

The Democrat

HARVEY SICKLER, Editor. TUNKHANNOCK, PA. Wednesday, Nov. 11, 1863.

S. M. Peiters & Co., No. 37 Park Row New York, & 6 State St. Boston, are our Agents for the N. B. Democrat, in those cities, and are authorized to take Advertisements and Subscriptions at our lowest rates.

MATHER & CO., No. 335 Broadway, N. Y., are our Authorized Agents to take Advertisements for this paper, at our published rates.

The absence of the Editor, who has been called to Towanda on business, will be a sufficient excuse to the readers of the Democrat, for the scarcity of editorial reading matter, and other deficiencies in today's paper.—[Cont.]

Our readers will bear in mind that our County Court will be in session in this Borough the coming week. Our delinquent subscribers will then have an excellent opportunity afforded them, to bring or send along their money and produce.

As we have repeatedly stated through our columns, we must have money and you must pay up.

Messrs. I. M. SINGER & Co., of New York, who have been known as enterprising and successful manufacturers of Sewing Machines, dissolved their Co partnership by mutual consent on the first of August last.

INSLEE A. HOPPER, Esq., is the President of the new organization. Mr Hopper is greatly esteemed in commercial circles, and out of them, as a gentleman of ability and reliability, and it is thought that under his able management the new Company will have all the success that can be desired.

What Would we Do. "We are sometimes asked what would be the positive policy of the Democratic party if restored to power?"

"First, they would restore the supremacy of our violated Constitution and laws, and with this entire and absolute liberty of speech, of the press and of the ballot, and the sacred privilege of the habeas corpus."

"They will free the loyal States from the presence of military encampments and of all officers and soldiers physically able to take the field; thus re-enforcing our armies at least one-third."

"They will abolish the system of arbitrary arrests for political sake; they will abolish provost marshals and the entire system of military government in the loyal States."

"They will offer the rebels fair and honorable terms of peace, provided they will ground the weapons of their rebellion and come back to the Union; offering them the Constitution of the United States on the one hand, and a vigorous prosecution of the war on the other."

Are They Loyal? The Governor having issued his proclamation, calling on the good and loyal freemen of this Commonwealth to enlist in the service of the United States, and the quota of the State being only 38,268 we are anxiously waiting to see the number furnished without the unnecessary delay from the ranks of the 259,000 "loyal" rebel crushers who cast their votes for Andrew G. Curtin on the 15th of October, thereby pledging themselves to sustain all the war measures of Mr. Lincoln. They are great war men; do they die or will they go. Arturus Ward expresses their sentiments, "If it comes to war" they "will shed every drop of blood their able bodied relations has got to prosecute the war."

A Draft for Sixty Thousand. The number of men to be drafted from this State, unless her quota shall be filled up by volunteering by the 1st of January, (the prospect of which does not seem very promising at present,) will be about 60,000—that is, her quota of 38,268 volunteers, with the deficit on the last draft added.

There is many a true heart in the North and South, that yearns for the re-establishment of the old government of Washington and Jefferson. But the abolitionists of the one section and the secessionists of the other, are continually telling them that this shall not have.

New York Elections. Albany, Nov. 8.—The Argus of this morning has a telegram from Middletown, Orange Co., stating that Niven, (Dem.), is elected in the ninth Senatorial District over Low, (Rep) by forty-seven majority. This makes the Senate stand eleven Democrats to twenty-one Republicans.

VALUATION.—The Revenue Board of Pennsylvania fixed the value of taxable property in the State at $696,800,000.—Pennsylvania's share of the National debt is $569,000,000! A sorry account!

COMMUNICATIONS.

NICHOLSON, Nov. 4, 1863. Mr. Editor:—I have been vainly looking, during the past week, for the lazy antelope, the floating cob webs, and other indications of Indian Summer—have indulged in many vague fancies to account for its non-appearance—have ever wondered whether "hon. est old Abe" has suspended it, as a military necessity. Indian Summer, to be sure is of no great duration, and only comes to us as a seeming regret for the departed glories of the season of which it is, in a small degree an epitome. When the woods are glowing with autumnal splendor, and the chirping squirrels are gathering their winter stores of brown nuts—when the crisp leaves and dried branches crackle under the footsteps, and the hoarfrost glitters and sparkles in the morning sunlight, reflecting prismatic hues from every bush and tree as the glittering, and pearly drops cling to the brown and golden-hued leaves, it is glorious to bask in the hazy permeating atmosphere of Indian Summer, forgetful of present ills, and living only in the past, melancholy, yet sweet memories of the past.

October has been more than a pleasant month. It has been rich in fruitfulness to the farmer, and beautiful and health-giving to the invalid idler; but the Indian Summer—the last, lingering footsteps of the rosy month, has strangely failed to mark it with its peculiarly grateful presence. October of last year I spent among the paw-paw groves, rocky fastness and wildly beautiful scenery of Harper's Ferry—catching fish in the Potomac and searching the romantic shores of the Shenandoah, for wild grapes and other forage, grateful to the usually hungry stomachs of the blue-coated servants of Uncle Sam. I cannot, in conscience say that my piscatory excursions were always so successful as I could have wished, neither did the grapes and other game always reach camp in sufficient quantities to satisfy the appetites of my messmates remaining there, but they were seasons of enjoyment to me, and afforded many pleasant incidents to enliven the usual monotony of military life.

Dear old, rusty, tumble down Harper's Ferry! Strange how I came to love it—even in its filthy ugliness—and the wild mountain scenery by which it is surrounded. Maryland Heights, London Heights, Bolivar Heights! How familiarly their rocky steep pass before the mental vision now, and what a world of memories are conjured by the reminiscence of just a year past. Burnside, Banks and Sumner were there, with the greater portion of the "Grand Army of the Potomac," and "Little Mac" the ideal of that army was there too. All were fresh from the battle field of Antietam, and every man a veteran hero; at least in his own estimation. How weary of listening to the oft-repeated tale, told around the camp fire, I sometimes became; and how many times out of very weariness, I have wandered alone in the grand old woods, or climbed the rocky fissures which girdled the dashing, noisy Shenandoah.

But I have wandered from my theme, and indulged the inclination to do so at too great length to again resume it. School matters, for this District, are, I am informed, settled for the winter. The building formerly known as the Nicholson Academy is to be, or has been, rented, and a graded school under the supervision of competent teachers, is to be opened soon. This is a step in the right direction. The district schools build a suitable house and thus provide against future contingencies.

The apple trade has been quite brisk, during the past few weeks—fair, picked fruit bringing 50 or 62 1/2 cts. per bushel, with plenty of eager buyers. Mr. James Howe, the principal buyer started for Easton this morning with a hundred barrels of prime fruit. Huge he may realize a handsome profit on his investment. Every other kind of produce is far from being "a drug in the market," prices ranging about the same as last week.

The bridge at Bacon's is not yet completed, and travelers must suffer much inconvenience should a rise of water make fording difficult, if not impossible, as has been the case once already during the past autumn. The scarcity of labor is, I believe, the principal reason for the delay in its completion.

Messrs. Brisbin and Cook, the President and Superintendent of the Railroad, paid this Depot a short visit yesterday—coming up from Scranton on an extra. The object of the visit, if it had any other than a general inspection of the road, has not transpired.—John is known, however, to have more than a passing fancy for horse flesh, where it is properly made up and gives promise of superior speed and the other good qualities which make horses valuable, and it is just possible that Esquire Halstead's blacks may have been the attraction.

Our friend King has returned from his visit to Gotham and the country round about, and resumed his rather onerous duties in the Depot office. He seems not to have lost his old fondness for a joke, with a spice of humor in it, but wears the most abominably homely city cut coat that I have seen for many a long day. Perhaps I may, in time, become accustomed to it, as the ladies did to hoops, and adopt the style and figure at some future day. Who knows?

The military furor has somewhat abated, in this neighborhood, and the few who were willing and anxious to volunteer are now holding themselves off for substitutes. Some have gone already, others are awaiting a rise in prices.

My next I hope to indite you from another locality, less barren in general items of interest than. Until then, adieu. Truly Yours, CLINT

DICTATOR.—The President has caused an order to be read in the Army, threatening the severest punishment for speaking disrespectful of him. When the great Caesar declared himself Dictator in Rome, he did not take such precaution as this.

TOWANDA, PA., Nov. 9, 1863. HARVEY SICKLER, Esq., ED. N. B. DEMOCRAT. DEAR SIR:

Say to our drafted boys in a public manne to report themselves according to notice. The Board will give them a full, fair and candid examination, and make a proper disposition of their cases. Let them banish all fears that political bias will rule against them. Parties having legal grounds for exemption should get competent Counsel to prepare and put their matters in shape which will enable the Board more readily to comprehend the claim relied upon, and they will obtain a decision in accordance with the merits of the case presented. Fairness and justice has so far prevailed in all cases, that I most cheerfully bear testimony to the impartiality and efficiency of the Board.

Capt. Manville, the provost marshal enjoys the reputation of candor and honesty, he aims to do right. M. C. Grier the Commissioner, Examines a witness in a legal like way, and as his voice rings out you would be reminded of Judge Grier of the U. S. Court, whose brother he is. The name of Grier has done honor to the bench, has graced the bar, and elevated the cause of religion from the pulpit. A name thus honored, will not be tarnished by unfair action now. If any error should occur, it will be on the side of mercy. Dr. Baker, the Surgeon, is a gentleman to meet; he is said to be well qualified for the position assigned him—if any one doubt let them make inquiry of Dr. J. C. Becker of our Borough, who has been treated with marked consideration by the gentlemen composing the Board.

The action of the Board justifies me in making this statement. I do so the more willingly for the reason, that whilst we differ in politics, we do not in what pertains to the duties of their high position, holding as it were, the lives of men in their hands—the happiness, or misery, of wives and children, being at their control.

Let no man's name in Wyoming County be Recorded and underscored Deserter. Infamy must attach to all such cases that time will not efface. So far our sons have responded most nobly, let them continue to do so.

Yours Truly, WM. M. PIATT

Written For The Democrat Christianity vs. the Negro.

Negro equality rules the hour; threatening clouds hang over us; the land is draped in mourning; the judgments of God are falling heavily upon us, but still the preachers seem intent upon nothing so much as to break down the constitution and free the negro. It is fearful to witness the imroads which this accursed doctrine is making upon christianity. There appears to be an active competition between the preachers and the imbecile abolition leaders as to which shall furnish for this unsanctified purpose, this unholy negro war, the greatest amount of fuel. The contest is still doubtful, in abuse and lies and slandering of respectable citizens, the preachers may justly claim the victory; but let us if the abolition and sectional leaders can vie scandal with the so called "work of worship. In meanness the preachers clearly have the precedence. Brotherly fellowship is measured by the amount of negro equality you possess instead of earnest effort to offer acceptable worship to God. The services are evidently intended to stir up political strife and advance the abolition cause. Sermons are carefully written and studied for this purpose; the avowed design being to keep the people under the influence of the gospel. An abolition sermon, or a political one, is preached weekly, and in all the sermons and prayers for old Abe and the Cabinet, there is not a breath in the Holy-ghost—christians never mistake such a breath—all of this is done to revive the lagging interests, not of religion, nor for the furtherance of Christ's cause, but for the nigger.

We object to those expedients under the pretence of promoting Christ's cause. They are directly contrary to all the examples given us by Christ and his Apostles. Never had christianity such formidable obstacles to encounter as at the present day; gaz and may gag are joined together.

Slavery did exist when the Saviour was on earth, and He declares that He "came not to destroy the law, but to fulfil the law." Now these so called preachers undertake to quote scripture to justify themselves in this abolition cause. About all they can find is that we must do by our neighbors as we would they should do by us. So we suppose according to their teachings if you steal negroes you do God's service.

Paul, when the servant was converted under his preaching, sent him back to his master. You cannot find in the acts of the apostles or in their epistles any allusion to any practice that bears the slightest resemblance to the modern contrivances for the abolition of slaves. What they did in behalf of their religion was done directly they made sacrifice for Christ. Now when the claims of the gospel are generally admitted, the church can not be sustained without catering to the depraved appetites of miserable, dishonest, abolition tricksters. It must be indeed in a fallen condition in communities where this doctrine is generally believed—the spirit of Christ is utterly wanting. Whatever doctrines it may hold in theory it cannot be a christian community; it lacks the vital element, they practically educate the people to impiety. Pure religion requires not merely right actions but right feeling; it does not distribute its blessings according to the mere showing of the subscription book—miserable of the widows given out of love to God outweighed in the balances of the sanctuary, the golden offering of the ostentatious pharisees who spoke and acted to be seen and heard of men. It is not every one that says Lord, Lord, but He that does the will of Him who seeth in secret. The motive fixes the character to the action. The doing of pious acts for selfish ends is stoutly repressed by

God. "Who is there even among you, that would shut the door for naught, neither do you kindle fire on mine altar for naught. I have no pleasure in you saith the Lord of Hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hands." It does seem as if the Devil has so entwined himself around those preachers that they perform the most solemn acts of the church for selfish ends. The regularity of the children in the sabbath school is rewarded by a political harangue, or a negro portrait in their little papers; the lessons are learned not that the scholars may be made wise unto salvation, but that they may hate the South, and thereby receive the praises of the abolition preachers. We believe that the revivals are sometimes sought to abolitionize the converts. This constant urging of these considerations that terminate in the negro equality, will if heeded, make the pure selfish; their piety will become corrupted in its very foundation. When children are trained up in the sabbath school and brought into the church under the influence of such motives, what can be looked for but that the rising generation should become the devotees of accursed amalgamation rather than the spiritual worshippers of the true God? Thus under the outward garb of piety the rankest implicit is promoted; they seek to unite the whites with the blacks by preaching that a negro man is as good as a white woman. They would join together in loving harmony what God has put forever asunder—they obliterate the distinction between the two races, their avowed object is to keep the people under the influence of christianity. To accomplish this they will pray long and loud for this imbecile administration and denounce every one as copperheads that does not join them in their prayers. To attempt to lead men in this way to deny themselves, take up their cross and follow Christ, is as wise as would be the effort to reform a drunkard by giving him wine.

AN EXTRAORDINARY STORY.—The Boston Pioneer makes the following extraordinary assertion.

Mr. Seward at the time of the recent French invasion of Mexico, delivered to the French Minister, Mercier, from the archives of Washington, all the plans and maps from the campaign of Gen. Scott, in order thereby to facilitate the assassination of the Mexican republic. In a country like Mexico, such plans and maps have quite a different value from what they possess in an open, cultivated and topographically known territory. They have the value of a deadly weapon; but even were they useless, their surrender would be an act of low dishonesty, infidelity and infamy, which no Government could commit with out becoming the object of universal contempt.

Colonel Stone, the newly elected Governor of Iowa, thus declaims: "I admit that this is an abolition war.— It was not such in the start, but the administration has discovered that it could not sub due the South else than by making it an abolition war, and they have done it; and it will be continued as an abolition war so long as there is one slave at the South to be made free. * * * I would rather eat with a nigger, than with a Democrat."

Henceforth let the abolitionists open his mouth, if his political opponent claims that the war for the Union has been converted into an abolition crusade.

A late letter from Alexandria, Egypt, represents the present cotton crop of that country as immense and of great value.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Wanted, on subscription, at this office, Wheat, Corn, Rye, Oats, Buckwheat and grain of all kinds. Also, corn the ear, hay, straw good winter apples, potatoes, butter, lard, cheese and produce of most all kinds. Money never refused.

Donation Visit.—The friends of Rev C. R. Lane, will pay him a donation visit on Thanksgiving Day at his residence in Tunkhanock Borough, at three o'clock in the afternoon, and at UNION HALL over John Weil's store, in the evening.

Read The new advertisements in to-days paper. Prof. T. J. Cook, our musical friends will be pleased to learn, is to be present at the next meeting of the Wyoming Co. Musical Convention at Factoryville. See advertisement.

The first of the Season.—A slight fall of snow occurred at this place on Monday night and Tuesday. This is the first of the season, and should admonish those who have not yet finished their Fall work, that winter is coming. Those who have corn to husk after this date, will be liable to have cold fingers.

Large Turnips.—Mr. M. Walter, of Mehoopany, will please accept our thanks for those large Turnips he was so kind as to leave at our office.— They were indeed fine ones. One of them, of the flat species, measured upwards of twenty-eight inches in circumference.

Supposed Drowning.—Mr. John Bingham, an old resident of this place, and who lives upon the bank of the river, left the town on last Saturday night at about 10 o'clock, since which he has not been seen or heard of. He is supposed to have fallen into the canal on his way home and drowned. The canal for some distance below, has been dragged and raked, but no trace of the body has yet been found.

Died. SICKLER.—Of Apoplexy, at the State Lunatic Hospital at Harrisburg, on Wednesday the 4th inst., JOHN SICKLER, a resident of Overfield Township, this County, in the 52d year of his age.

About eighteen months ago, the deceased, prostrated by disease, which produced a partial paralysis of the organs of speech, the brain being affected by the same cause. Early in July last he was placed in charge of Dr. John Curwen of the State Lunatic Hospital for treatment. Under the care of the able physician of that excellent institution, his bodily health was apparently restored, but his mind had received a fatal blow. He had an apoplectic shock on the 3rd inst., which he survived but a few hours.

Mr. Sickler was one of the most thorough and energetic business men of his day. Honest and upright in all his dealings with his fellow men; he merited and secured their confidence. Among those who knew him, his word was as good as a bond. To the poor he was ever hospitable and kind. None ever appealed to his charity in vain—none left his door unaided. Though not a professed christian, he encouraged the preaching of the Gospel and the maintenance of Sabbath Schools, by liberal contributions to their support. But now he has passed from among us; he has gone to his reward.
