Let us hope the story of the boy telegraph operator, who saved a train in Montana by telegraphing the news of and intended hold-up, when the chances were 99 to 1 that he would be killed for doing so, is a true one. If it is, that boy has in him all the stuff that makes him a hero.

Advertise Always.

In business, next to advertising nothing is more necessary than more advertising. The business man must keep himself and his business constantly in the public eye. He can do this only by advertising constantly and convincingly, and there is no medium that can compare with the weekly newspaper.

A mission is liable to swamp a magazine. So much zeal is developed that the real function of the publication, which is to entertain, is forgotten. Into this excess EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE, which has recently undertaken a crusade against the idolatry-of-riches habit in America, is obviously not to be led. The November contents-table makes a most inviting showing, presenting as it does stories and sketches by such amusing writers as Alfred Henry Lewis, O. Henry and Eugene Wood. There is no intrusion of a policy at all, and the reader is likely to find himself in the midst of Francis Bellamy's article about "Successful Men Who Are Not Rich" without dreaming that there is a serious moral to it. Mr. Bellamy avers that the nation is losing its ideals and that to-day success only means wealth. The millionaire is the modern hero. The newest creed is, he says: "Brains may be more important than money, but nowadays the best way to convince the world that you have brains, is to make money".

ed by Rev. Haas, Report was accepted. The Reports of the Treasurer, committee on Resolutions and committee on years work were also accepted by Society.

Hon. F. C. Bowetsox of Middleburg, Pa. He suggested many helpful ways to obtain ideal Societies.

To My Fellow Citizens. Having been nominated by the Republicans of Snyder County for the office of Associate Judge at the Primary Election, I most respectfully present my claims to them. There is no question but that I was fairly nominated under the circumstances I feel that I am entitled to the same support that I would have given any one of the other gentlemen who were candidates at the nomination. I pledge myself that if elected to the office of Associate Judge that I will discharge the duties of my office to the best of my ability, without favor or partiality. I find that it is impossible for me to see all the voters in the county before the election and I therefore take this method of requesting the support of my fellow citizens at the approaching election. I have the Honor to Remain Yours Truly J. FRANK KELLER.

PEDDLER BLOWN TO PIECES

Supposed Harmless Can Causes an Awful Tragedy. Butler, Pa., Oct. 24.—William Marks was instantly killed and Patrick Hardy fatally injured here by an explosion of nitro-glycerine. The men were peddlers of small notions and had camped in the woods near here. They found an empty can which they supposed had contained maple syrup from the small bit of sticky substance adhering to the top. Marks sat down with the can between his knees and commenced to cut out the top so as to transform it into a water vessel. The small portion of the nitro-glycerine at once exploded, and Marks' head, hands and feet were blown off and his body dismembered. Hardy, who was standing close by, had his eyes blown out and the bones in his arms and legs shattered in a dozen places. He died several hours later.

RYAN TO BE A CARDINAL Archbishop of Philadelphia to Be Elevated to Sacred College. Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—The Right Rev. Patrick John Ryan, archbishop of Philadelphia, is to be made a cardinal by Pope Pius X. Official announcement of the high honor to be conferred upon the archbishop, as one of the foremost men in the Catholic church in America, will be made at the next public consistory in Rome. The fact that he is to be elevated to membership in the Sacred College is already known to Archbishop Ryan and to several of the dignitaries of the archdiocese. Until formal announcement is made in Rome, however, the archbishop and his official family will be forced to assert ignorance of any such intentions on the part of the pope. The news was brought to this country by Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, when he returned from Rome, where he had gone to participate in the election of a Pope Leo XIII. To Cardinal Gibbons, it is due the honor to be elevated to the rank of cardinal. Ryan is the youngest of the American cardinals. He is the only one of the church in America who has not only been elevated to the rank of cardinal in the United States, but who has also been elevated to the rank of cardinal in the United States. Gibbons not only enthusiastically declared that he favored the elevation of Ryan, but he also brought the news of Ryan's elevation to the attention of his holiness. Pope Leo XIII.
