

Miscellaneous

If the doctor orders bark, has not the patient a perfect right to growl?

No man ever prospered who defrauded the printer or scolded his wife.

We are told to weigh our thoughts; most men and women would need a very small pair of scales.

STYLISH.—The New World puffs Mr. Hugg's garden. We presume the paragraph was written with a pig-pen.

We know a young lady who will never be drawn into tender conversation in the fields, because the corn has ears.

A girl who courts two fellows at a time needs to have a quantity of love to be true to them both.

A man who courts a young woman in the starlight probably expects to get a wife in a twinkling.

A young lady describing a storm, said, "It was awful—the air and the atmosphere both seemed to blow together!"

If exercise promotes health, those who collect old bills for editors should be the longest lived people on earth.

In a country paper, the marriage of Mr. Cooper to Miss Stave, is announced. The result will probably be hoops and barrels.

A HANDY ARTICLE.—Adam Shoemaker, a number of years ago, came to Huntingdon Furnace, and seeing there for the first time, a pair of snuffers, he asked—

"What's them for?"
"To snuff the candle."

The candle just then needed attention, and Adam, with his thumb and finger pinched off the snuff, and carefully poked it into the snuffers, saying—

"Well, now, them's handy."

"My lad," said a lady to a boy carrying a mail-bag, "are you a mail boy?" "Yer doesn't im a female boy, does yer?"

Nobody ever lost anything he love, said a aged looking person. "That's not true," said a lady who heard the remark, "for I once lost three nights sleep."

A lady sometimes keeps charms upon her watchguard, but it is more important that she keep watch and guard upon her charms.

A boarding house boy, on being asked by an amateur mineralogist what he thought was the strongest of substances? replied promptly, butter."

"I'll commit you: you're a nuisance!"—said Mr. Justice to a noisy fellow in court.—"You can't sir you say I'm a nuisance, and nobody has a right to commit a nuisance—so I defy you!"

"Are you in love, Mary?" "Yes, mother."
"How much?" "Well, I don't know exactly, but I should think about five feet or thereabout, for I feel it all overish."

A cotemporary speaks of the head of the Navy Department as "an ancient crab."

The funniest story of the age is told by a Detroit paper. A lady suspected her husband of improper intimacy with the hired girl. Without informing her husband of her intention, she sent the girl off that night and went to sleep in the girl's bed. She had not been there long when somebody came and took the other half of the bed. About two hours after the wife rose, intending to reveal the intended infidelity of her spouse, struck a light, when lo! it was the hired man.

"Ah, Jemmy," said the Bishop of Derry to a drunken blacksmith, "I am sorry to see you beginning your evil course again: and, Jemmy, I am very anxious to know what you intend to do with that fine lad, your son?"
"I intend, sir," said Jemmy, "to do for him what you cannot do for your son."
"Eh! eh! How's that—how's that?"
"To which Jemmy, with a burst of genuine feeling, replied, "I intend to make him a better man than his father!"

THE PRINTER.—The printer is the master of all trades. He is the carpenter with the rule, and the mason in setting up columns; he surpasses the lawyer in attending to his case, and beats the parson in the management of the devil.

Said a searcher of the papers the other day, "I am much troubled with a word I have just seen—impunity. What does it mean?" On being told that it signified a want of money, he exclaimed, "Is that?—I shall always be troubled with that word I'm afraid!"

It was not good for Adam to live single when there was only one woman on earth, how very criminal guilty are old bachelors, with the world full of pretty girls!

There is a man in Maine, the owner of a piece of crinoline, who shows decided pluck. He says that when the minister was hugging and kissing his wife, he peeped through the crack of the door, and saw it all; and as long as he has the spirit of a man remaining, he will peep on all such occasions.
