INTERESTING MINOR EVENTS

Telegraph and Cable Roll in the Important and the Inconsequential, but to Each is Given Its Proper Space.

Washington

President Wilson has made no arrangements yet for paying pew rent. That is to say he has not decided on the church at which he will worship. Senator Cummins introduced a bill creating a trade commission to absorb the bureau of corporations. Mr. Borah laid before the Senate information that slavery was practiced in parts of the Philippines, and gave notice that he would seek to have Congress take action. During the latter part of 1912 the cost of living was higher in the United States than at any other time during the last twenty-three years.

Personal

Paul Arthur Sorg, winner of many prizes at horse-shows in America and Great Britain and a noted whip, died of heart disease at his home in New York City. The Japanese Emperor received former Attorney-General Wickersham and Mrs. Wickersham at Tokio. Andrew Carnegie made the principal address before the American Peace Conference in St. Louis. Mrs. William F. Bryan, after two months of official life in Washington, took advantage of a lull in her social activities, in addition to the absence of Mr. Bryan, and motored to a sanatorium near Washington, entering herself there for two days of seclusion.

Sporting

George Edward Waddell, generally known in baseball circles as "Rube" Waddell, dramatically retired from organized baseball after fifteen years of service. Throwing away his uniform, Waddell declared that he was through with the game for good. In the annual interscholastic track and field meet on New Beaver Field, State College, Pa., A. S. Robinson, the Mercersburg sprinter, won the 100-yard dash in 9.35 seconds, and hung up a new world's record in the 220-yard dash when he finished in 20.45 seconds. Alma Richards, of Brigham Young University, Utah, who won the running high jump at the last Olympic games in Sweden with a leap of 6 feet 3 3/4 inches, has decided to matriculate at the University of Pennsylvania. Luther McCarty, crowned king of the white heavyweights after his successive knockout victories against Kaufmann, Flynn, and Paulzer, out-pointed Frank Moran of Pittsburgh in a ten-round bout at the St. Nicholas Club, New York.

General

The Anti-Allen Land Ownership bill passed the California Assembly and was sent to Governor Johnson. The owners of two large silk mills in Paterson, N. J., said they would cease business there on account of the strike and move elsewhere. John Kremscheck, after fighting extradition fifteen years, has been ordered returned to the Pennsylvania authorities on a murder charge. William Alwin, of Baraboo, Wis., found a heron in that city with the words "Votes for Women" on tag around its neck. Judge Bosworth, of Springfield, Mass., fined John Delmaestro, who was shot in the legs in a duel, $100 for "gun toting." Anthony Rodowski, of Rochester, N. Y., set down to sleep on a freshly cemented doorstep and had to be shifted off. The Horace Mann School of Teachers' College, New York City, authorities have decided to abandon co-education. Richard Curran, 16 years old, resigned Joseph Debsky, 8 years old, who had fallen into the East River, New York, by lassooing him and pulling him ashore. Nine thousand six hundred and ninety-six—most of them women, of course; many of them men, however, and a surprising number of them children—marched in New York City on the cause of equal suffrage. Albert Weil, secretary and treasurer of the Louis Lipp Co., of Cincinnati, was fined $2,500 and sentenced to serve 60 days in jail for violation of the anti-trust law. Arturo Giovannitti, the I. W. W. leader, was fined $10 in Milford, Mass., for leading a parade of strikers' relatives in Hopedale. He appealed and was released on bail. Mrs. George H. Jenkins, of Unionville, Conn., was killed in an automobile collision on the Plainville road. Rhode Island celebrated its own "birth of July" two months ahead of the rest of the Union.

WILLS.

The will of Amy Weigley, late of Somerset township, was probated. After directing her executor to dispose of all real estate at public sale, she made the following cash bequests: To the children of Annie Weller, deceased, $100; to Herman A. Stahl, $100; Sarah Hostetler, daughter of George Hostetler, of Somerset, $100; to her nephew, Eugene M. Sellers, of Wisconsin, $500; to Ellen Hostetler, wife of Percy Hostetler, deceased, $500; and to her husband, John Weigley, $400. All her personal property and the balance of the real estate are left to testatrix's sister, Mrs. Urias D. Braucher. A Beam Sellers, of Somerset, a nephew of the decedent, is appointed executor, and with his Attorney Fred W. Biesecker, witnessed the execution of the will, which was dated January 19th, 1910.

For Good Roads.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 3—Repair work on State main highways has been started in every county in the State by the road superintendents of the State Highway Department and will be pushed in the vicinity of county towns and on the roads passing through agricultural sections, so that by the first of June, one year from the time of taking over the 8,000 miles of main highway routes the entire system will be in the hands of repairmen. This work was started during the early part of April, as rapidly as the men in charge could organize their forces and within a few months the methods which the State will use in maintaining its comprehensive system of roads will be demonstrated.

Under the act of 1911 providing for a system of roads the repair work is to be handled out of funds placed at the disposal of the department by the Legislature, the idea being that the reconstruction of these roads should be by means of the proceeds of the proposed $50,000,000 bond issue as rapidly as circumstances permit after the constitutional amendment for the loan is adopted and the necessary enabling legislation enacted. Under present conditions it appears that both the State aid and general road building must be cared for by the Legislature now in session, the bond issue to provide for work from 1915 on. Pending legislation is also calculated to provide for the construction of township roads and their maintenance, so they will help to develop with the main highway system.

The $50,000,000 bond issue is now regarded as the best method to obtain satisfactory results in construction. Demands upon the State for charities and for various public works are of such a character as to require a large part of the revenue. Furthermore, to secure systematic development it is recognized that a regular plan of yearly appropriations must be made, and it is the idea to enact such legislation at the next session of the Legislature as will distribute the proceeds of the bond issue and lead to harmonious extension of good roads.

THE CLOTHES MOTH.

A correspondent from Huntingdon county wrote to Prof. Surface asking for information concerning destruction of clothes moths. The reply gives information that may be useful to others troubled with this destructive pest. It is as follows:

"You can destroy the clothes moths by saturating with benzine or gasoline the fabric which they infest. If you will dissolve a very slight proportion of corrosive sublimate in alcohol, using not more than one part by weight to one hundred parts of water and pour or sprinkle this over a cloth it will poison it and render it immune to them.

"Where clothes moths infest articles that can be spread and shaken, it is a good plan to put them into the sunshine in an open yard, and whip them thoroughly with strong whips and air them well. If one can place small articles in the oven and watch the temperature that it does not get higher than something like one hundred and fifty to one hundred and sixty degrees, he can kill that pest by heat. Where the articles are small enough to put them into a closed vessel a very excellent method is to put them into something that can be closed tightly and pour over them or set upon them a shallow pan containing the liquid known as carbon bisulfide and let it stand and fumigate three or four hours or more. At least one pound of this should be used for each one hundred cubic feet of space and more will do no harm. Keep fire away from it, as it is explosive, the same as the fumes of benzine or gasoline.

"A barrel will do very well for this purpose, fastening over the top of it two or more sheets of oil cloth, holding it in place by a hoop placed outside. As a last resort for household pests, we can fall back upon fumigation with hydrocyanic acid gas, which is certain to be effective if properly done, but which is both expensive and somewhat dangerous by careless persons. Follow directions for this method of fumigation which are sent free from the office of the Economic Zoologist, at Harrisburg, when requested."
