TEMPERANS LECKTUR BY J. BILLINGS.

"Be ye temperate in all things."

My FELLOW BEINGS:—How are you?—How is your wife and interesting family? My object in addressing you at the present juncture is, to impress upon your minds, the actual necessity of temperance—not a jamakaram temperance, but also, that kind of a temperance which should prompt a man to go aloft in all things that air disposed to be slippery.—Be ye temperate in cloths and patient leather, for verily I say unto you, that a man can get drunk on broad cloth and lite butes, sune az he kan on gin and merelasses.

Sekondly—Be ye temperate in affekshen Don't go in to fitz over a rat tarrier because he has been bred so fine that yu kant see the last three inches ov hiz tail in a cloudy da without the ade ove a looking glass. Dont luv a hoss so much that yu have to give yure noat for him, and aint never able to tak up the noat till it epiles. Dont fall in luv with every wuman yu see, and kant slepe, unless yu hav yure bedrumsheingled with fotografs ov painted girls, with pewter eyes, and puddng baggs full ov black toad, and det rats on the back ov ther bed; and biawl means dont git en such a load ov religgin az will make yu round shouldered, before yu git haff wa to heaven.

Thirdly—Be ye temperate in anger, that eats like rust—in luv that feeds on the hearts marrow—in ambishun, that envys the thrones of the gods—in despare, that mildews the soul—in hate, the begets, and suckles revenge—in encre, that follers and faints not, on the tinsure or a bruther.

Fourthly—Be ye temperate in pollytrick backer, and petroleum—dont vote, chew, nor bore, tex excess, and if yu do strike the, strike from the shoulders like a man, and dont set up for a nabob until awl the stink ov the grease gits out ov yure clothes.—N. Y. Mercury.

SCARCE ARTICLES.—A parson who practices all he professes; A beauty who never feels proud when she dresses;

A lawyer whose honesty pleads for his client; A braggart whose courage is always defiant;

A sensible dandy, an actual friend; Philosophy publishing "money to lend";

A skilful physician regardless self; A staunch politician forgetful of self;

A sour old bachelor neatly arrayed; And last though not rarest, a cheerful old maid.

"You'll have to bear the responsibility."—said a mother to a bright eyed young daughter of our acquaintance, who thought of marrying without the maternal approbation. "I expect to bear several, ma," said Fanny.

"I wonder what makes my eyes so weak," said a fop to a gentleman. "You needn't wonder, they are in a weak place," replied the gentleman.

"Where do you hail from?" queried a Yankee of a traveller.

"Where do you rain from?" "Don't rain at all," said the astonished Jonathan.

"Neither do I hail, so mind your own business."

It is the ordinary way of the world to keep folly at the helm, and wit under hatches.

Wanted by a bachelor jeweler—a wife with a neck of pearl, ruby lips, "brilliant" eyes, golden hair, a silver tongue, and a perfect jewel of a temper.

A young man advertises for a situation as son-in-law in a respectable family. Would have no objection, he says, to go a short distance in to the country.

There are some who write, talk, and think so much about vice and virtue, that they have no time to practice either the one or the other.

Time is the transient and deceitful flatterer of falsehood, but the tried and final friend of truth.

"Boys," said Uncle Peter, as he examined the points of the beast, "I don't see but one reason why that mare can't trot her mile in three minutes." They gathered around to hear his oracular opinion; and one inquired "what is it?" "Why," he replied, "the distance is too great for so short a time."

A Ferryman, whilst plying over a river which was only slightly agitated, was asked by a timid lady in his boat, whether any persons were lost in that river. "Oh no," said he, "we always find 'em agin the next day."

An old Indian who had witnessed the effect of whiskey for many years, said that a barrel of whiskey contained one thousand songs and fifty fights. Pretty correct Indian that.

A soldier in New York, named Charles B. Hudson used the following language: "Abe Lincoln is killed, and I'm d—d glad of it." A military court sentenced him to three years in the Albany penitentiary.

Manhood; how lost, how restored.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA, or seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, safe, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer may securely and privately, and radically, cure himself cheaply, and in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post paid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,
