

Miscellaneous.

A GOOD WIFE.—A translation of a Welsh Triad: She is modest, void of deceit, and obedient. Pare of conscience, gracious of tongue and true to her husband.

JOSH BILLINGS ON HENS.—Josh Billings talks learnedly as follows: "The best time to set a hen is when the hen is ready. I want tell you what the best breed is, but the shanghai is the meanest. It costs as much to board one as it does a stage horse, and you may as well undertake to fat a fanning mill by running oats thru it.

BEAUTY IN A PRINTING OFFICE.—Though considerably "d by the appearance of the * * * we extend the * * * of welcome, introduced them to the gentlemen, who facing cases had sticks in their hands, and showed them the wonders of a Printing Office not forgetting the pi. The visit of this beautiful * * * is without * * * in our history, and we * * * this opportunity to express the hope that it will be frequently repeated.

"Bob, Harry Smith has one of the greatest curiosities you ever saw," "Don't say so—what is it?" "A tree that never sprouts and becomes smaller the older it grows."

Arrah, Pat, and why did I marry ye just tell me that—for it's meself that's had to maintain ye ever since the blessed day that father O'Flannigan sint me to yer home, 'swate-jewel,' replied Pat, 'an, it's meself that hopes I may live to see the day that you're a widow wapping over the cowld soul that kivers me t'm, by saint Patrick I'd see how you git along widout me, honey.

A witty printer, who quit his business, studied physic and became a physician gave his reason for doing so that in printing all the faults are exposed to the eye, but in physic they are barred with the patient.

HAD HIM THERE.—A friend of ours who is clerk in a New York mercantile establishment, relates a colloquy in which a sprightly youth by that store came out second best.—A poor boy came along with a machine, inquiring:

"Any knives or scissors to grind?" "Don't think we have," replied the young gentleman, facetiously; "but can't you sharpen 'em?"

"Yes, if you've got 'em," was the prompt retort, leaving his interrogator rather at a loss to produce the article.

At the circus women jump clean through hoops; in society they jump into them and stick there.

Most of us spend so much time learning the opinions of others that we have no leisure to form any of our own.
