The Barn of D. D. Meese, the well known exhibitor at the Meyersdale Fair, Breeder of Thorough-bred Shropshire sheep and and Herford cattle, Angora goats and Poland china swine, raised his new barn, July 16th, 1913.

This structure being 100x54 feet, of a model bank barn, the present barn having bin 58x36, was entirely too small for Mr. Meese's farming. The farm consists of 275 acres and Mr. Meese has been doing some very good hustling along farming lines. There were about seventy of the good citizens present in raising the structure. The Baer Bros., did the masonry, which is a splendid job of stone work. Alfred Weimer assisted by Samuel Meese and E. H. Werner did the carpenter work.

Everything passed off nicely. By 8 p. m. the barn was completely raised and all enjoyed the days pleasure. The ladies served a delicious dinner and supper to all present.

The following persons were present: Messrs. Alfred Weimer, A. E. Baer, Joel Yutzy, Frank Murray, and son, Harry, Norman Wilhelm, and sons Frank and Dewey, Theodore Knapp, S. S. Meese, G. W.
