TOBACCO--PREPATATINOS of SEED-BEDS.

It being necessary to commence the preparation for the crop as soon as the ground can be worked, we give a few directions for the seed bed. It is better to prepare the plot in the preceding Fall, but where that has not been done, the bed should be made ready as early as possible. A sheltered locality, where the cold winds are broken by woods or some other protection objects, and having a good exposure to the sun, should be chosen. The ground should be made rich with plenty of hog manure, well spaded in; and then, just before planting, it should be covered with brush, which is to be burned on it. The burning of the brush serves to destroy the seed of weeds, and furnishes a dressing of ashes, which is beneficial to the young plants. The time of sowing will depend upon the season and latitude; from the first to the middle of April being the time for Connecticut. About a square rod of ground is allowed for the seed-bed for an acre. It would be better to lay this out in strips of about three feet in width, so as to allow the weeding to be done, without trampling on the bed. If the seed is good, a very small quantity will furnish plants for an acre, but it is best to have an abundance. A tablespoonful, well mixed with a pint of ashes or soil before sowing, will be plenty. The bed being thoroughly raked, the seed is sown, and the earth either rolled, or pressed down by a plank. When the sowing is made late, the seed is sometimes sprouted by moistening it, and covering with a damp cloth, and keeping it in a warm place. It takes about three weeks for the seed to germinate, and when it comes up, the plant is exceedingly minute. If the bed becomes dry, it should be watered with blood-warm water. The choice of varieties should be governed somewhat by the experience of others in the neighborhood, there being many local sorts, which are considered best adapted to certain districts. The leading varieties in the market are: the Connecticut Seed Leaf—valued as wrappers to cigars—the Kentucky, Maryland, Ohio and Havana.—American Agriculturist.

HEN HOUSES.

Some time ago, I noticed in your paper, an inquiry concerning the proper construction of a "Hen House." I have waited to see if some one would not offer you something better than that which I have adopted. As nothing comes, I will, with your permission, present my plan to your readers.

Two years ago I put up a building of gravel brick, which you must know are composed of a mixture of gravel and lime, and moulded into blocks as large as six or eight common bricks, and allowed to dry in the sun for some weeks before being laid. The house is 20 by 12 on the ground, and to the eaves about 10 feet high. We divide it into two equal parts, for a smoke-house in one end, and the other for the accommodation of the poultry. Of course, the partition wall is entirely tight. As the roof is of common cedar shingles, it was necessary to plaster overhead to make it fire-proof. The floor is in one piece, of the same cement as the wall.

Thus you have the domicile. Now for the management and its advantages. Once a week, early in the morning, while the dew is yet upon the grass, if the weather be dry, it is thoroughly burned out and purified of all foul things. This is done by gathering the litter of the nests and the sweepings from the floor to the latter, on which pile is thrown an armful of straw or shavings, with a couple of spoonsful of sulphur. The windows are next closed on the inside with sheet-iron coverings. The fire is kindled, the door is shut, and the work of purification is continued for half an hour. Now, when the fire has been extinguished, what remains upon the floor is gathered into barrel and shovel to one side, where it is kept dry from the weather, as a valuable fertilizer, till needed for the field or garden. Thus is collected six or eight barrels per year of this home-made guano, which we think worth more than twice the interest of the cost of the entire building.

The whole expense of both hen and smoke house was less than one hundred dollars.—You will perceive that by upsetting and burning the nests weekly there is no chance for setting hens. You must therefore find other quarters for them and the little chickens, which is better for all. In the roost are accommodated about eighty hens and cocks, which are happy and healthy, and which supply us with an abundance of eggs the year round. R. C. H.

REMARKS.—To the hundreds of persons who complain that they have no success in keeping chickens, and that they are many times over more trouble than profit, we commend our correspondent's method of keeping his hennery in a perfect state of cleanliness and healthfulness. One thing may be relied on, that without a clean and healthy henhouse, success in raising chickens and obtaining plenty of eggs can never be attained. —Germantown Telegraph.

CAUTIONS IN VISITING SICK ROOMS.—Do not venture into a sick room if you are in a violent perspiration; for the moment your body becomes cold, it is in a state likely to absorb the infection; nor visit a sick person, (if the complaint be of a contagious nature,) with an empty stomach, nor swallow your saliva. In attending a sick person, place yourself where the air passes from the door or window, to the bed of the invalid, not between the invalid and the fire, as the heat of the fire will draw the infectious vapor in that direction, and you would run much danger from breathing in it.

Wise and Otherwise.

SCOTCH ARGUMENT FOR MARRIAGE.

Jennie is poor, and I am poor,
Yet we will wed—so say no more;
And should the bairnies to us come—
As few that wed but do have some—
No doubt but heaven will stand our friend,
And bread, as well as children send;
So fares the hen in farmers yard,
To live alone she finds it hard—
I've known her weary every claw
In search of corn among the straw;
But when in search of nicer food,
She clucks among her chirping brood;
With joy we see the self-same hen,
That scratched for one could scratch for ten.
These are the thoughts that make me willing.
To take my girl without a shilling,
And for the self-same cause you see,
Jennie's resolved to marry me.

AYER'S PILLS,

A NEW and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c. &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides, it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing any thing hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the many eminent gentlemen who have testified in favor of these Pills, we may mention—

Prof. J. M. LOCKE, Analytical Chemist, of Cincinnati, whose high professional character is endorsed by JOHN MCLEAN, Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States.

THOS. CORWIN, Secretary of the Treasury

Hon. J. M. WRIGHT, Governor of Indiana.

N. LONGWORTH, great wine grower of the West

Also, DR. J. R. CHILTON, Practical Chemist, of New York City, endorsed by

Hon. W. L. MARCY, Secretary of State.

WM. B. ASTOR, the richest man in America.

S. LELAND & Co., Propr's of the Metropolitan Hotel, and many others.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred certificates, from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the experience of eminent public men is found in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effects should prove, as they have proved, more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formulæ by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If, however, there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly forwarded by mail to his request.

Of all the Patent Medicines that are offered, but few would be taken if their composition was known. Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge of the subject freely acknowledge their convictions of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Many eminent Physicians have declared the same thing of my Pills, and even more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized by their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Being sugar-wrapped, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see wrapper on the Box.
