

Time and tide wait for no man.

"Union is not always strength," as the sailor said when he saw the purser mixing rum with water.

"What boxes govern the world? asked a New York paper. It answers the question thus: The cartridge box, the ballot box, the jury box and the band box."

It may seem right to a man to keep borrowing from his neighbors, but the end thereof—very cross neighbors.

A handsome young lady being asked if she ever gave a kiss, replied, "no, but I quite of ten have one stolen."

The Strayest pear tree in New York city is in full bloom for the two hundred and twentieth season.

Why is a hen seated on a fence like a cent? Because the head is on one side and the tail on the other.

"I knew a gal so modest, Sam, dat she ordered her beau out ob de house."

"What for, Pompey?" "Because, in a conversation on de subject ob de wedder, he said de wind had 'shifted'."

In ancient days the precept was "know thyself." In modern times it has been supplanted by the far more fashionable maxim, "know thy neighbor and everything about him."

An unmannerly wag being asked by the landlady of his boarding house why being so tall a man, he ate so little, replied:—"Madam, a little goes a great way with me!"

There is a chap in Boston who is so tender hearted that he bursts into tears whenever he looks at his cast off pantloons. Anything that looks like suffering makes him "bible over" in a minute.

A divine, once praying, said, "O Lord, give unto us neither poverty nor riches; and passing solemnly a moment he added, 'especially poverty.'"

Why a dog waggles his tail.—Lord Dundreary tells his friend the solution of this difficult riddle: "because the dog is stronger than the tail. If he wasn't the tail would waggle the dog."

An Irishman seeing an undertaker carrying a very small coffin, exclaimed in the utmost surprise.

"By the Saint O'Dinis O'Slingo! is it possible that that coffin can be intended for any living craturer?"

The new half handkerchief style of bonnet is thus noticed in an exchange:

"A sort of cup to catch the hair. Leaving the head to go it bare. A striking example of nothing to wear. Is this bonnet abomination?"

I wud knot di in summer & leve the garden eas. The roasted lam & buttermilk. The kool plaise in the grass: I wud knot di in summer. When every thing is hot, An leve the whiskey Jew lips; Owe know! ide rather knot.

QUAKERISH.—Mr. Bush used to tell the following of a brother barrister:

"As the coach was about starting the young limb of the law approached the landlady, a pretty Quakeress, who was seated near the fire, and said he would not think to go without giving her a kiss."

"Friend," said she, "thee must not do it."

"By heavens, I will."

"Well, friend, since thou hast sworn, thee may do it; but thee must not make a practice of it."

A lady was once declaring that she could not understand how gentlemen could smoke.

"It certainly shortens their lives," said she. "I didn't know that," exclaimed a gentleman, "there's my father who smokes every blessed day, and he is now seventy years old."

"Well," was the reply, "if he had never smoked he might have been eighty."

A Good HOTEL STORY.—Many good things have been told of Dr. Thompson, the world-renowned humorist and hospitable proprietor of the Atlanta Hotel, whose ready wit but few are ready to encounter. But a little incident occurred there a few days ago, which rather worried the doctor.

A lieutenant colonel, who was wounded at Murfreesboro' had been stopping with him, and on the twentieth day called for his bill.

The obliging clerk handed him the document with twenty days multiplied by four dollars. The colonel scanned the bill and observed its footing up—eighty dollars. He turned to the doctor, who was present, and asked him if he did not think that was pretty heavy.

The doctor, with that peculiar toss of the head which indicates a small whirlwind, said—

"No; if you had to pay four dollars for a gobble; one dollar a dozen for eggs; four dollars a pound for Rio coffee; a dollar and a quarter for butter; fifteen dollars a bushel for potatoes; and five dollars a pair for shad, you'd think it was light."

The colonel ran his eye over the bill again, and quietly replied—

"Well, I have been here twenty days, and I don't think you have mentioned that I have spent on your table."

"It is said the doctor pushed out into the back yard, and did not cool off till he had whipped three little niggers."
