that the radicals of the country wouldenot so growy calumnate the conservatives but for dread of conservation. Between radicalism and conservatism on the naked issue of their respective claims, radicalism would stand no earthly chance before the people. This the radicals well know. Hence, they deem it necessary to obscure the issue, which they endeavor to accomplish through mmeasurable calumny. "Hypocrisy, says Rochefoucauld, ' is a sort of homage that wice pays to virtue.' We may firly a lapt this saying to the subject in hand. Calumny is a sort of homage that radicalism pays to conserva-"It is indeed hard to conceive how any rational and patriotic man can give his voice and influence to swell the deadly power of radicalism. Can any such tean doubt that the only salvation of our country, is by the nnion of the American people around the conservative standard ? It is milyersally conceded, as a contemporary says, that union at the North is necessary to success. Whal is success? We answer: Peace and the restored power of the Constitution and the Un ion That is complete success Why is there a division at the North ? Because the Radical party boldly proclaim their intention to oppose the restoration of peace under the old Union, or any union with slaveholding States. They assert that there can be no peace with slavery. On the other hand, the Conservative party believe that a simple teadfast adherence to the Constitution will give us peace, and what we want, the Union On which platform is it easier to unite? On which is success more likely to be achieved The Radical platform requires us to abandor the Constitution abandon the principles of concession and compromise, on which ou very Government rests, and go into a cra sade for the establishment of a new Union new Government, and an niknown structure existing only in the dreams of enthusiasts, to b founded on the ruins of the best and not blest structure which was ever erected by human hands. The other platform, the con servative idea, proposes to save the old struct ure in all us glory, warred somewhat by this terrible experience through which it will have past but substantially the same Union of which Washington and his companions were the founders. On this plaiform every patri otic American can stand, ought to stand, must stand, if we would win that success for which we strive. "The wild folly which for more than year was perminted to cry treason, treason, at every voice raised for the Constitution, ha been hushed. The accu-ation of disloyalty burled at the men who stood firm for the old plotting to estroy it. The eyes of the whole country are now fixed on the conservative men for help, advice, guidance. All confi dence in radical men and reffical measures is gone. They are known to be utter tailures. They have have sacrificed too much of blood and treasure. The people are becoming of one mind. What an intense reliet would the whole country feel to day if it were known that some trusty conservative was to b. President of the United States betweenstith tional su cossion to morrow ! Acting under the advice of such men, the people will preserve the present Admiristration in power patiently bearing with its infirmities, protest ing firmly against its errors, and in the right time will restore the Constitution to conservative protection. Then will begin again the story of American greatness."

PRISTON EXEMPTIONS The Provost Mar General has published an amended schedule, reducing the number of diseases and infirmi ties which will disqualify drafted men for military service from fifty to forty-one spec iffcations. The eff co of this order will compell many men in future drafts to perform military duty who have heretofore been exempted for trifling physical disabilities.
