Judge W. H. Ruppel handed down an opinion on Monday morning in the suit of W. H. Zimmerman, Tax Collector of Somerset township, vs. the Eyre-Shoemaker Company, Inc.

Mr. Zimmerman claimed from the defendant company $21 road county, and school taxes for 1910, and $68.44 in taxes for 1911. The taxes were claimed on horses and mules used by the company in railroad construction in Somerset county, principally on the B. & O. branch to Acosta.

The defendant contends that it has paid $625 State tax for 1910 and $1,025 State tax for 1911 and filed exceptions on the grounds that to be taxed in Somerset county it would be paying a double tax.

Judge Ruppel, however, holds that the company should pay road, county, and school tax on its equipment in Somerset county.
