Scanned.
 "Didn't you once say that your wife was the making of you?"
 "Only once," answered the Meekton.
 "Henrietta heard it and she was very unkind and unjust to blame her in that manner."—Washington Star.

New a Well-to-do.
 Her past discouraged suitors. Though her past held nothing wrong. It scared away each suitor because it was so true.
 —Catholic Standard and Times

ADDICTED TO THE HABIT.

Old Gent—Don't you know that I'm a very bad habit?
 Young—I know it, but I don't care for you to break yourself of it, but I'll give you. —Aly Daily

Generosity.
 The man who says he is generous, but who is not, is a hypocrite. —Washington Star

Peace.
 "Certainly the devil will not object to the shade he once they understand it will."
 One would suppose they'd rather have only the axe to lodge than half a dozen." —Detroit Free Press

Strong Habit.
 Simon—Did your friend Parker succeed in breaking his terrible drink habit?
 Bangs—No, the habit succeeded in breaking him. —Baltimore American Wife.

 Percy—My papa owns a newspaper?
 Jimmie—Dad's a'right! I buy and sell 50 of 'em every day! —N. Y. Times

Know Her Business.
 Mrs. Newed—I would like a pound of your best cheese.
 Grocer—Yes ma'am.
 Mrs. Newed (examining it)—Why, this cheese is full of holes!
 Grocer—Yes ma'am. That's the way it comes.
 Mrs. Newed—Well, I don't want any of it. I'm not going to pay for a pound of cheese that contains a half pound of holes. —Boston Journal

Wants and Wishes.
 "There's a strange man at the door sir," announced the new servant from Boston.
 "What does he want?" asked the master of the house, impatiently.
 "Begging your pardon, sir," replied the servant, in a shade of disapproval manifest in his voice; "he wants a bath, but what he is asking for is something to eat." —Byronia Herald

PROVERBS

"When the butter won't come out a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

It is not a little amusing to note a sentiment at Plymouth, Mass., opposed Plymouth Rock of Plymouth rock and the fact. to St. Louis during the world's fair. Plans are now being made to bring this much desired project to success and millions of thrilled Americans may vibrate between Liberty bell and Plymouth rock, if old Plymouth, guardian of this sacred granite relic, will consent. Plymouth, observes the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, should pause to reflect that the "rock" is an inheritance of every one of the 50,000,000 Americans that now throng this great land, and that each one of them feels as profound a sense of ownership in it as the people of Plymouth. Upon it, in the person of Mary Chilton that illustrious Puritanism that has marked its imprint on our lives and customs from one ocean to the other, first set foot. It is the rock of our liberties. Through it we have not for some all things we have achieved. It was the starting place on which Great Britain's power was broken in 1776. It represents in the plain case of liberty as the Liberty bell does in the case of independence. It is the rock of our liberties. It is the rock of our liberties. It is the rock of our liberties.

Alfred Incey, of England who recently investigated industrial conditions in America, made this prediction: "Labor and capital must be partners in the best sense. They ought to be at ease with each other. In this regard the work of your Civic Federation is excellent, bringing together as it does the reasonable elements of the two great active factors in production. I think that profit sharing in some form must finally come. There must be a minimum wage for labor with old age pensions, interest on capital, a fund for expansion, another for perpetuation, and a division of the balance between capital and labor. This can be done if it is possible to attain it in the course of time, peacefully."

They don't do now as they used to do says Mark Twain, international poker and burdenifter. Time was when a lecturer appeared in a place to fulfill an engagement he was taken out to a wagon or a sleigh and driven around the town, to the courthouse, the cemetery, and the jail, and to a number of other places that he didn't feel as though he was quite ready for just yet. But nowadays a lecturer goes into a place and out again without much stopping to see things.

Baron von Eicht, an Austrian who has been traveling in this country, is in raptures over his treatment here. "I do not believe," he says, "that such hospitable treatment would be accorded a stranger in any other country in the world. I have sojourned in many lands, but in no other have I been received with such marked courtesy and open-hearted hospitality. My tour of the United States convinces me that the American people in many respects are superior to the inhabitants of all other lands."

A western man, who now resides in New York, resides in court that it costs him $200 a month to live and that he owes $75,000. It has always been said that a westerner can get along in New York if he makes up his mind to.

An attendant at the Chicago zoo and to give medical attention to a puma, and the reporter made a pretty good lion fight out of it, especially the one who had "sapphire glow of its angry eyes" in his rostrary.

A millionaire, 50 times over has just died at Pittsburgh, who wasn't even known to the public at large. One can entertain great respect for a man who is just a plain millionaire on the quiet.

The happiest people are those whose incomes hold their desire within reasonable limits.

Lots of time is wasted by men in looking for somebody who is worse than he is.
