For Good Roads.

Where bad roads prevail, farmers are forced to move their crops not when the market price is favorable, but when the roads are favorable and frequently at heavy pecuniary loss as a result, according to the office of public roads of the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

In a statement issued today it cited specific cases of such losses, asserting:

"Excessive fluctuations in market prices are seldom due to over production. They frequently take place in regions where the local production does not equal the consumption. There are counties rich in agricultural possibilities, burdened with bad roads, where the annual incoming shipments of food exceed the outgoing shipments in the ratio of 4 to 1.

"Many such counties with improved roads would not only become self-supporting, but would ship products to other markets."

At a meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Chicago, Mrs. Pennypacker, of Texas, who is president, promised the aid of the organization in the direction of good roads. That is the most interesting and most practical thing done by women in a good while. The good roads issue is to the fore, and it is really much more important than the question of voting. Not that we wish to discourage the dear girls who are after the franchise—far from it. We only desire to say that if the women will help to make good roads throughout the country they will accomplish a long step in favor of giving them political equality.

We need good roads. Just now there is a reactionary spirit abroad based on the utterly untrue assumption that it is only the owners of automobiles who want money spent for good roads. That is a libel, but it is a fact that the automobilists have been able and energetic protagonists of the new movement to make it possible for people in the county to move around easily.

It is a fact that the women of this country have been the greatest sufferers from lack of transportation facilities. Those who live in the country—unless near a great city—have been condemned to isolation, which has reacted unfavorably on their nerves and their temperament. In the last twenty years two factors have been of greater importance. The suburban trolley has brought thousands—millions—into contact with better civilization. The telephone has reduced the loneliness of the woman on the farm to a great extent. But this is only a beginning. So far it has affected only the periphery of the great and small cities. When women can drive to town easily over good roads or run their own automobile, as many farmers do now, there will no longer be rural loneliness. In fact we shall all be moving to the country.

Our advice to the woman is to keep up the program for good roads. If they are efficient in accomplishing this they can get anything else they really want.

PROTECTING TREES FROM BOREPS.

A correspondent asked Prof. H. A. Surface, Harrisburg, for information concerning protecting trees from borers by the use of lime sulphur solution and also made inquiry concerning certain other points in regard to tree protection. As this is the time of year to make applications to prevent borers the following reply by Professor Surface will be found of value:

"The lime sulphur solution is not too strong to apply to the trunks of trees of any kind at any time, if applied at what we call 'San Jose scale strength.' I would never use the concentrated or full strength solution. I have never known of injury by this, but it is not necessary to use it so strong. I would always dilute it with at least four or five times in bulk of water, diluting from the concentrated strength of the commercial, or the concentrated home-boiled. What is generally called 'strong lime-sulphur' means the 'San Jose scale strength' or Specific Gravity 1.03.

It can be used at any time of the year if not applied directly to the foliage or the young growing parts.

For preventing borers I recommend the San Jose scale strength with one ounce of arsenate of lead added to each gallon of the solution, applied as a spray or wash at the base of the tree, being sure to use it abundantly.

I have not recommended the use of tarred paper wrapped closely around the tree at the time of planting. It is liable to enfeeble the tree during the summer time. It is all right to put it around the tree during the winter. Of course, if there for the winter time only, it will not prevent the borers, but will give protection from rabbits or mice. However, I prefer to do this by other means.

You can use arsenate of lead as strong as five pounds to fifty gallons of water without injury to the foliage of the trees, but it is a wasteful use of material. I prefer to use it not stronger than three pounds in fifty gallons of liquid, whether this be water Bordeaux mixture or dilute lime sulphur solution."

ITCHING IRRITATION.

WORST FORM OF SKIN TROUBLE QUICKLY RELIEVED BY INEXPENSIVE TREATMENT.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only do minor skin trouble like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers of cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense at S. E. Thorley's the City Drug Store are selling a liberal jar at 25 cents and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.

TO CLEAN KNIVES.

For cleaning knives, raw potatoes are very good to use if the knives are very badly stained, writes a New York Press contributor. Take a raw potato, cut in half, then dip it in powdered bath brick and rub the knives with it.

WORTH KNOWING.

Dry cut glass with soft tissue paper if you want it to be brilliant.

A good sween sandwich filling is made of dates stoned and powdered sugar.

A little sugar added to lemon juice is better than vinegar for making up vegetable and fish salads especially for children.

Seeded raisins cut in half and added to the nut salad will make it taste much better.

Dingy overshoes can be made to shine if wiped off with a cloth wrung out of ammonia water.

Icing for cake may be prevented from cracking when cut by adding one tablespoonful of sweet cream to each unbeaten egg. Stir all up together, then add sugar until stiff as can be stirred—Philadelphia Times
