

EVERY LYNCHER IS A MURDERER

Delaware Chief Justice Scores Mob That Burned White.

ASKS FOR THEIR PUNISHMENT

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 21.—The lynching of George White, the negro murderer of Miss Helen Bishop, on June 23 last, formed the text of a special charge to the grand jury of the Newcastle county general sessions court by Chief Justice Lore. After detailing the facts of the lynching, the chief justice said: "No good citizen, we are persuaded, can regard the lynching of George White in any other light than as a brutal crime, and as a flagrant violation of law. The immediate effect of the lynching was deplorable. It involved not only the death of White, but also that of the little Italian boy, who was another victim of the lawless act. For a time the authority of the law was defied, and at one time it looked as if there would be a war of races. The militia were placed under arms.

Gentlemen, in this country we make the laws; they are our will formally expressed. It is the duty of every good man to obey the law himself and to see that it is obeyed by others as far as he may. Lynching is a crime against the law of both God and man. Every man who takes part in such an act is a murderer. No man has a right to commit that crime because he believes or fears that some other person who is entrusted with the execution of the law will fail, or has failed in the performance of his duty. I can conceive of no more dangerous social or civic condition than mob rule. The mob in its madness makes no distinction in the subject of its wrath. Its excess may be a brutal crime, or it may be a difference in religious or political sentiment, or any other fancy or whim that the caprice, humor or passion of the moment may suggest. Recklessly human life is taken, property is destroyed and law and order overthrown. In such scenes the innocent suffers alike with the guilty. Pain and devastation mark the track of the mob. There is no rule or reason in the onslaught of the mad-dog masses. There is no gauge by which the ravages of a mob may be measured.

"Once admit that the law may be defied with impunity, there is an end of civil government. There is no room for both mob law and tribunals of justice in self-governing communities. The domination of one involves the extinction of the other. Either the mob must submit to the law or the law must submit to the will of the mob.

"There must be government or no government. The line of cleavage is clear. On the one hand we have liberty regulated by law, with fixed rules and established tribunals for the preservation of life, liberty and property; on the other hand we have anarchy and social chaos with no rule or guide, save the feeble will of enraged men, who in lawless wrath recklessly and indiscriminately sweep away every barrier of safety in civic, social and political life. On the one hand is law, order and security; on the other is lawlessness, disorder and ruin, in which no interest is safe and in which no one can predict what a day may bring forth.

"Gentlemen, you are every one of you conservators of the peace. It is not only your duty to act fearlessly and honestly upon all such matters as may be laid before you on the part of the state, but it is your duty to impart to the attorney general and to your fellow-members all such knowledge as may have come to you touching the violation of the law within your jurisdiction.

In obedience to your oath and to your duty to your state, we ask you to so act that the crime of lynching may be suppressed in this state, so far as by your action that end may be attained, and that the perpetrators of this crime and the authors of the distress that has come upon us through their crime will be dealt with according to their just merits."

No indictments in the lynching case have yet been returned.

Miner Shot at Wife and Son. Scranton, Pa., Sept. 22.—When John O'Hara, of North Scranton, returned from the mines and learned that his 18-year-old son had lost his job, he began abusing the lad and also his wife for taking the lad's part. Thereupon the father ran upstairs for a shotgun, and returning, fired away at his wife and son as they were running out of the yard. The wife received 38 buckshot in the back and hip, and the boy had his arm and leg lacerated with stray shot. The wife is in a critical condition. O'Hara was arrested as he was running away. He said he was sorry he had not killed both of them.

BULGARIA HONORS U. S. MINISTER

Prince Ferdinand Gave Dinner Party to Our First Representative.

THE MACEDONIAN SITUATION

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 21.—Prince Ferdinand gave a dinner party at the palace in honor of J. R. Jackson, who presented his credentials as the first American diplomatic agent to Bulgaria. The guests included F. E. H. Elliot, the British diplomatic agent, and the Bulgarian ministers and high officials. Prince Ferdinand proposed the health of President Roosevelt, speaking in English and the court band played a selection of American airs.

Great satisfaction is expressed, not only in official but also commercial circles at America's action in establishing diplomatic relations with Bulgaria. The belief prevails that a great opportunity exists for developing a profitable export and import trade with the Balkan state.

Some apprehension having apparently been created among a misunderstanding regarding the precise meaning of Bulgaria's last note to the powers, explanations have been given to some diplomatic agents here that the memorandum was not intended as an ultimatum, but rather in the nature of an appeal for the intervention of the great powers before that intervention should be too late. The Bulgarian ministry, it was stated, was determined to maintain its attitude of neutrality up to the last moment but it feels the impossibility of standing by indefinitely while the Turks exterminated the Bulgarian element in Macedonia.

The government's position is rendered increasingly difficult by the attitude of the Macedonian population in Bulgaria which, vigorously backed up by the revolutionary committees, is persistently endeavoring to force the government's hand and provoke hostilities with Turkey.

A special despatch from the Ministry of Rila, Bulgaria, says the condition of the Turkish garrison of Melnik, 45 miles northeast of Salonica, is believed to be extremely critical. It is besieged by bands of insurgents under the leadership of Yankoff, Stoyanoff, Darvinghoff and Zoroff, all of whom were formerly Bulgarian officers. The insurgents number 1200, while the garrison is believed to consist of only one battalion. Melnik is a very important strategic point in the mountains commanding the road between Demirhisar and Razlog. The Turks have withdrawn nearly all their forces from the districts of Danauoumla and Razlog.

to Rila (east of the town of Melnik). As a consequence general tranquility prevails throughout the district of Razlog where the authorities, lacking the support of the troops, have ceased their policy of persecution, and the boys are even furnishing hands with food. The Turkish population is described as being in a state of great consternation.

1000 TURKS ANNIHILATED

Macedonian Insurgents Defeat Sultan's Troops at Parin.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 22.—According to fugitives who have arrived at Rila from Droumla, a serious engagement has occurred at Parin, near Melnik, 65 miles from Salonica, in which the Turks are said to have lost 1000 men killed, including two colonels.

Most of the villages in the district of Melnik are in the hands of the insurgents. Many of the villages are in flames.

A special despatch from Rila gives the following details of the fighting at Parin. On the 16th of September 1000 Turkish troops surrounded the village and attacked the bands under Stoyanoff and Reringhoff, who had taken up a position there. The latter were reinforced by the bands commanded by Yankoff and Zontcheff, and the combined insurgent forces turned on the Turks and completely annihilated them. One Turkish commander was captured.

It is reported here that 500 Turks have been killed with dynamite while fighting against a party of insurgents in the Krusna Jotla.

The general impression is that not only a question of a few days and the people are something their prospects from the frontier districts in places of safety.

SCHWAB'S FORTUNE TO BUILD SCHOOLS

Ex-President of Steel Trust Says He Will Emulate Carnegie.

LAUDS INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Weatherly, Pa., Sept. 21.—In presenting the Mrs. Charles M. Schwab school building to this town, Charles M. Schwab, who up to a short time ago was the president of the United States Steel Corporation, said that he intended to emulate the example set by Andrew Carnegie and will give his entire fortune, variously estimated to be from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, for benevolent purposes.

Mr. Carnegie gave the chief library and gave a great builder in the mid-1800s. Mr. Schwab from behind the scenes of the village steel at Weatherly, Pa., and eventually made him the president of the greatest corporation of his world.

Mr. Schwab however, says he will give the fortune he found in industrial education and steel mills which will give education and steel mills will give education and steel mills will give education.

Mr. Schwab in the speech presented the following details of the building at Weatherly. On the 16th of September 1000 Turkish troops surrounded the village and attacked the bands under Stoyanoff and Reringhoff, who had taken up a position there. The latter were reinforced by the bands commanded by Yankoff and Zontcheff, and the combined insurgent forces turned on the Turks and completely annihilated them. One Turkish commander was captured.
