16. Be present with your hands as much as possible, otherwise little work will be done, and that poorly. No business requires the master's oversight more than farming.

17. Cultivate a little, well, rather than much, About forty years after that, on the same day, an old poorly. Who does not remember the story of a far- cat had nine turkey goldlers; a high wind blew Yanmer who hal two daughters? When the first one married, he gave her one-third of his vineyard, and yet he had as many grapes as formerly ; when the second married, she took half the remainder for her portion, and yet the yield of the father's share was not lessened.

18. Keep ahead of your work, or your work will keep ahead of you.

19. Resolve that your farm shall be a profitable one, if industry and good management will make it 80.

20. Invest your surplus earnings in making such improvements as will add to the profit, appearance and convenience of your farm. 21. When you make experiments, see that you keep within the laws of nature. These are the farmer's helps; make such experiments as oppear to be reasonable, no matter what your neighbors say. 22. Be kind to those whom you employ, and to all the animals you work. 23. Sell your produce when prices are high, and If you do not need the money, keep it when they are very low, unless it is certain they will remain so.

24. Make yourself thoroughly acquainted with the principles of agriculture, and be guided by them. 25. Perform all labor at the right season.

26. Do all jobs in the best manner.

Billings is now in Poughkeepsie, and gives to the press of that city some proverbs and sharp sayings : Im prepared tu sa tu seven of the rich men out of every ten, make the most of your money for it makes the most of yu. Debt is an eal pot, a big hoal where you go in. and a small one where yu kum out. You can tell just what a man will du by hearing him tell wha he dil. Man was created a little tower than the Angells, and he has been gitting a little lower ever since.
