

Miscellaneous

The best capital to begin life on is a capital young wife.

A young physician asking permission of a lass to kiss her, replied, "No, sir, I never like a doctor's bill stuck in my face."

"Mr. D—, if you'll get my pants done by Saturday, I shall be forever indebted to you." "If that's your game they'll not be done, sure," said the tailor.

"John," said a dutiful parent to her rather insatiable boy, "can't you eat that pudding with impunity?"

"I don't know, ma," replied the young hopeful, "but I guess I can with a spoon."

Jack did you carry that umbrella home that I borrowed yesterday?

Jack—No, father, you often told me to lay up something for a rainy day, and as I thought it would rain before long, I have laid it up.

A tippler who squinted very much, used sometimes to mourn that his eyes did not "acree." "It's very lucky for you," said a friend, "for if your eyes had been made for your nose would have set them on fire long ago."

"Jenny do you go to school?" "Yes, sir; to the school kept by Miss Post." "Not a whipping post, I hope?" "O, no, she's a guide post."

The following is a true Irishman advertisement: "Missing from Killarney, Jane O'Forgery; she had in her arms two babies and a Guernsey cow, all black, with red hair, and turkise-shell combs behind her ears, and large black spots all down her back, which squints awfully."

A Western editor once apologized to his readers somewhat after this fashion: "We intended to have a death and a marriage to publish this week, but a violent storm prevented the wedding; and the doctor being taken sick himself, the patient recovered, and we are accordingly cheated out of both."

Seeing upon his wife's shoulder a large shawl pin, Mr. D. said: "In the military, eh? got to be captain?" She instantly remarked, pointing to a third baby in her lap—

"No, recruiting sergeant in the third infantry."

"Pat, you have dated your letter a week ahead. It is not so late in the month by one week, you spalpeen!"

"Troth, boy, indeed, an' it's just myself the wanted swate Kathleen to get it in advance of the mail. Sure, an' I'll not care if she gets it three days afore it's written me darlint!"

A small boy heard a parson preach a sermon from these words, "Ye must be born again," which was frequently repeated during the discourse. The little hearer paid strict attention to all that was said, and particularly to the text.

After he returned, he became melancholy. His father observed it and inquired the cause. The boy told him that the preacher said he must be born again.

"Well, my son," replied the father, "why do you cry about it?"

"Oh," said the boy, "I'm so afraid the next time I'll be a gal."

The best and most conclusive reason for an effect that we ever remember to have heard, was given by a "one idea" Dutchman in reply to a friend who remarked—

"Why, Hans, you have the most feminine caste of countenance I ever saw."

"Oh yaw," was the reply, "I know the reason for dat—my mother was a woman."

LUFFY CONDUCT.—In the neighborhood where I once lived, a man and wife were almost constantly quarreling. During their quarrels their only child (a boy) was generally present; and of course had caught many of his father's expressions.

One day when the boy had been doing something wrong, the mother intending to chastise him, called him and said,

"Come here sir: what did you want to do that for?"

The boy complacently feeling his arms and imitating his father's manner replied:

"See here, madam, I don't wish to have any words with you."

A tall, keen eyed countryman stepped into the court room at Detroit, the other day, during the progress of the railroad trial. Stepping up to a spectator, he requested that the prisoner might be pointed out to him—
