Lieut. Col. Sides, late Capt Sides of the 57th Vol., made our town a short visit last week .-Sides has remained at his post more faithfully most of the officers connected wi h the army. has never, we believe, left the regiment, since ing the service, except during a short illness .is in excelent health and reports his men as also good health. He is proud of, and devotedly athed to the men in his Regt., and judging from hat we have heard, the attachment is reciprocal. 4.5

Coal which has now become the principal article fuel in this county, has advanced at least fifty per nt in price. The impost duties, high price of ladestruction of the canals last summer, increased and for use of government the are among the PUMPS, ZINC, LEAD PIPE, JAPANNED AND ons assigned for this advance. It would be enely out of fashion for it, or indeed anything expt what the farmer produces, to be sold at the old ce. The "change" about which the Black Reublicans have so long preached is now beginning to realized by the people. Very little change, exept a change for the worse is now telt in their pick-

Poor Tiffaty's this week close their "high career." They go out like an expiring tallow candle, noking, fuming, spitting, sputtering in the socket and running down. The untimely end of these animals, is attributed by their friends to various causes; which are: wandering "in the woods" too long, hankering" after venison too strong; paying taxes too 'hefty;" telling lies about them, too freely; getting in too close proximity to bo t toes, all of which taken in connection with a chronic affliction which has followed them from the cradle to Babyhood, to wit: an over dose of natural tool-on-thebrain, has completely prostrated these poor little tive "woods." Amorvin Bacon, a soldier who has been for four months confined in the army hospital at Harris burg, was brought home last week, by his brother S. D. Bacon of Eaton, in such an enfeebled con lition that it was necessary to earry him from Pittston a distance of twenty miles, on a streatcher or cotbed, by hand This task was performed by S. D. Bacon and another brother of the patient with three other men, in about ten hours, including stoppages for rest and delays. He is represented as in a truly terrible condition, having so long lain in bed that he is covered with sores so that the slightest jar gives him intense pain. His disease was originally one of MITCHELL -- At Perryville, Ky., October 8th 1862, Sergeant WILLIAM P. MITCHELL, of the 10th Regt., Wi sconsinVol., in the 34th year of his age.

Obituary. Sergeant Mitchell was the youngest son of Mr. The Mitchell, of Eaton Township in Wyoming Co.

He removed to the new and thriving state of Wisconsin, several years ago; and where he has since rest led, until the breaking out of the rebellion .-About a year ago he volunteered in the service of his country, in a company of joung men whose ap pearance elicited the praise and admiration of all who saw them, all being young, stalwart men whose average height was six feet; it was the favorite company of Wisconsin.

They went forth to defend their government against a wicked rebellion, and in the bloody battle at Perryville he fell, whilst bravely fighting against the enemies of free government.

His faneral sermon will be preached at the brick church in Eaton, on Sunday, Dec. 7th, at 11 o'clock A. M., when and where his friends, and all others, though they be strangers, are invited to attend.
