

Local and Personal.

A Sewing Machine for twenty-five dollars can be had of P. C. Burns & Co. It is one of the Bartlett patent new with table and treadle, the same as sold by traveling agents at $38. Call and see.

Pew Letting.—The Pews at the M. E. Church in this place will be let for the ensuing year, on Monday 13th inst. at 2 o'clock, P. M. All interested, will please attend.

Dr. J. W. Lyman since the dissolution of the old firm by the death of Jacob Myer, has associated with himself Dr. E. Wells, of Mehoopany, under the firm name of Lyman & Wells. They will continue to keep a first class Drug Store, and will always be ready to attend to professional calls. See advertisement in to-day's paper.

Flour is $16. per barrel, and is scarce and poor at that.

It is not to be wondered at, that laboring men, all over the country, are demanding higher wages, the seven and three-tenths per cent. shoddy contractors, bond-holders and speculators, are delighted with the "change;" but the poor laboring white man "can't see it."

We begin to think that the niggers could rule the county better than their abolition allies—Hoor-a! for universal suffrage; and universal suffering.

Rain.—At our last issue we hoped we should not again have reason to complain of too much rain; but now as we go to press, the rain which has been long continued, is hurrying down in torrents. It seems almost impossible to find time between storms to plant an onion bed.

The blooming, merry month of May, of former years, seems to have departed, and instead we have cold, freezing, wet black republica weather. But, wait a little longer: "There's a good time coming by-and-by boys!"

A Destructive Fire occurred at Factoryville, on the evening of Saturday the 4th inst. Eleven buildings, in all, were destroyed. The fire we understand, first broke out in the Good Templars Hall over the dwelling of Mr. Wells, which with the buildings appurtenant, was entirely destroyed.—Orlando Reynolds lost House blacksmith's shop, and barn—Mr. Warner a wagon-shop and contents—Henry Nemoomb a Cabinet and Furniture shop and contents—Mr. Beam a dwelling—Mr. Curry a dwelling, barn &c. The fire is said to have been caused by some careless Templar; there having been a meeting at the Hall that evening.

Phancy Phixus, thinery, phuserery and phlummary for the Ladies, just received, and for sale, cheap, at Mrs. E. Lease's Toy and Fancy store. She has gloves, handkerchiefs, perfumery, cosmetics, cuffs, collars, tilters, hilters, skitters, shimpers, (confound the names!) and an endless variety of unmentionable, unheard of articles, for the comfort, convenience and conversation of all classes, conditions, ages and sexes of women.

We don't know what she has got—Ladies, go and see for yourselves.

Two Scamps—Eugene Cooper and Ringler, from Scranton or Hyde Park—who had stolen a watch, $10 in money and some other articles from Mr. Jerro Stephens, a hotel keeper at Niven, Susquehanna Co., were traced to this place and arrested a few days since. They pretended to be making arrangements for giving a concert here. But as appeared by the confession of Cooper, after the arrest, they were awaiting a favorable opportunity to make a raid on some man across the river, who, they understood had some spare greenbacks about him. Cooper is quite well known about here, having lived for some time at Springville, and was for a short time a clerk at this place. Ringler who was evidently the ring-leader in the business, adopted, during his short visit with us, the euphonious title of Mr. Florence. They will probably have an opportunity of taking a free ride to Philadelphia, in the company of the Sheriff of Susquehanna.

Married

SHOOK—HARRIS—At Wall's Hotel, Tunkhannock May 4th 1867, by Rev. J. L. Leag, John Shook of Monroe, to Miss Ruth H. Harris, of Forkston.

OVERFIELD—BINNS—At the Church of the Holy Trinity, City of Brooklyn, Wednesday April 24th 1867, by the Rev. A. N. LITTLEJOHN, D. D., J. L. OVERFIELD, Esq., of the City of New York, and Miss OLIVIA M. BINNS of the former place.

John forgot the fair Olivia, long enough to think of his old friends—including the printer—in Wyoming. The last mentioned individual was remembered in a way that is highly gratifying to all of the profession. For, if all printers are not poor devils themselves—and we believe that's the rule—they sustain very intimate relations with an Imp of that character. And, neither a poor devil of a printer, nor a poor printer's devil, ever has half enough of Mr. Spenser's autographs to make "his ends meet." Therefore to the aforesaid individuals, "His sweet to be remembered"—financially.

But, John, we imagine this new arrangement must somewhat interfere with those oyster suppers, those club-meetings and glorious clam-bakes; which, in the olden time, helped to make you forget the clamoring of half crazy clients. No more now.

"You'll vex with nirth the drowey ear of night." But, after the tolls of day are over—thinking only of Olivia's joyful greetings—at her six o'clock, "Johnny'll go marching home."

Died.

WHEELLOCK—At his residence in Eaton, on Sunday April 21st, Adin Wheelock, aged about 70 yr's JACKSON—At his residence, in Dushore, Sullivan Co., on Thursday, April 9th 1867, Dr. Josiah Jackson, in the seventy sixth year of his age.

WORDEN—In Lewisburg, on Wednesday April 17, after a long and painful illness, Jane Martha Worden, wife of O. N. Worden, aged 46 years, 6 days.

The deceased who, with her husband, was for some time a resident of this place; by her many christian virtues, so endeared herself to all acquaintances, that to such, the above will be a sad announcement. One so richly gifted to adorn the social, and make happy the family circle, could rarely be found.

Though we know that she has entered into that rest prepared for the people of God, we cannot withhold from her memory the tribute of a tear.

MEACHAM—The following notice of the death of Mr. F. Meacham, formerly connected with the Intelligencer of this place, and for a short time engaged in our office, we clip from a late Washington paper.

ANOTHER SOLDIER GONE—Corporal Fordyce Meacham, company F. 24 District of Columbia volunteers, died last evening at seven o'clock, after a short illness, of pneumonia, a superinduced by disease contracted while in the army.

Corporal Meacham was a resident of Susquehanna county, Pa.; and was a printer by trade, and was for several years connected with the various newspaper offices in that State, but at the time of his death was employed in the Government Printing Office.

Shortly after the breaking out of the war he felt impelled to go to the rescue of his country and flag, but the responsibility of a family presented an insuperable barrier until the organization of the 2d District regiment, when he volunteered, and served faithfully and honorably as a soldier until the regiment was mustered out of service.
