Widow's weeds show that they are mourning-for another husband.

Any merchant may make his house a custom house by attending to its duties.

There is a Gaelie proverb :- "If the best man's faults were written on his forehead, it would make him pull his hat over his eyes."

It was a wise observation of Alcide Tousez "It is good indeed to be a wit, one may say so many foolish things,"

A dull lecturer said :- "Fools are not all dead yet." "No," whispered a wag across the table, "or you wouldn't be here to say

Why are the game laws the jilliest laws we keep ?- Because their express object is to keep the game slive."

What would this world be without women? A perfect blank-like a sheet of paper, not even ruled.

Many writers have nothing to say, and the number of words they have to say it in is astonishing.

The bellman of Waterto, announcing a teetotal meeting, said it would be addressed by six females who have never spoken before. "Do vou like codfish balls, Mr. Wiggin ?"

Mr. Wiggin, hesitatingly: 'I really don't know, miss, I never recollect attending one.' The person who, according to the Scripture

"Clothed himself with curses as with a garment," must have formed a habit of swear-

A married lover - A hen pecked husband declared that the longer he lived the more he was smitten.

Mrs. Partington makes Shakspe re say :--"Sweet are the uses of advertisements." It's so if Shakspeare didn't say it.

It would be hard to convince the magnetic needle that a loadstone is not most diverting thing in the world.

The strongest kind of a hint .- A lady asking a gentleman to see if one of her rings will go on his little finger.

Who ever heard of a woman with pretty ankles and whole stockings complaining of wet sidewalks or muddy crossings ?

A wise man may be pinched by poverty, but only a fool will let himself be pinched by tight shoes.

"Husband," said an exasperated wife, "I can't express my detestation of your conduct Well, dear I'm very glad you can't," was the

An agricultural society offered a premium for the best essay on irrigation. By mistake it was irritation, whereupon an honest farmer sent his wife.

OBETING ORDERS .- "Edward," said his mother to a boy of eight, who was trudling hoop in the front yard. "Edward you must not go out of that gate into the street."

"No, ma, I won't," was the reply. A few minutes afterward his mother had occasion to go to the window. To her surprise she saw Edward in the street engaged in the edifying employment of manufacturing dirt pies.

"Didn't I tell you," said she angrily, "not to go through the gate ? "Well, I didn't mother," was the reply "I climed over the fetice "
