

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Wanted, on subscription, at this office, Wheat, Corn, Rye, Oats, Buckwheat and grain of all kinds. Also, corn in the ear, hay, straw, good winter apples, potatoes, butter, lard, cheese and produce of most all kinds. Money never refused.

We must have Money.—If our delinquent subscribers do not take the hint, we shall run them next week.

Removed.—Mr. Jacob DeWitt, former law partner of R. R. Little Esq. of this Borough, has removed to Towanda, where he has opened an office with John C. Adams Esq. of that Borough. We wish our friend Jake abundant success in his new field of operations.

Tin-ware and Stoves can now be procured at the most reasonable rates, of Mr. O. S. Mills, who has exclusive charge of the Tin Shop, on Warren St. in this town. Mr. Mills being a practical workman, in this line, anything in the way of repairs will be promptly and neatly done. His advertisement will appear in our next.

The Lady's Book.—When we say "Lady's Book," we always mean Godey's, for November, is at hand. The time for our fair friends to make up their minds for the next volume is also at hand. The publishers offer the work for 1864, at the old reduced club rates, which are as follows:

One copy one year $3. Two copies, $5. Three copies, $6. Four copies, $7. Five copies, $8. An extra one to get up of club, $10. Eight copies, and an extra one to get up of club $15. Eleven copies and an extra one to get up of club, $20. Cash in advance, in all cases.

No Lady who really desires the Book—(and we know all Ladies do) can complain of these prices, when they see and appreciate the elaborately finished engravings, the vast amount of interesting and instructive reading matter and what a useful and beautiful book it makes, when bound, at the end of the year!

Address, post-paid,
L. A. GODEY,
323 Chestnut St., Phila.

All's well, that ends well.—For years, and indeed ever since the first settlement of our town, it has been thought almost as impossible to get water on "Gravel Hill"—geographically so-called—by digging, as to get it in the middle of the desert of Zarah. An attempt to do so, we believe, was once made by Major Slocum, one of the first settlers, but from the loose and gravelly nature of the soil through which he had to dig and the difficulties he experienced in curbing, to keep it out, the project proved a failure. The idea of getting water from wells, on Gravel Hill, from that day to this, has been considered visionary. Mr. James Young, a resident of that parched and thirsty region, took a different view of the matter; and like the Immortal Sam Patch—or somebody else—thought "some things could be done as well as others." With a man of his energy and will, to think, is to act. He commenced digging, and by a plan of curbing, peculiarly his own, descended rapidly into the bosom of his mother earth. At a depth of upwards of forty feet, he struck a stratum of quick sand with water. As this furnished only a very insecure foundation for a wall, he determined to go through it, which he did, by means of a sliding curb. His well is now about fifty feet in depth, and contains six or eight feet of good pure water. His neighbors who deemed his project a foolish and unprofitable one, are now more free to help him drink his water, than they were to help him dig his well.

Obituary.—Masonic.

At a regular Communication of Westbrook Lodge, No. 323, the following Preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God, to remove our worthy Bro. James Tutton from this transitory existence, and Whereas, the records of this Lodge, show the remarkable fact, that from its installation in Feb. 1854, to the time when he was prostrated by the disease which so suddenly terminated in death, a space of more than 9 years, he was never absent from his post as Sec't of this Lodge at any regular or special Communication, except on one occasion, and Whereas, our departed brother, by his faithful performance of his every duty as an officer of this Lodge, and by his blameless life and the kindness of his heart had gained the respect and esteem of his fellows. Therefore

Resolved, That in his death this Lodge has lost an eminently faithful and efficient officer, and that Fraternity a worthy and exemplary member, and that although "The place that knew him shall know him no more," yet that "the memory of a Brother is precious and we will write it in our hearts."

Resolved, That our implements be draped in mourning and the usual badge be worn six months.

Resolved, That this preamble and these resolutions be entered at length in our minutes, and a copy forwarded to the son of our deceased brother, our worthy brother, Geo. S. Tutton.

Obituary.

The following obituary notice of Merrit H. Wilson, we find in the Christian Ambassador, which, though received some time since, was accidentally mislaid.

From a long and intimate, personal acquaintance with the deceased, we add our testimony to that of the writer, as to his many virtues. It is as a school-mate and student that we knew him best. As he, he never shirked any task nor neglected any duty. Disdaining all the little tricks of pedantry, he studied for the sake of truth and not for the display of knowledge. As a room and class mate he was honorable, generous and kind. And now, as we look back in memory, to those happy school-boy days, when each was made the confidante of the other—the repository of all his school-boy dreams, of his hopes and fears for the unrelieved future; we can but sigh with regret that to him, life has been so short; that just when his youthful hopes were blossoming into fruition, he should fall before the scythe of Time; and that in his death, we have lost one of our truest friends and brothers, the profession of his choice, one of its most ardent devotees, and society one of its brightest ornaments.

DIED.—In Factoryville, Wyoming Co. Pa., Aug. 29th, of pulmonary consumption, MERRIT H. WILSON, M. D., aged 28 years, son of Dr. P. and E. Wilson.

In 1855, young Wilson was a student of Central College, N. Y., and Jan. 1st, 1856, received a diploma as a member of the graduating class in Practical and Ornamental Penmanship. On leaving this school he commenced the study of medicine in the office of his father. As a further means of advancement in his chosen profession, in the winter of 1861, he entered the University of Michigan, and beside the usual study of medicine, attended a special course of lectures on the principles of chemistry and mineralogy, at the close of which he received a diploma bearing honorable testimony to his diligence and proficiency. In the fall and winter of 1862, he attended the established course of lectures in Columbia Medical College, City of N. Y., and at the close obtained his diploma as a graduate of the same. He now receives the appointment of resident physician of the Brooklyn City Hospital for one year, and at the close of his term receives a certificate of having performed the duties of his position to the satisfaction of the trustees of that Institution. Having overtaken his mental and physical energies, he is now obliged to return to the parental home in failing health. The insidious disease which terminated his life, having already made fearful ravages upon his constitution. A few months now of waiting and suffering, and the scene closes. He bore his affliction with great patience, and fortitude, and passed calmly and peacefully away to the higher and better life. Parents, brothers and sisters, and numerous friends, lament, that one whose mental and moral endowments fitted him for public usefulness, and for becoming an ornament to his profession, should thus leave them at the early dawn of manhood. But their trust is in that overruling Providence, whose infinite wisdom and mercy can never err, nor ultimately prove unkind. On the 31st ult. the funeral took place, and appropriate religious services were held in the First Baptist Church in this place, with an address by the writer, in the presence of a large and sympathizing congregation; after which there were impressive Masonic ceremonies at the grave, performed by the Lodge of which deceased was a member.
