent sight as they plunged seaward in the 12-knot breeze, pounding fountains of spray from their bows and leaning to it until the water swirled and bubbled along their lee rails. The crews were piled up along the weather side to hold the great racing machines up.

The first few minutes of the threat to windward were watched with intense interest. Both were footing like mad. They showed yards of their under bodies and shipped a good deal of spray and some solid water forward. But after 15 minutes of sailing their positions had not varied perceptibly and there was alarm among the experts. Those who had expected to see the Reliance walk away from her adversary as a result of last Thursday's showing were disappointed. The Shamrock hung on with bulging tenacity and tack after tack she seemed to be holding her own.

For 15 miles challenger and challenged fought out the magnificent duel, sailing between two lanes of excursion boats as free from interference as if they had been in the midst of the Atlantic. All the time the wind was increasing and the whitecaps were whitening the waves in lambled ardor. The critical point in the race came at 1.40 a little less than two hours after the start. The mark was less than two miles away and the relative positions of the boats were about the same. Both were on the starboard tack. Reliance ahead, but to leeward. Suddenly the wind dropped and hailed a trifle to the west. The shift enabled the yacht to lead up for the mark, with Reliance in the lead by about 200 yards. This was the only thing that marred an otherwise truly sailed race. But from this on the Reliance steadily increased her lead in the windward work until she was three-quarters of a mile ahead. As she rounded the outer mark, the whistles, strains, bands and the voices of the unnumbered thousands on the excursion fleet swelled into a vast chorus.

Turning for home, her spinnaker boom poised along the mast like a lance in rest, fell to port and the big sail burst out like a cloud, while at the same moment her enormous balloon jib topsail belled out forward. The smart work of the Yankees cheered the crowds, but a moment afterward there was dismay, when the guy which held the spinnaker pole parted or was carried away. The enormous sail soared aloft and tumbled over the jib topsail stay, collapsing like an empty meal-sack. But the trouble was soon remedied, and then, with her sails setting like plaster, the stately yacht sped homeward before the following wind like a scared deer.

The fleet remained to salute the Shamrock as she rounded, and then, with a jingle of bells in the engine rooms, scampered away for the finish line to be in at the death.

In setting her balloon jib the Shamrock encountered another piece of bad luck. The topsail would not break out and hung for some minutes like a limp rag. When both had been squared away for home it was seen that Reliance was making a runaway race of it. With her crew aft to keep her head up she skimmed along the surface of the water like a gull with outstretched pinions, leaving the Shamrock farther and farther astern. The pace was so fast that many of the tugs and not a few of the steam yachts were left behind.

The scene at the finish was soul-stirring. Under her towering cloud of canvas, rolling rhythmically in the swell, the Reliance bounded across the viewless finish like a queen. The excursion boats gathered there fairly awakened the echoes with the terrific din which they let loose. Such pandemonium can only be heard when an American yacht is victorious in a race.

The following is the official summary of the race:

	Start	Finish
Reliance	11.45.21	3.32.17
Shamrock	11.45.17	3.41.17

SHAMROCK REMEASURED

No Change in Time Allowance of One Minute and Fifty-seven Seconds.

New York, Aug. 25.—After having removed 1100 pounds of ballast and taken on board a cable and anchor weighing that much, the Shamrock III was remeasured in a dry dock in Erie Basin. The net result was that there was no change in the time allowance of 1 minute and 57 seconds, which the Reliance is compelled to give her. The challenger was just three one-hundredths of a foot shorter than before the change, and that difference was not sufficient to make a second's increase or decrease in her time allowance. Her load water line length is now 98.78 feet and her racing length 104.315.

Letter to Joseph Bowe
Middleburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: You naturally want to make your own and your country's money go as far as possible in the general interest, we know why fewer gallons of Devco and Zinc will paint a house mixed paints.

Let's suppose you are using lead and oil. Instead of using lead oil you put in four-fifths white lime, water, and other stuff doesn't paint at all. Put against a gallon of lead and oil what will it do? One fifth as much.

How much of your labor is saved? Four-fifth. How good will it make? No comparison. How much good will it do to your business to turn out such paint?

And so on. Devco Lead and Zinc paint houses with fewer gallons than lead and oil.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & SONS
