ELEVEN LOST ON SINKING STEAMER

The J. H. Hackley Capsized on Lake Michigan During Squall.

SEVEN ON BOARD WERE SAVED

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 5.—During a squall on Lake Michigan the steamer J. H. Hackley capsized and 11 persons were drowned. The Goodrich line steamer Shebogan rescued the other seven persons on board the Hackley after they had drifted all night in Green Bay, clinging to bits of wreckage and brought them to Fish Creek.

The Hackley was struck by the squall when off Green Island, seven miles from this port. The upper work of the vessel was blown away and the boat then turned over and went down in deep water.

The drowned were: George Leclair, Joseph V. Orus, the captain of the Hackley; Edna Barringer, Lawrence Barringer, Henry Rabitoy, Carl Kelky, Miss Francis Vincent, Miss Vincent's sister, Freeman Thorp, Neils Nelson and Frank Fitzgibbons.

The waves were rolling high and several of those who at first saved themselves from immediate danger lost strength and sank. It was not until early in the morning that the steamer Shebogan sighted the helpless survivors and effected their rescue.

The officers of the Shebogan feel sure that they took aboard every person afloat, but some of the persons who were rescued say that it is possible that one or more of the 11 persons missing may have escaped death. This view is not given much credence by the sailors of the Shebogan.

The Shebogan ran into Fish Creek when hope of rescuing other persons seemed improbable. The rescued persons were so exhausted from their struggle against drowning that they were unable for some time to tell anything about the wreck.

The persons saved say that with the crashing away of the upper works all persons aboard the Hackley ran on deck. As they made preparations for a plunge into the water the boat listed, turned over and went down like a rock. Search is still being made for any person who may have escaped death.

Letter to Steninger Bros., Middleburg, Pa.

Dear Sirs: We suspect you'd like the tale, how a woman beat two hardware dealers in Girard, Pa.

We tried our best to get these men to sell Devoe lead-and-zinc in that bright town; and failed. Reluctantly took Mrs. E. R. Bowman, druggist.

They said they couldn't sell paint for more than $1.25 a gallon.

Mrs. Bowman can. She has sold about all the paint, that has been sold there since.

She knew Devoe; had sold our artists materials. Had some sense and force, besides; she easily learned that cheap is dear in paint, and told the people. Mr. Burt Young bought a gallon Devoe for rooms that had always taken a gallon; had half left.

Mr. E. H. Hiler, jeweler, painted Devoe, and says it goes further—no particulars.

Mr. John Hanna, grocer, thought it expensive before he bought it; brought back nearly half of his paint and said it was the cheapest job he ever had. Mrs. Bowman reports universal satisfaction. So much for a cheap-paint town with a bright woman in it.

Yours truly,

F. W. DEVOE & Co.,
New York.

P. S. J. W. Runkle sells our paint.
