ECONOMY IS WEALTH

We understand what the people want. They want goods at the lowest possible prices.

They don't want to pay enormous prices for the so-called "best goods in market."

They don't want to pay their neighbors' debts when dealing with a store, which they are obliged to do, because the dealer must put on every profit to make up for his losses by those who don't pay.

But they do want to buy from a store that sells only for cash and one price all, which is the lowest possible price and who buys directly from head-quarters and pays the cash, thereby securing the consumer the advantage of a large count; also, saving a drummer's commission and luffly, saving the consumer a count for paying cash.

The policy of the Bargain Store is to give the buyer all the discount.
