ORDER of GENERAL MCCLELLAN ON the EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.

THE RELATIONS BETWEEN THE CIVIL AND MIL-

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, CAMP NEAR SHARPSBURG, Md., Oct, 7. GENERAL ORDER 163,

The attention of the officers and soldiers of the Army of the Potomac is called to General Orders No. 139, War Department, Sept. 24th, 1852, publishing to the army the President's proclamation of Sept. 22d. A proclamation of such grave moment to the nation officially communicated to the army, affords to the eral Commanding an opportunity of defineciffcally to the officers and soldiers the ation borne by all persons in the military service of the United States towards the civil authorities of the Government.

The Constitution confides to the civil authorities, legislative, judicial and executive, the power and duty of making, expounding, and executing the federal laws. Armed forces are raised and supported simply to sustain the civil authorities, and are to be held in strict subordination thereto in all respects. This fundamental rule of our political system is essential to the security of our republican institutions, and should be thoroughly understood and observed by every soldier.

The principles upon which, and the objects for which armies shall be employed in suppressing the rebellion, must be determined and declared by the civil authorities; and the Chief Executive, who is charged with the administration of the national affairs, is the proper and only source through which the views and orders of the Government can be made known to the arimes of the nation.

Discussion by officers and soldiers concerning public measures determined upon and declared by the Government, when carried at all beyond the ordinary temperate and respectful expression of opinion, tend greatly to impair and de-troy the discipline and efficiency of troops by substituting the spirit of political action for that firm, steady, and earnest support of the authority of the Government, which is the highest duty of the American soldier. The remedy for polititical errors, if any are committed, is to be found only in the action of the people at the polls.

In thus calling the attention of this army to the true position between the soldiers and the government, the General Commanding merely adverts to an evil against which it has been thought advisable during our whole history to guard the armies of the Republic, and in so doing, he will be considered by every right minded person as casting no reflection upon that loyalty, and good conduct which has been so fully illustrated upon so many battle-fields. In carrying out all measures of public policy this army will of course be guided by the same rules of mercy and Christianity that have ever controlled its duct toward the defenceless.

By Command of Major General McClellan. JAMES A. HARDEN,

WHERE ARE THE ARMED ME

Greeley, Andrew, Blair, of Michigan, and other Abolitionists, promised the President a Million of Men if he would issue his Emanci pation Proclamation. In vain did Lincoln protest -- in vain did he cite the stories of the Pope who issued a Bull against the Comet, and the slave who told his master that his calling a pig's tail a leg, would not make it so. He was assured that if he would but spread his edict before the People, armed men would spring out of the earth at the stamp of his foot.

The Proclamation has been issued, and where are the Abolition Warriors ?- Presi dent Lincoln, alas! "but can't see them ;"but on the other hand, the Confederate Conthe Proclamation at a Magic Wand with which to strike new enthusiasm into the hearts of their people. They need something to revive their drooping spirits, and it is supplied to them by this Emancipation programme. It has kindled a new fire in the South, and its effect will soon be apparant in the swelling of the Rebel ranks, and the increased desperation with which they will rush to the conflict.

OLD ABE'S LAST. - Somebody -- some inquisitive Yankee, likely as' not-asked the President "What number of men have the enemy in the field ?" Old Abe looked serious, and replied, "Twelve hundred thousand, according to the best autherity." The interrogater blanched in the face and ejaculated "My God!" The President continued:-"Yes, sir, twelve hundred thousand menno doubt of it. You see, al! of our generals, when they get whipped, say the enemy outnumbered them from three to five to one, and I must believe them. We have four hundred thousand men in the field; three times four make twelve. Don't you see it ?" "Can't see it !" said the bore, as he bright- ebriate as he rolled along the pavement, " ened up and started for his hat.

The negro is now bet er than the white trash. No taxes to pay -no musket to shoulder -no caucases to attend -no risk of life to run-no politics to trouble them .-They are now the happy sons of earth, and we poor white nonsense can fight for them out of repair." and pay taxes for a hundred years on their account. A white man is not as good as a negro now !

We have too many generals in this war. If we are not out-generaled we are over generaled.

Mise and Otherwise.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.

In Lowell, at a lecture a few evenings since, gentleman, the most modest man of his sex, and no less polite than modest, was sitting in a pew rather remote from the light. A pretty lady sat next to him. Looking on the floor during the lecture, he espied what he thought was the lady's handkerchief, the lace trimmed edge just visible from under her dress. Turning to his pew-mate, he gallantly whispered, "You've dropped your handkerchief madam !" and before she could rehad seized the edge of her pet-skirt, and did not discover his mistake until the top of a gaiter boot stared him in the face, and the faint sound of a laugh, just nipped in the bud by the application of a red handkerchief, warned him of his mistake.

Moral-Don't attempt to pick up anything with lace to it before you know what it is.

RUSTIC SIMPLICITY.

A young lady in one of our "rural districts" was once escorted home from an evening party by a young man to whom she was not particularly partial. On taking his leave he remarked :- "I guess Ill come and see you next Sunday night," "Well, Bill Smith," replied the lady, "you can come as a friend, but not as a 'feller.' " Bill didn't go either

A good story is told of a rustic youth and a country girl, who sat facing each other at a husking party. The youth, smitten with the beautiful maiden, only ventured his sly looks, and then touching Patty's foot under the table. The girl determining to make the youth express what he appeared so warmly to feel, bore with these advances a little while in silence, when she cried out .- "Look here, if you love me, why don't you say so; but don't dirty my new stockings."

AN EDITOR.

If an editor omits anything, he is lazy. If he speaks of things as they are, people get angry. If he glosses over or smooths down the points, he is bribed. If he calls things by their proper names, he is unfit for the position of an editor. If he does not furnish his readers with jokes, he is a mullet. If he does, he is a rattlehead, lacking stability .-If he condemns the wrong, he is a good fellow, but lacks discretion. If he lets wrongs and injuries go unmentioned, he is a coward. If he exposes a public man, he does it to gratify spite-is the tool of a clique, or belongs to the "outs." If he indulges in personalities he is a blackguard; if he does not, his paper is dull and insipid.

THE BASHFUL MAN.

Doesticks thus describes a bashful young man. "First calls—bell rings—enter bash. ON and after Monday, November 25th 1861, Training of the country will run as follows: ful young man-evidently his first attempt at a fashionable visit-came in with his hat Lieut. Colonel, Aid de-Camp, and A. A. A. G. in his hand-put it behind him to make a bow-dropped it-tried to pick it up-stepped in it-put his foot through it-fell over it-and, in his frantic struggles to recover himself, bursts his coat, fractures his pantaloons, untied his cravat, demolished his shirt collar, and was finally borne to the hall by his sympathizing friends, minus his patent moustaehe, one half of which was found in Laura Matilda's scrap book, and the rest discovered in a coal scuttle."

THE BOY'S SPEECH.

Neighbor Smith had a party at his residence a few evenings since, and the "dear boy" Charles, a five-year-old, was favored with permission to be seen in the parlor .--"Pa" is somewhat proud of his boy, and Charles was, of course, elaborately got up for gress and the papers of the South are using so great an occasion. Among other extras, the little fellow's hair was treated to a liberal supply of Eau de Cologne, to his huge glorification. As he entered the parlor and made his bow to the ladies and gentlemen : "Look here," said he proudly, "if any of you smells a smell, that's me!" The effect was decided, and Charles became the hero of the evening.

THE MISSILES AT ANTIETAM.

I have been credibly informed that broken railroad iron and blacksmiths' tools, hammers, chisels, &c., were fired at us from rebel cannon. Some of these missiles made a peculiar noise, resembling "which away, which away," by which our men came to distinguish them from regular shot and shell, and as they heard them approaching, would cry "turkey! turkey coming !" and fall flat to avoid them. An artillerist, a German, when he saw the tools falling around him, exclaimed, "My Got!" we shall have the blacksmith's shop to come next!"

THE WHEEL .- "Darn me, if I dont believe the world's a wheelbarrow," said a jolly inand I'm the wheel revolving on the haxes .-Now I'm in the mud, " said he as he fell Le headlong in the gutter," and now I'm on dry land," as he fetched up on the curbstone .-His concluding remark, as his boots followed his head down an open celler way was, " now the wheel is broken and the vehicle is

In my time, miss," said a stern aunt," the men looked at the women's faces instead of their ancles." "Ah! my dear aunt," retorted the young lady, " you see the world has improved, and is more civilized than it used to be. It looks more to the understanding."

Prentice says : " A chap sometimes comes in our office and sits hour after hour without telling one word of truth during the whole time. He can outsit a hen, outlie the devil." He must be one of the telegraph reporters for the Associated Press

AYER'S

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A

FAMILY PHYSIC

There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as sure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a physical pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient hitherto that almost every purgative medich. Is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of them produce so mach griping pain and revulsion in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation or pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity; but it is better that any medicine should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Listlessness, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Billous Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Loins; for, in truth, all these are but the consequence of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient they afford prompt and sure relief in Costiveness, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Humors, Scrotula and Scurvy, Colds with soreness of the body, Ulcers and impurity of the blood, Irregularities; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required.

They have also produced some singularly suecessful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the

They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel. Erysipelas, Palpitation of the Heart, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, eventhough no serious derangement exists: but unthence an occasional dose is advantageous, event though no serious derangement exists; but un-necessary dosing should never be carried too far-as every purgative medicine reduces the strength, when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physic is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed this pill will body; and it is confidently believed this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine. Being sugar-wrapped, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see wrapper on the By.

This remedy has won for itself such notoriety from its cures of every variety of pulmonary disease, that it is entirely unnecessary to recount the evidences of its virtues in any community where it has been employed. So wide is the field of its usefulness, and so kar first the cases of its cures, that almost every for of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too appa observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate.
